Political Pace Gets Spark Over Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

New York State's election-year political pace quickened over the weekend. Democrats intensified their search for candidates while Republicans called the search a "propaganda circus."

The Democratic Party's discussion of candidates for the U.S. Senate took on a new urgency Saturday with the statement by U.N. Undersecretary Ralph J. Bunche that he "definitely would not consent to become a candidate."

Fresh Prominence

At the same time, Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York City gave fresh prominence to Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. as a possible Democratic gubernatorial nominee to oppose Gov. Rockefeller in November.

Wagner said Roosevelt was "one of those who has to be considered a strong potential candidate."

There were these other developments:

Stump the State

Republican State Chairman L. Judson Morhouse said Sunday Democratic plans for the party's potential gubernatorial candidates to stump the state to win support was a "propaganda circus" intended "to disguise the selection of another boss-dictated Democratic ticket."

2. Gov. Rockefeller who addressed Republican groups in Wyoming and Colorado during a three-day visit to the West, denied his trip was an effort to build support for the GOP presidential nomination in 1964. "I'm only running for state office," he said.

3. Democratic legislative leaders demanded Saturday that Rockefeller call a special session of the State Legislature to take up the politically controversial issue of legislative reapportionment.

4. Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., who is up for re-election, promised Sunday to fight "tooth and nail" to prevent far-right conservatives from gaining a hold on the Republican Party. He also predicted that Rockefeller would "win in a big way" in the Nov. 6 election.

Excitement Building

5. Frank D. O'Connor, Democratic district attorney in Queens County who has been mentioned as a possible Rockefeller opponent said excitement was building in the party "over the prospects of an open convention." But he warned Saturday that it must be open and uncontrolled,' or the election would be lost.

6. State Comtrpller Arthur Levitt, the only Democrat elected to a statewide administrative office in 1958, said Sunday a candidate with "a high character and a degree of personality" could defeat Rockefeller. Levitt seeks re-election.

7. Rep. Samuel S. Stratton, a Schenectady Democrat who is a candidate for the gubernatorial nomination, accused Rockefeller Saturday of issuing false figures about the state's economy "in an effort to cover up the failure of his administration to solve the state's serious unemployment problems."

Bunche Firm

Bunche, a Negro, said his position with regard to running for the Senate was "firm and irreversible. . ."

Wagner reportedly had suggested to President Kennedy that Bunche run against Javits.

The possibility of Roosevelt running for governor had been put to the son of the wartime President last week. He did not reject the idea, but he said he would have to give serious consideration to his present business commitments.

Wagner suggested Saturday that Roosevelt, if he was interested in the nomination, "move around the state" in a campaign for support.

Disagree About Way To Settle

GOP Charges JFK Seeks More Power

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy and his Republican critics agree the American economy isn't moving along fast enough.

But they showed in weekend statements that they disagree sharply on what to do about it.

Kennedy, outlining his approach at a Democratic rally in Milwaukee, called for congressional action on several bills in his legislative program.

These include measures to provide jobs for young people, to finance medical care for the elderly by Social Security taxes, to aid higher educational institutions and to assist the farmers.

Kennedy defined these as test measures of the issue "between those who feel we should stand still and those who feel we should move ahead."

Denounce His 'Zest'

Republican congressional leaders, on the other hand, denounced what they called Kennedy's "incredible zest" for more executive power and bigger government.

Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and House Republican leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana chided Kennedy in a joint statement Sunday for failure to produce the rise in the economy they said he had promised in the 1960 presidential campaign.

Dirksen and Halleck contended that Kennedy's fiscal policies, which they said had led New Frontier economists to predict a $100-billion budget in a year or two, have slowed down rather than accelerated business recovery.

See Expensive Way

The two GOP leaders said that by increasing federal spending Kennedy has made any tax cut "utterly hopeless." They linked the spending rise to what they said were the President's "strenuous efforts" to gain more executive power.

They added, "it is not a coincidence that the cost of government goes up in direct proportion to the demands for more presidential authority—in fact the first is the product of the second.

Just how effective these issues might become in this year's congressional campaign remains to be demonstrated. Republicans felt, however, they might offset the high personal popularity they concede the President is enjoying at this time.

U.S. Forces Stand Ready On Marines in Thailand

Talk About Hitting at Supplies

Yunnan Believed Aiding Laos Reds

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Serious deterioration of the situation in Laos could revive an old argument over whether to strike at supply bases inside Communist China.

Reliable informants said today some U.S. military leaders in the Pacific suggested recently that thought be given to hitting at bases in south China's Yunnan Province, believed to be a source of supply for pro-Communist forces across the border in Laos.

The idea reportedly was advanced as one of a range of measures that conceivably could be taken if the United States should decide to commit itself completely in the struggle to keep the Communists from overrunning Southeast Asia.

Civilians Not Receptive

It was understood U.S. civilian leaders were not very receptive to the suggestion.

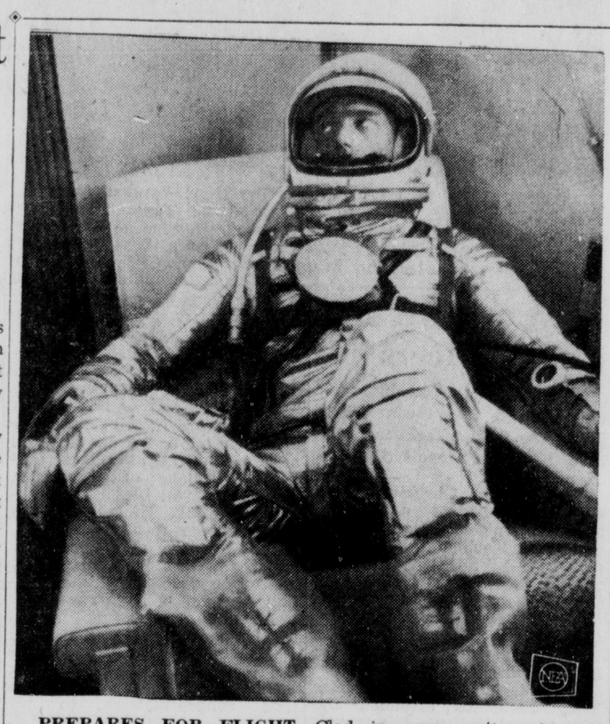

Military officials who spoke of hitting at bases inside Red China reportedly voiced a belief it would not brng on direct Chinese military intervention in Southeast Asia and thus a possible major war with the United States.

The dispute over whether the Communists should be allowed a "privileged sanctuary" in China dates back to the Korean conflict when President Harry S. Truman fired Gen. Douglas MacArthur from command in the Far East.

MacArthur Theory

MacArthur was sacked mainly because he persistently advocated publicly that he be allowed to bomb Red bases in Manchuria. He did so in the face of U.S. policy to keep the war inside Korea, even though masses of Communist Chinese troops had poured into North Korea to fight U.S. and U.N. forces.

It was not clear at what point U.S. military officers now proposing consideration of direct action against Red Chinese bases in Yunnan would want to take such action—in event the pro-Communists were about to engulf all of Laos, if pro-Western Thailand were seriously endangered, or if Chinese soldiers actually entered the Laotian struggle.

Army Men In Area to Aid Laos

Designed to Help Diplomatic Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — American forces throughout the United States and the Pacific area were under alert today as permission was awaited to land U.S. combat Marines in Thailand, which borders Communist-embattled Laos.

Thai officials were expected to agree promptly to the U.S. request for landing of the Marine force in the little kingdom.

Port of Strategy

The move involving the Marines was ordered by President Kennedy as part of his broad strategy to bolster anti-Communist defenses in Southeast Asia. It also was aimed at getting U.S. troops into position for quick intervention in Laos itself should he decide such action is necessary and desirable.

In rapid developments:

The Marine detachment of 2,000 combat-ready men moved into Southeast Asian waters as part of a 7th Fleet aircraft carrier task force. Other elements of the powerful 7th Fleet were steaming toward the crisis area under orders issued Saturday by Kennedy.

Three Forces Alerted

The President put on alert land, sea and air forces in the United States and the Pacific area. The alert was reported far short of the type of warning that would be given to troops in the event of war. Units alerted included those of the new strike command, which can move swiftly in the event of so-called brush-fire wars.

Kennedy's order that the military take "precautionary measures" was designed (1) to put power behind U.S. diplomatic efforts to end peacefully the new outbreak of the Laos fighting and (2) to be prepared for a fight if necessary.

Has Third Conference

Kennedy met with his top military and diplomatic advisers Sunday for 70 minutes, his third conference on the Laotian situation in three days.

Undersecretary of State Geore Ball left the conference to appear on a television interview. He said that a peaceful settlement was possible if the Soviet Union would cooperate.

Ball reported the United States had asked Russia to get Communist-supported Pathet Lao troops pulled back to the cease-fire line from which they have been advancing in northwest Laos for about 10 days. Restoration of the year-old cease-fire would lead to revival of negotiations for a "government of national union" in Laos, and Ball made clear that is the immediate U.S. objective.

Russian View

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily F. Kuznetsov is reported to have told British Ambassador Sir Frank Roberts in Moscow Saturday that the Kremlin still wanted such a government.

Ball noted that under the 1954 Southeast Asia Treaty Organization pact the United States has certain defense obligations in the area. Thailand is a member of the pact, and treaty protections were drawn broadly enough, to cover Laos and some other countries in the area that are not actual signers of the treaty.

Ball declined to give out any information on military moves or even to describe the scope of Kennedy's alert order. He said military activities "will be disclosed at the appropriate time."

Further development of the crisis, as assessed by U.S. officials depended primarily on two factors. One was what Russia would do about restoring the cease-fire. The other was how the fighting in Laos would develop.

Authorities here were by no means certain that Russia would aree to a pull back of Red forces even if it put a stop to the Pathet Lao advance and re-established the cease-fire.

Fail to Get Princes To Laos Peace Talks

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — American diplomats strove today to bring the warring factions in Laos to the conference table but the feuding princes so far could not agree on conditions for resumption of peace talks.

Reliable sources said the U.S. diplomatic effort, backed up by an open show of military might, was making little headway toward getting pro-Communist forces back behind the cease-fire line.

Prince Boun Oum's royal government cabled Prince Souvanna Phouma, the neutralist leader vacationing in Paris, to return home for peace talks.

Souvanna agreed, but only if Boun Oum sent a delegation to the rebel headquarters in the Plaine des Jarres for talks with his aides to draft a preliminary agreement.

No Modifying Demands

U.S. ambassadors in Vientiane and Paris served as intermediaries in delivering the exchanges. Neither the governor nor Prince Souvanna showed any inclination to modify their demands.

There was no word of further advances by the pro-Communists who overran government outposts in the northwest and sent 2,000 royal troops fleeing across the Mekong River to neighboring Thailand.

Diplomats in touch with rebel leaders of the Red-lining Pathet Lao warned that the sooner talks get under way toward setting up a coalition government the better. After driving 100 miles beyond the cease-fire line in a week, the rebels reportedly threatend another all-out offensive unless a political settlement is reached.

Souvanna, backed by the United States and Russia, was designated by King Savang Vathana six months ago to form a national unity government.

Efforts Collapse

The neutralist leader made several attempts but they collapsed when the anti-Communist Vientiane leaders demanded the key

JOHN L. DARCY

New Executive Director Named For Chest Office

The appointment of John L. Darcy, of Aurora, Ill., as executive director of the Ulster County Community Chest has been announced by President John F. Schuehler.

Darcy has been serving as associate executive director of the Aurora, Ill., Area United Fund and Council of Community Services.

A graduate of Boston College where he majored in sociology, Darcy holds a master of science degree from the Boston College School of Social Work.

Darcy has been employed with the Lincoln House, Boston, Boston Catholic Charitable Bureau, Quincy, Mass., United Fund and Community Council and for the past three years with the Aurora, Ill. organization.

He is a member of the National Association of Social Workers, the Illinois Association of Chest and Council Executives and the Illinois Commission on Children.

Darcy has served as an instructor in the Aurora Adult Education Center, and guest lecturer in sociology at Aurora College and North Central College. He has been registrar and a member of the executive committee of the Aurora chapter of the National Association of Social Workers.

Darcy and his wife Wilma M. will reside in the Kingston area.

Says Interests Ignored

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Sen. Kenneth Keating says the interests of friendly Israel are being ignored by the U.S. in its efforts to win over uncommitted nations in the Middle East and elsewhere.

Keating told an Israel independence celebration here Sunday night that he was against the part played by the U.S. in the recent U.N. censure of Israel over a clash with Syria. The New York Republican also attacked increased U.S. aid to Egypt.

Dies of Injuries

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Henry Myers, 47, of suburban Colonie, died early today in Albany Medical Center Hospital of injuries suffered Sunday night in a two-car, head-on collision on Route 85 near suburban Slingerlands.

Hercules Strike Is Continued by Vote

Employes of Hercules Powder Company, Port Ewen, as members of Local 13226, District 50, United Mine Workers of America were still on strike today after Saturday meetings failed to resolve the remaining issue of compulsory arbitration.

A negotiating committee meeting with representatives of management Saturday morning agreed to consider an offer and a membership meeting was called for Saturday night.

Spokesmen for the union held that the offer, as first presented, was not the same in later form, and a membership vote resulted in 145 favoring continuance of the strike, 132 voting to return to work, plus three void ballots.

In 15th Day

The strike, affecting 470 employes, is in its 15th day.

John H. Bach, president of the local, and Robert R. Wright, International representative of District 50, said the Union had agreed earlier in negotiations upon withdrawal of four issues contingent upon agreement of compulsory arbitration, and they hold that the union committee Saturday morning favored a proposal by management as given "in good faith," but it was not the same as presented later.

Wright says the union contends that arbitration as now offered provides: 1. Yield to the Company, 2. If "impartial" arbitration is decided upon it must be with company permission, and 3. The final choice is to strike.

Calls It Ridiculous

"That's a rather ridiculous way to resolve differences of opinion. It is contrary to any stable, reasonable labor-management relationship," Wright said.

Wright noted the company's agreement, as of last week, announced by D. C. Parker, works manager, that the company would agree to compulsory arbitration of discharge cases. The union asks for arbitration pertaining to job security as affected by layoffs, and recall after layoffs.

Certain provisions dealing with layoffs and recall from layoffs met with agreement Wednesday, Wright said, and as presented Saturday morning by management appeared to the union committee to have merit. The union committee, he said, took the offer as one given in good faith, and "as a result confirmed the membership for Saturday night."

Not Same in Substance

At about 2 p. m. Saturday, he said, it was suggested that Edward Eidt, federal mediator, obtain from the company, a copy of the letter. He said he was making a draft, and, said Wright, when it came back, "the proposals the company had written contained nothing in substance of the proposals Mr. Parker had made."

The proposal, he said, contained no provision as to prior consultation or the withholding

Liese Quits Post As Transportation Head of Schools

Zale Liese of Port Ewen, a former member of Port Ewen Board of Education, has submitted his resignation as school transportation supervisor, Kingston City School District, consolidated. The resignation is effective June 30, the end of the present school year.

The resignation was received by the Board Friday, May 11, and no specific reason for the resignation from the $6,500 a year position was stated.

Liese, unsuccessful in his bid for election to Kingston School Board at the May 1 balloting, has held the position of supervisor of transportation for one year, having succeeded Reginald Russell, principal at Chambers School. Russell became supervisor of school transportation when the consolidated district was first formed.

To Act in June

The resignation of Liese, filed with the Board of Education, will be acted upon at the June 7 meeting of the board, it was ascertained at the board office, today.

No applications for appointment will be announced until action on the resignation is taken by the board.

Text of the resignation in full follows:

"It is my understanding that my contract with you calling for my services as transportation supervisor of Kingston City Schools, Consolidated expires at the end of June.

"Please be advised that I have no interest in renewing any agreement such as we have had in the past."

6 Bodies Recovered After Sea Tragedy, 3 Missing

NEWPORT BEACH, Calif. (AP) The bodies of six men, all but one mangled by sharks, were recovered from the wind-whipped ocean near here Sunday. Three others still were missing.

The Coast Guard called it the worst sea tragedy in Southern California since 1952 when eight persons disappeared.

Searchers also recovered a bait tank and other debris from the 25-foot cabin cruiser on which the nine embarked on a fishing expedition early Saturday.

The craft, known as both the Happy Jack and the Cindy, apparently became swamped in choppy seas and sank Saturday, the Coast Guard reported. Winds were gusting up to 30 miles per hour.

Sharks still thrashed about the bodies when they were discovered by the fishing boat Mardic.

"There were so many sharks the men had to lower steel stretchers in the water to fish out the bodies," said Deputy Coroner Eugene Miller.

"The sharks kept after the bodies and several even jumped into the stretchers at the victims as they were being pulled aboard," Miller added.

The boat was on its first sea voyage under its owner, Chester McMain, 45, of Norwalk.

Miller said autopsies indicated all six men apparently drowned. Shark bites could have been an equal cause of death of five of the men, he said.

The Coast Guard posted small craft warnings Saturday, advising of rough seas, winds of 20 miles per hour and gusts to 30 mph, with an excessive surface chop due to steady blowing.

"A boat that size would bounce around like a cork" in such a choppy sea, an official said.

McMain's body was among those recovered.

Others recovered were:

Charles Chudy, 52, of Westminster; Harvey L. Johnston, 30, Los Angeles; Robert Herman Schmidt, 25, formerly of Stillwater, Okla., employed by a Los Angeles car loading firm; William F. Huffman, 29, Los Angeles, and John Treadway, 39, Bell Gardens.

Still missing were:

E. R. Huffman, brother of one of those found dead; Richard Cain, 28, of Bell Gardens and Robert Gibson, 21, of Norwalk, McMain's son-in-law.

Troy Methodist Dist. Has New Leader, 44 Assignments

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP)—A new district superintendent has been appointed and 44 new ministerial assignments have been made for the Troy Conference of the Methodist Church.

The appointment and assignments were announced Sunday by Bishop Lloyd C. Wicke at the closing session of the conference's 130th annual meeting.

The new superintendent, named to head the Albany District, is the Rev. Robert B. Thomas of Cobleskill. He succeeds the Rev. C. Walter Kessler, who was appointed minister of the Methodist Church in Burnt Hills, Saratoga County.

A realignment of districts in the Conference also was announced. It results from the transfer of seven churches in Western Massachusetts from the Troy Conference to the New England Conference.

The realignment places five Troy District Churches in the Albany District, and 10 churches that have been in the Burlington, Vt., district of the conference were transferred to the Troy District.

In earlier action, the conference re-elected Dr. Frederick K. Kirchner of Delmar to the post of conference lay leader.

Named District lay leaders were:

Albany, Chester W. Vanderbilt of Rensselaer; Burlington, Donald L. Grover of St. Albans, Vt.; Glens Falls, LeRoy Beckerle of Glens Falls. The Troy District lay leader was not announced.

The conference voted to hold next year's meeting at Lake Placid. A budget of $646,843 for the year was approved.

New Ministerial assignments, by district, and previous assignments, where available include:

Albany District

Albany, Calvary Church, Rev. Howard L. Stimmell from Saratoga Springs; Amsterdam, First Church, Rev. Albert M. Brockway

Campaigns End 15th

Primaries Scheduled in Three States

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Primary elections will be held in Maryland, Pennsylvania and Nebraska Tuesday, ending campaigns that ranged from dull to blistering.

The hottest scrap has been in Maryland where the race for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination was enlivened by a tape recording alleging a $5,000 campaign contribution in return for some city judgeships.

Overtones of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's administration are present in the Pennsylvania and Nebraska elections.

In Nebraska, Fred Seaton, former Republican senator and secretary of the interior in the Eisenhower cabinet, appears sure to win the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

In Pennsylvania, Eisenhower's home state, Congressman William Scranton is running for the GOP gubernatorial nomination with Eisenshower's approval.

Seven Democrats seek the Maryland gubernatorial nomination but the race has narrowed down to three men—Gov. J. Millard Tawes, paving contractor George Mahoney of Baltimore and David Hume, Texas-born lawyer and son-in-law of financier Cyrus Eaton of Cleveland.

Mahoney has bid for governor or senator in every primary since 1950 and has lost every time, sometimes by razor thin margins.

Fuel was added to an already warm campaign when Baltimore political leader Jack Pollack played for newsmen a tape recording he allegedly made of a 1958 meeting with Tawes, whom he supported. According to the tape, he gave Tawes $5,000 for election expenses in return for a promise that Tawes would name Pollack's choices to Baltimore city judgeships.

Tawes in a televised reply last week conceded that he discussed patronage with Pollack in 1958. But, he said, the politico's demands grew too great and in 1959, after he took office, he broke with Pollack.

Announced Support

Pollack announced his support of Mahoney in the current campaign.

Democrats also will choose a senatorial nominee with U.S. Rep. Daniel B. Brewster and State Sen. Blair Lee III the front-runners.

Two former congressmen apparently have the major Maryland Republican nominations well in hand. Frank Small Jr. seeks the gubernatorial nod and Edward T. Miller is running for the Senate seat held by Sen. John Marshall Butler, who is retiring.

Seaton has ignored his two Nebraska GOP foes to concentrate his fire on Gov. Frank Morrison, only elected Democrat in the normally Republican statehouse.

Faced With Split

Morrison, on the other hand, is faced with a split in Democratic party leadership and a determined bid for the nomination by Mrs. Ralph G. Brooks, widow of the Democratic governor who died in office in 1960.

In Pennsylvania Scranton, 44, is expected to defeat J. Collins McSparran, State Grange master, in the GOP gubernatorial primary.

Scranton emerged as the party leadership's choice when Eisenhower, through Sen. Hugh Scott, let it be known that he would campaign for the GOP ticket only if it was young and vigorous.

Former Philadelphia Mayor Richardson Dilworth is expected to whip two other candidates in the bid for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Congressman James E. Van Zandt, Republican, and Sen. Joseph S. Clark, Democrat, have no primary opposition for nominations to Clark's Senate seat.

Liese 'Budget Message' Is Returned For 'Corrections', Reason Not Used

The local press was criticised in a radio "editorial of the air" today for failure to publish a report of a "budget message" from Zale Liese, transportation supervisor, which had been submitted to the Kingston Board of Education at a special meeting on May 10, and immediately withdrawn for "corrections."

It was reported today a dozen copies of the report had been prepared and submitted to members of the Board of Education of the Kingston City School District, Consolidated, and the transportation committee.

The report by Liese, who later submitted his resignation as transportation superintendent, was dated May 9, 1962, and was made available to board members on May 10 at the special meeting when the annual budget was discussed. The tentative transportation figures as submitted in the report by Liese totaled $300,445.

However, the board, after reading the report by Liese felt it was not an "objective" one and it was moved that the copies be returned to Liese with a request that the report be corrected and a more "objective" report submitted.

All copies of the original report were to be returned to Liese since they were considered of an "editorial" nature rather than "objective" in scope.

In view of the fact that the copies were withdrawn for returning to Liese for revision and correction, on motion of the Board of Education, the text of the paper was not made public.

Thai officials were expected to agree promptly to the U.S. request for landing of the Marine force in the little kingdom.

Port of Strategy

The move involving the Marines was ordered by President Kennedy as part of his broad strategy to bolster anti-Communist defenses in Southeast Asia. It also was aimed at getting U.S. troops into position for quick intervention in Laos itself should he decide such action is necessary and desirable.

In rapid developments:

The Marine detachment of 2,000 combat-ready men moved into Southeast Asian waters as part of a 7th Fleet aircraft carrier task force. Other elements of the powerful 7th Fleet were steaming toward the crisis area under orders issued Saturday by Kennedy.

Three Forces Alerted

The President put on alert land, sea and air forces in the United States and the Pacific area. The alert was reported far short of the type of warning that would be given to troops in the event of war. Units alerted included those of the new strike command, which can move swiftly in the event of so-called brush-fire wars.

Kennedy's order that the military take "precautionary measures" was designed (1) to put power behind U.S. diplomatic efforts to end peacefully the new outbreak of the Laos fighting and (2) to be prepared for a fight if necessary.

Has Third Conference

Kennedy met with his top military and diplomatic advisers Sunday for 70 minutes, his third conference on the Laotian situation in three days.

Undersecretary of State Geore Ball left the conference to appear on a television interview. He said that a peaceful settlement was possible if the Soviet Union would cooperate.

Ball reported the United States had asked Russia to get Communist-supported Pathet Lao troops pulled back to the cease-fire line from which they have been advancing in northwest Laos for about 10 days. Restoration of the year-old cease-fire would lead to revival of negotiations for a "government of national union" in Laos, and Ball made clear that is the immediate U.S. objective.

Russian View

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily F. Kuznetsov is reported to have told British Ambassador Sir Frank Roberts in Moscow Saturday that the Kremlin still wanted such a government.

Ball noted that under the 1954 Southeast Asia Treaty Organization pact the United States has certain defense obligations in the area. Thailand is a member of the pact, and treaty protections were drawn broadly enough, to cover Laos and some other countries in the area that are not actual signers of the treaty.

Ball declined to give out any information on military moves or even to describe the scope of Kennedy's alert order. He said military activities "will be disclosed at the appropriate time."

Further development of the crisis, as assessed by U.S. officials depended primarily on two factors. One was what Russia would do about restoring the cease-fire. The other was how the fighting in Laos would develop.

Authorities here were by no means certain that Russia would agree to a pull back of Red forces even if it put a stop to the Pathet Lao advance and re-established the cease-fire.

Fail to Get Princes To Laos Peace Talks

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — American diplomats strove today to bring the warring factions in Laos to the conference table but the feuding princes so far could not agree on conditions for resumption of peace talks.

Reliable sources said the U.S. diplomatic effort, backed up by an open show of military might, was making little headway toward getting pro-Communist forces back behind the cease-fire line.

Prince Boun Oum's royal government cabled Prince Souvanna Phouma, the neutralist leader vacationing in Paris, to return home for peace talks.

Souvanna agreed, but only if Boun Oum sent a delegation to the rebel headquarters in the Plaine des Jarres for talks with his aides to draft a preliminary agreement.

No Modifying Demands

U.S. ambassadors in Vientiane and Paris served as intermediaries in delivering the exchanges. Neither the governor nor Prince Souvanna showed any inclination to modify their demands.

There was no word of further advances by the pro-Communists who overran government outposts in the northwest and sent 2,000 royal troops fleeing across the Mekong River to neighboring Thailand.

Diplomats in touch with rebel leaders of the Red-lining Pathet Lao warned that the sooner talks get under way toward setting up a coalition government the better. After driving 100 miles beyond the cease-fire line in a week, the rebels reportedly threatend another all-out offensive unless a political settlement is reached.

Souvanna, backed by the United States and Russia, was designated by King Savang Vathana six months ago to form a national unity government.

Efforts Collapse

The neutralist leader made several attempts but they collapsed when the anti-Communist Vientiane leaders demanded the key

Group to Petition Saugerties Board On New Bond Vote

A petition to resubmit to public referendum the recently defeated $1,220,000 Saugerties Central School bond issue for expansion of school facilities, will be presented to Saugerties Board of Education at its meeting 8 o'clock tonight.

The proposition which would provide an addition to Saugerties junior high school at a cost of $535,000; acquire land for an elementary school in Katsbaan at $10,000 and construction of the 14-room school at a cost of $655,000 was defeated May 9 by 45 votes. There were 1,175 yes and 1,220 no votes.

The second proposition on the ballot to purchase 10 acres of

JOHN L. DARCY

New Executive Director Named For Chest Office

The appointment of John L. Darcy, of Aurora, Ill., as executive director of the Ulster County Community Chest has been announced by President John F. Schuehler.

Darcy has been serving as associate executive director of the Aurora, Ill., Area United Fund and Council of Community Services.

A graduate of Boston College where he majored in sociology, Darcy holds a master of science degree from the Boston College School of Social Work.

Darcy has been employed with the Lincoln House, Boston, Boston Catholic Charitable Bureau, Quincy, Mass., United Fund and Community Council and for the past three years with the Aurora, Ill. organization.

He is a member of the National Association of Social Workers, the Illinois Association of Chest and Council Executives and the Illinois Commission on Children.

Darcy has served as an instructor in the Aurora Adult Education Center, and guest lecturer in sociology at Aurora College and North Central College. He has been registrar and a member of the executive committee of the Aurora chapter of the National Association of Social Workers.

Darcy and his wife Wilma M. will reside in the Kingston area.

Hercules Strike Is Continued by Vote

Employes of Hercules Powder Company, Port Ewen, as members of Local 13226, District 50, United Mine Workers of America were still on strike today after Saturday meetings failed to resolve the remaining issue of compulsory arbitration.

A negotiating committee meeting with representatives of management Saturday morning agreed to consider an offer and a membership meeting was called for Saturday night.

Spokesmen for the union held that the offer, as first presented, was not the same in later form, and a membership vote resulted in 145 favoring continuance of the strike, 132 voting to return to work, plus three void ballots.

In 15th Day

The strike, affecting 470 employes, is in its 15th day.

John H. Bach, president of the local, and Robert R. Wright, International representative of District 50, said the Union had agreed earlier in negotiations upon withdrawal of four issues contingent upon agreement of compulsory arbitration, and they hold that the union committee Saturday morning favored a proposal by management as given "in good faith," but it was not the same as presented later.

Wright says the union contends that arbitration as now offered provides: 1. Yield to the Company, 2. If "impartial" arbitration is decided upon it must be with company permission, and 3. The final choice is to strike.

Calls It Ridiculous

"That's a rather ridiculous way to resolve differences of opinion. It is contrary to any stable, reasonable labor-management relationship," Wright said.

Wright noted the company's agreement, as of last week, announced by D. C. Parker, works manager, that the company would agree to compulsory arbitration of discharge cases. The union asks for arbitration pertaining to job security as affected by layoffs, and recall after layoffs.

Certain provisions dealing with layoffs and recall from layoffs met with agreement Wednesday, Wright said, and as presented Saturday morning by management appeared to the union committee to have merit. The union committee, he said, took the offer as one given in good faith, and "as a result confirmed the membership for Saturday night."

Not Same in Substance

At about 2 p. m. Saturday, he said, it was suggested that Edward Eidt, federal mediator, obtain from the company, a copy of the letter. He said he was making a draft, and, said Wright, when it came back, "the proposals the company had written contained nothing in substance of the proposals Mr. Parker had made."

The proposal, he said, contained no provision as to prior consultation or the withholding

Liese Quits Post As Transportation Head of Schools

Zale Liese of Port Ewen, a former member of Port Ewen Board of Education, has submitted his resignation as school transportation supervisor, Kingston City School District, consolidated. The resignation is effective June 30, the end of the present school year.

The resignation was received by the Board Friday, May 11, and no specific reason for the resignation from the $6,500 a year position was stated.

Liese, unsuccessful in his bid for election to Kingston School Board at the May 1 balloting, has held the position of supervisor of transportation for one year, having succeeded Reginald Russell, principal at Chambers School. Russell became supervisor of school transportation when the consolidated district was first formed.

To Act in June

The resignation of Liese, filed with the Board of Education, will be acted upon at the June 7 meeting of the board, it was ascertained at the board office, today.

No applications for appointment will be announced until action on the resignation is taken by the board.

Text of the resignation in full follows:

"It is my understanding that my contract with you calling for my services as transportation supervisor of Kingston City Schools, Consolidated expires at the end of June.

"Please be advised that I have no interest in renewing any agreement such as we have had in the past."

6 Bodies Recovered After Sea Tragedy, 3 Missing

NEWPORT BEACH, Calif. (AP) The bodies of six men, all but one mangled by sharks, were recovered from the wind-whipped ocean near here Sunday. Three others still were missing.

The Coast Guard called it the worst sea tragedy in Southern California since 1952 when eight persons disappeared.

Searchers also recovered a bait tank and other debris from the 25-foot cabin cruiser on which the nine embarked on a fishing expedition early Saturday.

The craft, known as both the Happy Jack and the Cindy, apparently became swamped in choppy seas and sank Saturday, the Coast Guard reported. Winds were gusting up to 30 miles per hour.

Sharks still thrashed about the bodies when they were discovered by the fishing boat Mardic.

"There were so many sharks the men had to lower steel stretchers in the water to fish out the bodies," said Deputy Coroner Eugene Miller.

"The sharks kept after the bodies and several even jumped into the stretchers at the victims as they were being pulled aboard," Miller added.

The boat was on its first sea voyage under its owner, Chester McMain, 45, of Norwalk.

Miller said autopsies indicated all six men apparently drowned. Shark bites could have been an equal cause of death of five of the men, he said.

The Coast Guard posted small craft warnings Saturday, advising of rough seas, winds of 20 miles per hour and gusts to 30 mph, with an excessive surface chop due to steady blowing.

"A boat that size would bounce around like a cork" in such a choppy sea, an official said.

McMain's body was among those recovered.

Others recovered were:

Charles Chudy, 52, of Westminster; Harvey L. Johnston, 30, Los Angeles; Robert Herman Schmidt, 25, formerly of Stillwater, Okla., employed by a Los Angeles car loading firm; William F. Huffman, 29, Los Angeles, and John Treadway, 39, Bell Gardens.

Still missing were:

E. R. Huffman, brother of one of those found dead; Richard Cain, 28, of Bell Gardens and Robert Gibson, 21, of Norwalk, McMain's son-in-law.

Troy Methodist Dist. Has New Leader, 44 Assignments

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP)—A new district superintendent has been appointed and 44 new ministerial assignments have been made for the Troy Conference of the Methodist Church.

The appointment and assignments were announced Sunday by Bishop Lloyd C. Wicke at the closing session of the conference's 130th annual meeting.

The new superintendent, named to head the Albany District, is the Rev. Robert B. Thomas of Cobleskill. He succeeds the Rev. C. Walter Kessler, who was appointed minister of the Methodist Church in Burnt Hills, Saratoga County.

A realignment of districts in the Conference also was announced. It results from the transfer of seven churches in Western Massachusetts from the Troy Conference to the New England Conference.

The realignment places five Troy District Churches in the Albany District, and 10 churches that have been in the Burlington, Vt., district of the conference were transferred to the Troy District.

In earlier action, the conference re-elected Dr. Frederick K. Kirchner of Delmar to the post of conference lay leader.

Named District lay leaders were:

Albany, Chester W. Vanderbilt of Rensselaer; Burlington, Donald L. Grover of St. Albans, Vt.; Glens Falls, LeRoy Beckerle of Glens Falls. The Troy District lay leader was not announced.

The conference voted to hold next year's meeting at Lake Placid. A budget of $646,843 for the year was approved.

New Ministerial assignments, by district, and previous assignments, where available include:

Albany District

Albany, Calvary Church, Rev. Howard L. Stimmell from Saratoga Springs; Amsterdam, First Church, Rev. Albert M. Brockway

Campaigns End 15th

Primaries Scheduled in Three States

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Primary elections will be held in Maryland, Pennsylvania and Nebraska Tuesday, ending campaigns that ranged from dull to blistering.

The hottest scrap has been in Maryland where the race for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination was enlivened by a tape recording alleging a $5,000 campaign contribution in return for some city judgeships.

Overtones of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's administration are present in the Pennsylvania and Nebraska elections.

In Nebraska, Fred Seaton, former Republican senator and secretary of the interior in the Eisenhower cabinet, appears sure to win the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

In Pennsylvania, Eisenhower's home state, Congressman William Scranton is running for the GOP gubernatorial nomination with Eisenshower's approval.

Seven Democrats seek the Maryland gubernatorial nomination but the race has narrowed down to three men—Gov. J. Millard Tawes, paving contractor George Mahoney of Baltimore and David Hume, Texas-born lawyer and son-in-law of financier Cyrus Eaton of Cleveland.

Mahoney has bid for governor or senator in every primary since 1950 and has lost every time, sometimes by razor thin margins.

Fuel was added to an already warm campaign when Baltimore political leader Jack Pollack played for newsmen a tape recording he allegedly made of a 1958 meeting with Tawes, whom he supported. According to the tape, he gave Tawes $5,000 for election expenses in return for a promise that Tawes would name Pollack's choices to Baltimore city judgeships.

Tawes in a televised reply last week conceded that he discussed patronage with Pollack in 1958. But, he said, the politico's demands grew too great and in 1959, after he took office, he broke with Pollack.

Announced Support

Pollack announced his support of Mahoney in the current campaign.

Democrats also will choose a senatorial nominee with U.S. Rep. Daniel B. Brewster and State Sen. Blair Lee III the front-runners.

Two former congressmen apparently have the major Maryland Republican nominations well in hand. Frank Small Jr. seeks the gubernatorial nod and Edward T. Miller is running for the Senate seat held by Sen. John Marshall Butler, who is retiring.

Seaton has ignored his two Nebraska GOP foes to concentrate his fire on Gov. Frank Morrison, only elected Democrat in the normally Republican statehouse.

Faced With Split

Morrison, on the other hand, is faced with a split in Democratic party leadership and a determined bid for the nomination by Mrs. Ralph G. Brooks, widow of the Democratic governor who died in office in 1960.

In Pennsylvania Scranton, 44, is expected to defeat J. Collins McSparran, State Grange master, in the GOP gubernatorial primary.

Scranton emerged as the party leadership's choice when Eisenhower, through Sen. Hugh Scott, let it be known that he would campaign for the GOP ticket only if it was young and vigorous.

Former Philadelphia Mayor Richardson Dilworth is expected to whip two other candidates in the bid for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Congressman James E. Van Zandt, Republican, and Sen. Joseph S. Clark, Democrat, have no primary opposition for nominations to Clark's Senate seat.

Liese 'Budget Message' Is Returned For 'Corrections', Reason Not Used

The local press was criticised in a radio "editorial of the air" today for failure to publish a report of a "budget message" from Zale Liese, transportation supervisor, which had been submitted to the Kingston Board of Education at a special meeting on May 10, and immediately withdrawn for "corrections."

It was reported today a dozen copies of the report had been prepared and submitted to members of the Board of Education of the Kingston City School District, Consolidated, and the transportation committee.

The report by Liese, who later submitted his resignation as transportation superintendent, was dated May 9, 1962, and was made available to board members on May 10 at the special meeting when the annual budget was discussed. The tentative transportation figures as submitted in the report by Liese totaled $300,445.

However, the board, after reading the report by Liese felt it was not an "objective" one and it was moved that the copies be returned to Liese with a request that the report be corrected and a more "objective" report submitted.

All copies of the original report were to be returned to Liese since they were considered of an "editorial" nature rather than "objective" in scope.

In view of the fact that the copies were withdrawn for returning to Liese for revision and correction, on motion of the Board of Education, the text of the paper was not made public.

Sukarno Escapes Another Attempt By Gunman

SINGAPORE (AP)—Indonesian President Sukarno reportedly escaped another attempt on his life today when an assassin tried to gun him down at an outdoor prayer meeting in Jakarta.

Jakarta Radio said Sukarno escaped unharmed, but that five other persons, including two government officials, were injured slightly. The broadcast said police had seized the gunman who reportedly was acting on orders of the Darul Islam group of Moslem fanatics.

Because today is an Indonesian national holiday, communications were irregular between Jakarta and the outside world. It was believed news reports of the shooting were being held up by censorship.

J. Muzhar, information officer of the Indonesian consulate in Singapore, said he had reports of the assassination attempt, but that he had not received any official word from Jakarta.

It was the fifth assassination attempt against Sukarno, 61, during his long, turbulent career. The last try was made Jan. 7 while Sukarno was touring the South Celebes to drum up support for invasion of Dutch-held West New Guinea.

Has Two Photographic Essays Published

Two major essays by A. E. Woolley, New Paltz, "Prison" and "The Drama That Makes an Actress," have been published this month in two magazines.

"Prison" is being given a six page layout in the British Photography magazine, London, and "The Drama That Makes an Actress" is an eight page feature on Elizabeth Ashley being published in Pageant magazine.

The "Prison" story was photographed in Louisiana and is intended to give the reader the impression of experiencing being behind bars. The text and the layout were also handled by the photographer who believes in the theory of total journalism, placing the responsibility for all phases of the development of a story on the photojournalist.

The "Actress" story is a study of emotions. The opening two pages of the layout have been enlarged to huge dimensions for display in the Biltmore Theatre Lobby. The story about Miss Ashley, recent winner of the Tony Award for being the best supporting actress on Broadway, was begun when she was a total unknown.

Creates Disturbance

Tibor Gossler, 29, of 58 Van Buren Street, Kingston, was arrested at 12:45 a. m. Saturday on a charge of public intoxication. Deputy Sheriffs Emil T. Kuhnen and Jack Seaholm were dispatched to Maverick Road and Route 357 after it had been reported by Max Lensky of Woodstock that Gossler had created a disturbance at White Horse Inn. Gossler was found outside the inn and taken before Justice of the Peace Alton Boyce of Town of Hurley. A $25 fine was imposed and suspended.

Fined for Speeding

Robert Lawrence Chapman, 29, of 387 Church Street, Poughkeepsie, who was ticketed April 28, on Route 9W in Port Ewen for speeding, was fined $10 Saturday by Justice of the Peace Allan Dargie, Town of Esopus. Chapman was apprehended by Deputy Sheriffs John Tuey and Peter Peterson and on May 6 entered a plea of not guilty and asked for a hearing. The hearing was held Saturday and after the deputies and defendant had testified, Justice Dargie found defendant guilty as charged and imposed the fine.

P-TA Council Elects Officers

Officers for the coming year were elected at a recent meeting of the Parent-Teacher Council of Kingston Schools (Consolidated).

Mrs. Helen Oberkirch was named president with Mrs. Randy Firmbach, Dean DeSart and Mark Kachigian, vice presidents. June Van Der Zee is recording secretary; Donald W. Sweeney, corresponding secretary and Mrs. Alba Hawkins, treasurer.

By-laws were revised at the meeting also.

Mrs. Marion Maines and Miss Mary Polhemus attended the 36th annual institute for parent-teacher leaders at Cornell University May 8 through 10. Guest speaker was Dr. Galen Saylor who outlined the role of the P-TA in meeting the needs of American education. He is chairman of the department of secondary education of the University of Nebraska.

The next regular meeting of the council will be held Monday, May 28, and the program will be Project Able.

Committee Named On School Safety

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A school fire-safety committee has been named to assist the State Office for Local Government in developing a long-range program to eliminate fire hazards in public and private schools.

The committee, announced Sunday will be headed by Dr. James P. Nihan, director of safety for the State University.

Members included:

Francis J. Quinlan, assistant supervisor of the safety and fire division of Cornell University.

126 at Wallkill Prison to Earn Study Diplomas

Dr. Richard F. Klix, professor of education and dean of graduate studies at the State University College of Education, New Paltz, will be guest speaker at Wallkill, Thursday at the graduation exercises.

One hundred and twenty-six inmates of this medium security institution devoted to rehabilitation will receive diplomas for educational and vocational achievement during the year.

Diplomas will be presented by Dr. Walter M. Wallack, warden, to the graduates and he will extend congratulations to the teachers on behalf of the Department of Correction in observance of Teacher recognition day.

Other Wallkill officials participating in the program will be Neil O'Connor and Charles J. Scanlan, vocational and academic supervisors, respectively; Deputy Warden Lloyd E. Whipple; the Rev. George H. Hann, who will deliver the invocation, and Rabbi Herbert I. Bloom, who will offer the benediction. Samuel Moreno, director of education, will open the ceremonies.

Wins Prize in Annual Photography Contest

Greene-Ulster Masonic District had a winner in the annual state photography contest, including the 64 State Masonic Districts in which thousands of entries were culled by each district fellowship committee chairman and the winners sent to New York. Under the direction of Walter Thompsen, Ozone Park, L. I., state fellowship committee chairman, these 64 district entries were carefully sifted by experts and prizes were awarded this week.

Second prize in color slides went to "Spectacular" by Kenneth W. Haggins, R.F.D. 2, Saugerties, junior warden of Ulster Lodge 193, F. & A.M., in Saugerties.

The pictures will be shown in the Empire State Mason, which goes out to the 300,000 Masons in the State.

Ulster Vols Meet Tuesday

The Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association will meet Tuesday evening in Woodstock, guests of Woodstock Engine Company No. 1. Additional plans for the annual meeting and parade will be discussed.

Social Agencies Council Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the Ulster County Council of Social Agencies was held Tuesday, May 9, with Mrs. Vincent G. Connelly, president, presiding.

Guest speaker was C. Kenneth Taber, who spoke on the need for assisting migrant workers who come to the Hudson Valley during the vegetable and fruit growing season. Problems of housing, recreation and education are being handled by Migrant Service Centers at New Paltz, Warwick, Hudson and Modena, but there is need for further aid by local communities to supplement the assistance.

Colored slides showed the recreation and child care center programs initiated at Marlborough and educational and religious programs at New Paltz and Modena centers. The results of these fine programs—carried on by local residents and supported by the state show valid cause for continuance.

Taber asked all Council members to continue their aid.

Ambulances Must Obey Traffic Law

Ambulances should obey speed limits and halt at red lights to prevent unnecessary risks on streets and highways, an official of the New York State Citizens Council on Traffic Safety said today.

There is rarely any need for an ambulance to speed or to pass stop signs, according to Dr. Walter A. Cutter, first vice president of the Council and director of New York University's Center for Safety Education. However, most communities in the state allow these vehicles to disregard the usual traffic regulations, he said.

Dr. Cutter quoted an American College of Surgeons report as saying:

"Speed is, for practical purposes, seldom if ever a factor in the preservation of a life; and speeding ambulances have occasioned more traffic deaths than lives saved by rushing pell-mell to medical facilities."

The report was based on studies carried out for the Joint Action Program of the American College of Surgeons, the American Association for the Surgery of Trauma, and the National Safety Council. It concluded, "Ambulances should adhere to all rules and regulations concerning traffic control. Under no circumstances should violation of traffic regulations be permitted."

Audition Slated For Young String Players Tonight

Four contestants are listed for tonight's audition entitling one of them to attend the Fourth Congress of Strings at Michigan State University sponsored by the American Federation of Musicians.

Winner of the audition will receive a scholarship to the Congress starting June 17 and ending August 11. Only 100 scholarships are awarded throughout the nation and its territories, and Canada.

Scheduled for 7 p. m. at hall of Local 215, the audition will be judged by Frank Mele, celebrated violinist of Woodstock.

Listed for competition are William F. Oskay, 168 Doris Street, Port Ewen, violin; Dorothy D. Darrow, Box 97, Route 3, Kingston, string bass; Linda Hornbeck, 56 Florence Street, violin and Michael Quick, 42 Russell Street, Saugerties, viola.

Michael Marchuk, chairman of the scholarship committee, said that other applications might be received in the late mail today.

Receives Leg Injury

Richard Dieter, 44, of 421 East 21st Street, Brooklyn, who has a summer home at Sawkill, was treated at Kingston Hospital Saturday for a leg injury which he received while operating a tractor on his summer premises. Shortly before noon Dieter stopped the tractor to adjust a trailer coupling, the tractor rolled ahead and the coupling struck him in the right leg causing a severe laceration. He was taken to Kingston Hospital by a neighbor and treated at the emergency room. The accident was reported to the sheriff's office and an investigation was conducted.

Suspect Retaliation

ALGIERS (AP) — Two Jewish children were found dead in their homes today with their throats cut and police—suspecting the killings were retaliation for the Secret Army Organization slaughter of Moslems—hunted a Moslem maid.

Three Europeans — two priests and a businessman — were reported to have vanished in Algiers and authorities said they apparently were spirited away by Moslems.

No Tips, No Food

NEW YORK (AP)—Diners at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel were without service for a couple of hours Sunday night while the management and 450 waiters argued in the kitchen about tips.

The principal inconvenience was experienced by 1,200 grand ballroom guests at a fund-raising dinner. A master of ceremonies passed some of the time by telling jokes.

Merchant Finds Man Shot Today Over Strand Store

James Smith, 63, of 211 Catherine Street, was found dead of a gunshot wound at 3 East Strand this morning.

Coroner Francis J. McCardle said he shot himself in the chest with a 12-gauge shotgun. Time of death, he said, was uncertain. The man was found dead by Elmore C. Yallum, of Yallum's store, Broadway and East Strand. The workshop which Smith had used was on a floor above the store. He had worked as a handyman in the area.

The coroner said Smith had been reported missing from the Catherine Street adress during the night.

Police were notified at 9:25 a. m. and Sgt. Thomas Tomshaw and Detectives Charles McCullough investigated.

Smith, who was originally from New York, the coroner said, had been in the Kingston area 20 to 25 years. He had been under treatment for mental illness recently, he said. Authorities are attempting to locate a relative in Hudson.

Decline to Tell

Sukarno Escapes Another Attempt By Gunman

SINGAPORE (AP)—Indonesian President Sukarno reportedly escaped another attempt on his life today when an assassin tried to gun him down at an outdoor prayer meeting in Jakarta.

Jakarta Radio said Sukarno escaped unharmed, but that five other persons, including two government officials, were injured slightly. The broadcast said police had seized the gunman who reportedly was acting on orders of the Darul Islam group of Moslem fanatics.

Because today is an Indonesian national holiday, communications were irregular between Jakarta and the outside world. It was believed news reports of the shooting were being held up by censorship.

J. Muzhar, information officer of the Indonesian consulate in Singapore, said he had reports of the assassination attempt, but that he had not received any official word from Jakarta.

It was the fifth assassination attempt against Sukarno, 61, during his long, turbulent career. The last try was made Jan. 7 while Sukarno was touring the South Celebes to drum up support for invasion of Dutch-held West New Guinea.

Has Two Photographic Essays Published

Two major essays by A. E. Woolley, New Paltz, "Prison" and "The Drama That Makes an Actress," have been published this month in two magazines.

"Prison" is being given a six page layout in the British Photography magazine, London, and "The Drama That Makes an Actress" is an eight page feature on Elizabeth Ashley being published in Pageant magazine.

The "Prison" story was photographed in Louisiana and is intended to give the reader the impression of experiencing being behind bars. The text and the layout were also handled by the photographer who believes in the theory of total journalism, placing the responsibility for all phases of the development of a story on the photojournalist.

The "Actress" story is a study of emotions. The opening two pages of the layout have been enlarged to huge dimensions for display in the Biltmore Theatre Lobby. The story about Miss Ashley, recent winner of the Tony Award for being the best supporting actress on Broadway, was begun when she was a total unknown.

Creates Disturbance

Tibor Gossler, 29, of 58 Van Buren Street, Kingston, was arrested at 12:45 a. m. Saturday on a charge of public intoxication. Deputy Sheriffs Emil T. Kuhnen and Jack Seaholm were dispatched to Maverick Road and Route 357 after it had been reported by Max Lensky of Woodstock that Gossler had created a disturbance at White Horse Inn. Gossler was found outside the inn and taken before Justice of the Peace Alton Boyce of Town of Hurley. A $25 fine was imposed and suspended.

Fined for Speeding

Robert Lawrence Chapman, 29, of 387 Church Street, Poughkeepsie, who was ticketed April 28, on Route 9W in Port Ewen for speeding, was fined $10 Saturday by Justice of the Peace Allan Dargie, Town of Esopus. Chapman was apprehended by Deputy Sheriffs John Tuey and Peter Peterson and on May 6 entered a plea of not guilty and asked for a hearing. The hearing was held Saturday and after the deputies and defendant had testified, Justice Dargie found defendant guilty as charged and imposed the fine.

P-TA Council Elects Officers

Officers for the coming year were elected at a recent meeting of the Parent-Teacher Council of Kingston Schools (Consolidated).

Mrs. Helen Oberkirch was named president with Mrs. Randy Firmbach, Dean DeSart and Mark Kachigian, vice presidents. June Van Der Zee is recording secretary; Donald W. Sweeney, corresponding secretary and Mrs. Alba Hawkins, treasurer.

By-laws were revised at the meeting also.

Mrs. Marion Maines and Miss Mary Polhemus attended the 36th annual institute for parent-teacher leaders at Cornell University May 8 through 10. Guest speaker was Dr. Galen Saylor who outlined the role of the P-TA in meeting the needs of American education. He is chairman of the department of secondary education of the University of Nebraska.

The next regular meeting of the council will be held Monday, May 28, and the program will be Project Able.

Committee Named On School Safety

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A school fire-safety committee has been named to assist the State Office for Local Government in developing a long-range program to eliminate fire hazards in public and private schools.

The committee, announced Sunday will be headed by Dr. James P. Nihan, director of safety for the State University.

Members included:

Francis J. Quinlan, assistant supervisor of the safety and fire division of Cornell University.

126 at Wallkill Prison to Earn Study Diplomas

Dr. Richard F. Klix, professor of education and dean of graduate studies at the State University College of Education, New Paltz, will be guest speaker at Wallkill, Thursday at the graduation exercises.

One hundred and twenty-six inmates of this medium security institution devoted to rehabilitation will receive diplomas for educational and vocational achievement during the year.

Diplomas will be presented by Dr. Walter M. Wallack, warden, to the graduates and he will extend congratulations to the teachers on behalf of the Department of Correction in observance of Teacher recognition day.

Other Wallkill officials participating in the program will be Neil O'Connor and Charles J. Scanlan, vocational and academic supervisors, respectively; Deputy Warden Lloyd E. Whipple; the Rev. George H. Hann, who will deliver the invocation, and Rabbi Herbert I. Bloom, who will offer the benediction. Samuel Moreno, director of education, will open the ceremonies.

Wins Prize in Annual Photography Contest

Greene-Ulster Masonic District had a winner in the annual state photography contest, including the 64 State Masonic Districts in which thousands of entries were culled by each district fellowship committee chairman and the winners sent to New York. Under the direction of Walter Thompsen, Ozone Park, L. I., state fellowship committee chairman, these 64 district entries were carefully sifted by experts and prizes were awarded this week.

Second prize in color slides went to "Spectacular" by Kenneth W. Haggins, R.F.D. 2, Saugerties, junior warden of Ulster Lodge 193, F. & A.M., in Saugerties.

The pictures will be shown in the Empire State Mason, which goes out to the 300,000 Masons in the State.

Ulster Vols Meet Tuesday

The Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association will meet Tuesday evening in Woodstock, guests of Woodstock Engine Company No. 1. Additional plans for the annual meeting and parade will be discussed.

Social Agencies Council Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the Ulster County Council of Social Agencies was held Tuesday, May 9, with Mrs. Vincent G. Connelly, president, presiding.

Guest speaker was C. Kenneth Taber, who spoke on the need for assisting migrant workers who come to the Hudson Valley during the vegetable and fruit growing season. Problems of housing, recreation and education are being handled by Migrant Service Centers at New Paltz, Warwick, Hudson and Modena, but there is need for further aid by local communities to supplement the assistance.

Colored slides showed the recreation and child care center programs initiated at Marlborough and educational and religious programs at New Paltz and Modena centers. The results of these fine programs—carried on by local residents and supported by the state show valid cause for continuance.

Taber asked all Council members to continue their aid.

Ambulances Must Obey Traffic Law

Ambulances should obey speed limits and halt at red lights to prevent unnecessary risks on streets and highways, an official of the New York State Citizens Council on Traffic Safety said today.

There is rarely any need for an ambulance to speed or to pass stop signs, according to Dr. Walter A. Cutter, first vice president of the Council and director of New York University's Center for Safety Education. However, most communities in the state allow these vehicles to disregard the usual traffic regulations, he said.

Dr. Cutter quoted an American College of Surgeons report as saying:

"Speed is, for practical purposes, seldom if ever a factor in the preservation of a life; and speeding ambulances have occasioned more traffic deaths than lives saved by rushing pell-mell to medical facilities."

The report was based on studies carried out for the Joint Action Program of the American College of Surgeons, the American Association for the Surgery of Trauma, and the National Safety Council. It concluded, "Ambulances should adhere to all rules and regulations concerning traffic control. Under no circumstances should violation of traffic regulations be permitted."

Audition Slated For Young String Players Tonight

Four contestants are listed for tonight's audition entitling one of them to attend the Fourth Congress of Strings at Michigan State University sponsored by the American Federation of Musicians.

Winner of the audition will receive a scholarship to the Congress starting June 17 and ending August 11. Only 100 scholarships are awarded throughout the nation and its territories, and Canada.

Scheduled for 7 p. m. at hall of Local 215, the audition will be judged by Frank Mele, celebrated violinist of Woodstock.

Listed for competition are William F. Oskay, 168 Doris Street, Port Ewen, violin; Dorothy D. Darrow, Box 97, Route 3, Kingston, string bass; Linda Hornbeck, 56 Florence Street, violin and Michael Quick, 42 Russell Street, Saugerties, viola.

Michael Marchuk, chairman of the scholarship committee, said that other applications might be received in the late mail today.

Receives Leg Injury

Richard Dieter, 44, of 421 East 21st Street, Brooklyn, who has a summer home at Sawkill, was treated at Kingston Hospital Saturday for a leg injury which he received while operating a tractor on his summer premises. Shortly before noon Dieter stopped the tractor to adjust a trailer coupling, the tractor rolled ahead and the coupling struck him in the right leg causing a severe laceration. He was taken to Kingston Hospital by a neighbor and treated at the emergency room. The accident was reported to the sheriff's office and an investigation was conducted.

Suspect Retaliation

ALGIERS (AP) — Two Jewish children were found dead in their homes today with their throats cut and police—suspecting the killings were retaliation for the Secret Army Organization slaughter of Moslems—hunted a Moslem maid.

Three Europeans — two priests and a businessman — were reported to have vanished in Algiers and authorities said they apparently were spirited away by Moslems.

No Tips, No Food

NEW YORK (AP)—Diners at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel were without service for a couple of hours Sunday night while the management and 450 waiters argued in the kitchen about tips.

The principal inconvenience was experienced by 1,200 grand ballroom guests at a fund-raising dinner. A master of ceremonies passed some of the time by telling jokes.

Merchant Finds Man Shot Today Over Strand Store

James Smith, 63, of 211 Catherine Street, was found dead of a gunshot wound at 3 East Strand this morning.

Coroner Francis J. McCardle said he shot himself in the chest with a 12-gauge shotgun. Time of death, he said, was uncertain. The man was found dead by Elmore C. Yallum, of Yallum's store, Broadway and East Strand. The workshop which Smith had used was on a floor above the store. He had worked as a handyman in the area.

The coroner said Smith had been reported missing from the Catherine Street adress during the night.

Police were notified at 9:25 a. m. and Sgt. Thomas Tomshaw and Detectives Charles McCullough investigated.

Smith, who was originally from New York, the coroner said, had been in the Kingston area 20 to 25 years. He had been under treatment for mental illness recently, he said. Authorities are attempting to locate a relative in Hudson.

Decline to Tell

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Senate investigators talked to financier Billie Sol Estes on Sunday but declined to say what the promoter of multimillion-dollar farm enterprises told them.

Muncie Club Is 5000 for Kiwanis

Kiwanis Club number 5000 received its charter April 30 in Muncie, Ind., according to word received here by Attorney Howard C. St. John, president of the Kingston Kiwanis Club. The charter was presented to the new Kiwanis Club of South Muncie by Kiwanis International president I. R. Witthuhn of Milwaukee.

Witthuhn characterized the event as "the attainment of another milestone in Kiwanis' 47-year history of growth and progress."

He said that the circumstance of the Kiwanis Club of South Muncie receiving the number 5000 was a mathematical happenstance. He characterized it as "a happy coincidence because Muncie, was once selected as the most typical of American communities for a low-classic sociological study called Middletown."

"That the 5000th Kiwanis Club should be established here proves that the most typical of American institutions, the service club, is today more vital than ever in the life of the typical American community—Muncie, Indiana."

U.S. retail store sales amounted to more than $219 billion during 1961, according to cumulative figures.

Investor Forum

Harry C. France

THE WISDOM OF DIVERSIFICATION

Nothing better illustrates the advisability for investors to diversify than the recent market action of General Motors and United States Steel—two top-ranking world enterprises.

General Motors is going great guns. U. S. Steel is in the center of a potential-economic price crisis. These two companies represent industries that are basic in America's prosperity. Their financial well-being, reflecting general conditions, is essential if the country is to make ends meet.

Four years ago an experienced investor bought some U. S. Steel common at $86 a shar and General Motors common at $36. At that time the steel industry was more prosperous than the motor industry. The steel dividend was being comfortably earned and the motor dividend uncomfortably.

At the time these purchases were made, the investor considered putting all of his available surplus in U. S. Steel common. But he followed the investment rule of buying the best and diversifying.

And now in early 1962 the wisdom of such action is plainly evident. General Motors has just completed a most properous quarter, while the U. S. Steel dividend is barely being earned.

This investor has a $20-a-share profit in General Motors and a $26-a-share loss in U. S. Steel. This is in line with the rule that any investor who ignores the basic principles of investment long enough will eventually pay for this violation. For had this particular individual followed his original intention to concentrate on U. S. Steel common, his present position would be far from the easily endurable, long-pull one that it actually is.

As this is being written, a political indictment out of Washington against the major steel companies has been announced. The emotional public holding the steel shares is dumping the stocks. U. S. Steel is now $58 a share; Bethlehem Steel is $39. Tomorrow they may be lower. That will depend upon the continued psychological instability of the holders of these shares.

Every stockholder in America who gets jittery when fearful selling (or buying) enters the stock market should patiently cultivate a sound investment philosophy.

If the steel industry is not prosperous, it will drag a dozen other industries down. This will set up a chain reaction reducing tax collections at national, state and local levels. And with the federal budget for the 1962-63 fiscal year at 92½ billions of dollars a huge deficit, necessitating large borrowing, will result.

One of the themes of this column for two decades has been that the bigger the financial requirements of the U. S. Government from year to year, the more important is personal and corporate prosperity. And when prosperity in any important segment of the American economy goes into a tailspin, and deficits ensue, the integrity of the dollar suffers.

Investors who sell U. S. Steel at $58 a share and Bethlehem at $39 fail to realize how necessary it is for Uncle Sam to aid in building a basic prosperity under such an important industry as steel.

In 1958 nobody could predict that in 1962 General Motors would be prosperous and Big Steel not. The thing to remember is that sound investing requires that the dollars available for stock buying be well-diversified.

Muncie Club Is 5000 for Kiwanis

Kiwanis Club number 5000 received its charter April 30 in Muncie, Ind., according to word received here by Attorney Howard C. St. John, president of the Kingston Kiwanis Club. The charter was presented to the new Kiwanis Club of South Muncie by Kiwanis International president I. R. Witthuhn of Milwaukee.

Witthuhn characterized the event as "the attainment of another milestone in Kiwanis' 47-year history of growth and progress."

He said that the circumstance of the Kiwanis Club of South Muncie receiving the number 5000 was a mathematical happenstance. He characterized it as "a happy coincidence because Muncie, was once selected as the most typical of American communities for a low-classic sociological study called Middletown."

"That the 5000th Kiwanis Club should be established here proves that the most typical of American institutions, the service club, is today more vital than ever in the life of the typical American community—Muncie, Indiana."

Investor Forum

Harry C. France

THE WISDOM OF DIVERSIFICATION

Nothing better illustrates the advisability for investors to diversify than the recent market action of General Motors and United States Steel—two top-ranking world enterprises.

General Motors is going great guns. U. S. Steel is in the center of a potential-economic price crisis. These two companies represent industries that are basic in America's prosperity. Their financial well-being, reflecting general conditions, is essential if the country is to make ends meet.

Four years ago an experienced investor bought some U. S. Steel common at $86 a shar and General Motors common at $36. At that time the steel industry was more prosperous than the motor industry. The steel dividend was being comfortably earned and the motor dividend uncomfortably.

At the time these purchases were made, the investor considered putting all of his available surplus in U. S. Steel common. But he followed the investment rule of buying the best and diversifying.

And now in early 1962 the wisdom of such action is plainly evident. General Motors has just completed a most properous quarter, while the U. S. Steel dividend is barely being earned.

This investor has a $20-a-share profit in General Motors and a $26-a-share loss in U. S. Steel. This is in line with the rule that any investor who ignores the basic principles of investment long enough will eventually pay for this violation. For had this particular individual followed his original intention to concentrate on U. S. Steel common, his present position would be far from the easily endurable, long-pull one that it actually is.

As this is being written, a political indictment out of Washington against the major steel companies has been announced. The emotional public holding the steel shares is dumping the stocks. U. S. Steel is now $58 a share; Bethlehem Steel is $39. Tomorrow they may be lower. That will depend upon the continued psychological instability of the holders of these shares.

Every stockholder in America who gets jittery when fearful selling (or buying) enters the stock market should patiently cultivate a sound investment philosophy.

If the steel industry is not prosperous, it will drag a dozen other industries down. This will set up a chain reaction reducing tax collections at national, state and local levels. And with the federal budget for the 1962-63 fiscal year at 92½ billions of dollars a huge deficit, necessitating large borrowing, will result.

One of the themes of this column for two decades has been that the bigger the financial requirements of the U. S. Government from year to year, the more important is personal and corporate prosperity. And when prosperity in any important segment of the American economy goes into a tailspin, and deficits ensue, the integrity of the dollar suffers.

Investors who sell U. S. Steel at $58 a share and Bethlehem at $39 fail to realize how necessary it is for Uncle Sam to aid in building a basic prosperity under such an important industry as steel.

In 1958 nobody could predict that in 1962 General Motors would be prosperous and Big Steel not. The thing to remember is that sound investing requires that the dollars available for stock buying be well-diversified.

IDEAS CAN BE FUN

An idea can be a fascinating thing. There are so many things to do with it. You can mold it, color it, shade it, and sketch it; melt it, reform it, hammer at it and blend it. Also you can dream about it, translate it, elaborate it, dissect it, demolish it and rebuild it.

You'd think working with ideas would be the most popular hobby around. The raw materials are ridiculously cheap! But it isn't. Most of us prefer locking ideas in the closets of our minds to taking them out and working them over. Who knows, someone might hurt them.

The area of ideas is one of the few left where we all exercise remarkable restraint from coveting our neighbors' goods. We may covet his car, his house, her mink, her spouse; we may gladly borrow or permanently remove from their possession any or all of those things. But the neighbors' ideas we are not likely to beg, borrow or steal.

It seems a shame. It could be such a nice hobby. Maybe someone will come up with a do-it-yourself idea-exchange kit. Might turn out to be the biggest thing since the Twist.

THE PREXY'S FUNCTION

The two best known university presidents a few years ago, were Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, head of Columbia, and ex-Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota, president of the University of Pennsylvania. As neither possessed any previous experience in higher education, they were obviously chosen for their fame. Probably they were expected to attract generous gifts of money. Their careers as executives must also have been considered helpful.

Now President Harold W. Dodds of Princeton says that the idea is all wrong. In his new book, "The Academic President," he says that a college presidency "is no place for a retired governor or general per se, or a minister whose congregation or bishop wants to kick him upstairs." He seems to think, as some at the two universities involved did, that neither "Ike" nor Stassen was an outstanding college head.

Another point made by Dodds is that college presidents spend too much time on fund-raising and too little on educational problems. He is right. The fundamental purpose of the institution is too serious a matter to be delegated to underlings. Raising money should be secondary to the task of keeping a college's academic standards high.

AN AMERICAN STORY

On May 31 Chester N. Wiggins, maintenance supervisor of United Air Lines' repair plant in San Francisco, reaches the mandatory retirement age of 65. Mrs. Wiggins, 63, has been spending four days a week for the past few years as a substitute teacher. The Wiggins' also have been good parents, rearing a son who is now an associate director of the Peace Corps.

Mr. and Mrs. Wiggins have clearly earned their retirement, but they are not yet ready to take advantage of it. They have just been signed on as Peace Corps rank and file trainees for an urban rehabilitation program in Arequipa, Peru.

This couple's reasons for not accepting a life of ease are worth noting. Wiggins has said that his Peace Corps assignment "might be a way of repaying the opportunities and privileges he has received under the American system of government." At a time when too many feel patriotism can only be measured by wild accusations of their fellow citizens, the story of Mr. and Mrs. Wiggins speaks for itself.

DON'T BE GULLIBLE!

Are you one of the 15 million or so people who now own stocks in American corporations? Or are you one of the many additional millions who, it is expected, will be investing a part of their savings in stocks in coming years?

If your answer to either of these questions is Yes, some words written by Sylvia Porter, the syndicated business and financial analyst, should be graven on your memory. She says: "There are fly-by-night salesmen of stocks operating in the United States today who are untrained, incompetent or, worse—crooks—and if you're gullible enough to let them handle your investments, your nestegg will disappear.

"If, though, you use common sense and simply pick out one of the reputable brokerage firms in your area, the odds are the man or woman handling your account will be a professional. He'll be educated in every phase of the securities business. . . ."

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

IT IS TOO MUCH

Herbert C. Holdridge, Brigadier General, U. S. Army (Retired), who signs himself "Administrator" of the "Constitutional Provisional Government of the United States," sends out a lot of press material. Let me quote a paragraph from General Holdridge as a basis for discussion:

"Again the crimes against our people are plotted in the Vatican with the collaboration of Big Money, implemented through Outlaw Kennedy who rose to power by fraud . . . Kennedy, your (not our) Commander-in-Chief, involves us in blunder after blunder: the Cuban invasion; of Berlin; of Laos and Viet Nam; of the illegal mobilization of reservists for an undeclared, illegal war; of waging economic war against U. S. Steel and other industries; of atomic testing resumption; of involvement in the Common Market of foreign nations pooling their bankruptcies to wage economic war against us; of the recommended betrayal of our military forces to the United Nations under control of enemies of our Constitution . . . Having no intelligence, he must, naturally, blunder. He and his mentally-retarded, 'Trigger-Happy' Irish, Roman Catholic 'Mafia' set the tune, and you generals and admirals dance the 'Twist,' blindly without concern for your oath of allegiance to defend the Constitution. In the process you commit one overt act of treason after the other."

If such a paragraph were written by a Communist, as it well might be, it would be regarded as subversive. General Holdridge is entitled to his opinion. He is a citizen and is entitled to speak up in opposition to any official. He dislikes President Kennedy, principally because he is a Roman Catholic, which is his privilege. He believes:

"The 'prime movers' in these acts of violence, now as then, are the Pope and his hierarchy in Rome, and the International Big Money monopolists of Wall Street."

However, we are at war with Soviet Russia. Our civilization a well as our nation is imperilled by this war. There are Republicans as well as Democrats who are critical of President Kennedy, but when it comes to the safety of the country, most Americans stand shoulder to shoulder against the enemy. General Holdridge says:

"You advance the conspiracy to create the 'enemy' Communism, knowing full well that a potential 'enemy' was necessary to justify wars and war spending to keep the economy alive, and that had not Communism existed, another 'enemy' must necessarily be created for the purpose."

This is not good talk. This gives the impression that Communism is not an enemy; that even Soviet Russia is not an enemy; that the enemy of the American people is the American government.

This has no foundation in fact. It has no meaning in American life. And yet, General Holdridge is not to be ignored, for he has a following, as there is discontent in the land, particularly among older people, who cannot adjust themselves to changes.

Inez Robb made a point in her quarrel with a hotel man in Arizona that some people cannot cope with the 20th Century. Surely that does not mean that the 20th Century is good or bad, better or worse, than the 12th or the 18th. It is here and it is making its own peculiar history.

There are those in this country who find the middle of the 20th Century a muddle and they cannot adjust their minds and habits to the results of a deep depression and three wars. They cannot grasp the consequences of the Marxist Revolution, of Keynesian economics, of the development of atomic energy and of the new concepts in chemistry, physics, in medicine and psychiatry.

The youngsters know much about these developments because they are being taught very differently than we were taught. Their world is wider and deeper than ours was. Imagine what it did to a child of 10 or 11 to have gone through the experience of watching John Glenn orbit the Earth. To such a child, the Earth becomes very small. Before his eyes, he saw the lights of Perth, Australia, light up in a tribute to the smallness of the world.

When that child reaches manhood, he will think differently than we do. He will look upon Pakistan as just around the corner and he will probably serve a period of conscription at the North Pole or on the Khyber Pass.

Dangers of Respiratory Infections in Children

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The nasal passages of infants and young children are easily blocked by any considerable swelling of their delicate lining membranes. Hence any inflammation of these nasal membranes may be more than a mere nuisance. Especially if the inflammation is of infectious origin, it may travel by way of the throat and eustachian tubes to the middle ears. This may produce permanent damage to the drums and impaired hearing, if not total deafness.

My suggestions to you, therefore, are not aimed wholly at securing comfort for the baby or child with an upper respiratory infection. They may also be regarded as measures for the preservation of normal hearing.

At risk of incurring unnecessary expense, have your doctor examine the youngsters who may seem to have nothing more than an ordinary cold. Remember that many more serious infections begin with what appears to be a simple attack of the sniffles. Such for example as measles and infantile paralysis. In these prompt recognition and skillful treatment may lessen the intensity of the infection, prevent complications and keep the disease from spreading to other susceptible members of the household.

Even if the attack is only a simple cold, your doctor will be able to prescribe nasal drops of much greater usefulness than those you buy over the counter. These drops contain a combination of drugs that effectively shrink nasal membranes. They can usually be relied on to keep the passages open and thus prevent accumulated secretions from entering the middle ears.

Heed instructions for their proper use.

Place the youngster on one side until, with your finger, you can feel that air is coming through the upper passage. Then put the youngster on his back while you insert with a dropper exactly the number of drops your doctor has ordered. When this is done, again place the youngster on his side for a few moments.

When you are sure one side is clear, place the youngster on the other side. That is to say with the cleared passage down. Then repeat the drops.

With both passages cleared, prop the child up in a sitting position. Be sure to prevent both overheating and stuffiness of the bedroom by keeping the room temperature below 70 degrees.

Washington News

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Establishment of a $1.8 billion international fund for the stabilization of export markets will be the big business before the 10th annual meeting of the United Nations Commission on Commodity Trade in Rome, May 14-20. W. Michael Blumenthal, deputy assistant secretary of state for economic affairs, will be chief U. S. delegate.

IF THIS COMPLICATED ENTERPRISE can be set up, it could have tremendous influence on the success of not only the Alliance for Progress in the Western Hemisphere, but also for President Kennedy's foreign trade expansion program and all free world international trading.

There is as yet no blueprint to show how this business would work, if it will work at all. It is still a gleam in the eye of a lot of farsighted people who recognize the economic dislocations caused in many countries by fluctuating commodity supplies and prices.

They think something can and should be done to stablize world markets or both producing and consuming countries.

INTERNATIONAL COFFEE TRADE offers a prime example. A coffee study group of six importing and six exporting country representatives which has been meeting in Washington for several months has just requested U.N. Secretary-General U-Thant to call a formal conference of all coffee-producing and consuming countries in New York, beginning July 9.

It is expected that this meeting will run six weeks or more. But any agreement reached would be expected to fit into the broader export stabilization plan that will be considered in Rome and at later U.N. trade conferences.

The idea of commodity market stabilization was included in the Alliance for Progress Charter signed in Punta del Este, Uruguay, last August. Its final section called for analyzing "the proposal for establishing an international fund for the stabilization of export receipts" and for preparing "a draft plan for the creation of a mechanism for compensatory financing" in fluctuating markets.

FOR AN OVERSIMPLIFIED EXAMPLE of how it might work, take the case of Columbia, a principal coffee exporter.

Every time the New York price of coffee drops one cent a pound, Columbia's coffee producers lose $7.5 million.

Columbia now has an alliance for Progress development plan which will cost roughly $800 million a year. Any year there is a bad crop or even a bumper crop which drives down prices, Columbia doesn't have the foreign exchange to carry on development work. All it can do is cut back.

The alternative would be to set up an export stabilization fund, to which all coffee-producing countries would contribute. Any time an exporting country had a bad crop year and a shortage of foreign exchange, it could draw on this reserve by a temporary loan which would tide it over. This would enable the country to carry on its development plan.

THIS WAS THE SITUATION which Jorge Mejia Palacio, Columbia's minister of finance, described at the opening of the Inter - American Development Board of Governors meeting in Buenos Aires last month. He was extremely critical of the Alliance and the IADB for not having done anything to correct such conditions in their first year of operations. His remarks were intemperate and were resented by United States delegates.

Mejia Palacio did emphasize the problem, however. And the most important decision taken at Buenos Aires was to explore possibilities for stabilizing commodity markets.

THEODORO MOSCOSO, United States co-ordinator for the Alliance for Progress, has the idea that any plan worked out by the IADB should be limited to stabilizing exports so that funds can be guarnteed for carrying on development programs.

The Rome U.N. meeting will of course tackle the problem on a worldwide scale. Export stabilization would then function something like the International Monetary Fund. One idea is to turn the new job over to IMF. Another is to set up a separate fund and organization which would work with the IMF, International Finance Corp. and World Bank.

Sen. Byrd on Getting Our Economy Back on Its Feet

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — There's a crying need for "productivity" of tax rates. The United States government needs money with which to balance its budget. It can cut some of its expenses, of course, and postpone some of its spending programs. But this will not be a sufficient stimulus. What is most important is a program to encourage business operations so as to generate more tax money—more receipts from corporations and individuals.

To put the national economy back on its feet is the most urgent problem before the country today. This cannot be done if governmental power is used in a restrictive and frustrating way. It can be achieved only if the Federal government recognizes clearly the facts of fiscal life—that the treasury is a 52 per cent partner today in corporation profits and must act as a cooperative instead of a non-cooperative partner.

Senator Harry Byrd of Virginia, Democrat, has a realistic conception of what's going on. He is chairman of the Senate Finance Committee and a man who speaks his mind frankly and forthrightly. In a speech just delivered to the Delaware Bankers Association, he says:

"This nation has been on a deficit financing basis for 25 of the past 31 years. There was a $4-billion deficit last year, there will be a $7-billion-to-$10-billion deficite this year, and there will be another deficite of $3-billion-to-$5-billion in the coming fiscal year. . . .

"We are told that the fiscal situation will be all right if we balance the Federal budget over a cycle of years, and that this will be taken care of automatically if the Federal government will only spend enough to raise the Gross National Product high enough to produce the necessary revenue.

"This is evil fiotion. It never has worked. It is not working now, and I can prove it. It will not work in the future, and it is dangerous to rely on it. A prudent government would balance its budget by stopping nonessential expenditure. This is not being done. The hard fact is that continuing deficits ultimately end in bankruptcy. When a nation goes bankrupt, its assets are not taken over and sold to satisfy its debts. Its money becomes worthless; its economy disintegrates; its form of government falls and changes."

The Virginia Senator points out, too, that previous Federal deficits have been " a prime factor in inflation which continues to reduce the value of the dollar."

What this means is that since 1939 the dollar has gone down from 100 cents to 46.1 cents as of March of this year. Senator Byrd says he suspects that, when the figures come in, it will be found that the dollar has gone down further in April and May. He adds:

"In short, our situation is characterized by increasing debt, continuing deficits, and threatening inflation. Such a situation does not inspire confidence at home or abroad; but we need confidence in the dollar now as we never needed it before.

"I say this because loss of our gold, through withdrawals by foreigners . . . in its own way . . . imperils our security like an atomic bomb. Foreign nations and their central banks take our gold when they lose confidence in the dollar. Precisely this is happening."

Senator Byrd says that, if the balance-of-payments deficit grows more serious and America's gold flows to other countries in larger and larger quantities, there will be talk of "diluting the dollar's gold base or reneging on our policy of offering the gold-or-dollar option in foreign payments." He emphasizes that "we dare not consider action in either direction while the dollar is under fire of domestic deficits and declining value."

This is plain talk from one of the most powerful men in the United States Senate, whose words are respected far and wide. He insists that "drastic action" must be taken to reverse the downward trend. He sums it up this way:

"We must go to the root causes of the situation before it is too late. The root causes are huge deficits at home and huge deficits in our financial transactions abroad. Those in authority must act to restore confidence in the dollar."

It is obvious that the cause of the trouble is not deficits by themselves but failure to embark on a program that looks toward a rapid growth of tax receipts. This can be done not merely by revising Treasury regulations on depreciation so at to encourage plant expansion and modernization of equipment but by a general change in the attitude of the Administration and its advisers toward business as a whole. There must be a dynamic means of generating a flow of profits so that investors will find it attractive to participate in America's enterprises, both here and abroad.

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

PECOS, Tex., May 13—There are many fine, virtuous American families in this ugly little mess of a town on the high plains of West Texas, but it is a shockingly bad place, too. Most of the farmers are typical of American farmers everywhere under the system invented to solve the "farm problem." They have learned the fine points of the lease-back and the swapping of cotton allotments from the Department of Agriculture. "Windshield farmers," including some bankers and city lawyers, are sharks at these tricks reminiscent of three-card Monte.

Some of the Pecos farmers are doomed to obliteration by lawsuits filed by grandiose big city loansharks called finance companies, which bought chattel mortages on non-existent ammonia fertilizer tanks from Billie Sol Estes, the Wonder Boy of the Region and of the Texas Democratic Party. Billie Sols' rickety empire now lies in a flindered ruin like that of a string-town flattened by a twister. But he trapped old friends and neighbors into legal liabilities amounting to millions. If they are wiped out they will be victims of their own parasitic greed. They are all members of a gigantic underworld of agriculture that blankets the nation. Its aggregate toll from the dull-dumb, docile taxplayer makes the romanticized intake of Mickey Cohen and Frank Costello look like a two-bit tip in a beanery.

Walter Holcombe, the president of the Security State Bank of Pecos, said that all but two of Billie Sol's victim's who are known to him were buying moonbeams and that he repeatedly told them so. But did he go to the prosecuting attorney? It does not appear that he did.

He boisterously relates that he called Wonder Boy a name rhyming with "itch," and said, "You stole that $18,000 from me" in severing their long financial relation. But I had to learn elsewhere, not from the Elder Statesman, that in 1954 when Billie Sol was named by the Junior Chamber of Commerce in Washington as one of the Ten Outstanding Young Men in America, Holcombe gave a vast barbecue in honor of Billie Sol. That was a bad year for the Jaycees.

Another Wonder Boy of that litter was Frank G. Clement, then governor of Tennessee, who became the outstanding false alarm of the decade. Another was a newspaper feature writer named Carl T. Rowan, who recently tried to integrate the Cosmos Club in Washington.

But Banker Holcombe was high on Wonder Boy Estes just then. Banker Holcombe is a Texas Democrat and to that extent he is now tarred by the stick that has tarred other officials. President Kennedy not only sent Wonder Boy a telegram when he started his Pecos Daily News in a tank town of 11,000 a year ago, but sent him an autographed picture as well. Until recently it hung in Wonder Boy's office inscribed "For Billie Sol Estes, with appreciation and warm regards."

Mr. Holcombe might be a good witness in criminal proceedings in the highly improbable event that Bobby Kennedy will proceed against Lyndon Johnson's political empire as ferociously as he has started after U. S. Steel.

One citizen told me that Pecos was both beautiful and horrible. The white youth are beautiful as always and as moral as any. There are few Negroes hereabouts. But in Odessa, only 70 miles east, a popular high school boy blew a sweet girl's head off with a shotgun on a midnight date, she in her shorty pajamas, because she asked him to, and was acquitted absolutely. She was only 17. This citizen told me that the good Mexican girls are conspicuously virtuous and religious. Mexicans and Anglos do not mix much. But he said there were big traffic in narcotics from Mexico and flagrant prostitution back in the cotton land by white girls of the region. I found that other credible citizens agree on these views.

There is terrible hatred going against the conservatives who elected John Tower Senator on the Republican ticket. They are called "Birchites" although I met only two who said they were members of John Birch. Other conservatives call themselves Goldwater Democrats and call the leftist Democrats Yellow Dog Democrats. It seems to be a old saying that extreme Democrats would vote for a yellow dog on the Democratic ticket. A reputable conservative told me under seal not to give his name that a ruling magnate had circulated letters to his friends and customers threatening to cut off their pensions and insurance if they did not drop him, the conservative. Another conservative assured me that this was true.

Everyone has seen a silhouette, a profile portrait cut out of black paper. But who knows how the term came to be applied to this type of art? The word was taken from the name of Etienne de Silhouette, the parsimonious finance minister of France in the middle of the 18th century. It was his hobby to cut out such portraits. The phrase, "a la Silhouette," originally meant "on the cheap."

IDEAS CAN BE FUN

An idea can be a fascinating thing. There are so many things to do with it. You can mold it, color it, shade it, and sketch it; melt it, reform it, hammer at it and blend it. Also you can dream about it, translate it, elaborate it, dissect it, demolish it and rebuild it.

You'd think working with ideas would be the most popular hobby around. The raw materials are ridiculously cheap! But it isn't. Most of us prefer locking ideas in the closets of our minds to taking them out and working them over. Who knows, someone might hurt them.

The area of ideas is one of the few left where we all exercise remarkable restraint from coveting our neighbors' goods. We may covet his car, his house, her mink, her spouse; we may gladly borrow or permanently remove from their possession any or all of those things. But the neighbors' ideas we are not likely to beg, borrow or steal.

It seems a shame. It could be such a nice hobby. Maybe someone will come up with a do-it-yourself idea-exchange kit. Might turn out to be the biggest thing since the Twist.

THE PREXY'S FUNCTION

The two best known university presidents a few years ago, were Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, head of Columbia, and ex-Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota, president of the University of Pennsylvania. As neither possessed any previous experience in higher education, they were obviously chosen for their fame. Probably they were expected to attract generous gifts of money. Their careers as executives must also have been considered helpful.

Now President Harold W. Dodds of Princeton says that the idea is all wrong. In his new book, "The Academic President," he says that a college presidency "is no place for a retired governor or general per se, or a minister whose congregation or bishop wants to kick him upstairs." He seems to think, as some at the two universities involved did, that neither "Ike" nor Stassen was an outstanding college head.

Another point made by Dodds is that college presidents spend too much time on fund-raising and too little on educational problems. He is right. The fundamental purpose of the institution is too serious a matter to be delegated to underlings. Raising money should be secondary to the task of keeping a college's academic standards high.

AN AMERICAN STORY

On May 31 Chester N. Wiggins, maintenance supervisor of United Air Lines' repair plant in San Francisco, reaches the mandatory retirement age of 65. Mrs. Wiggins, 63, has been spending four days a week for the past few years as a substitute teacher. The Wiggins' also have been good parents, rearing a son who is now an associate director of the Peace Corps.

Mr. and Mrs. Wiggins have clearly earned their retirement, but they are not yet ready to take advantage of it. They have just been signed on as Peace Corps rank and file trainees for an urban rehabilitation program in Arequipa, Peru.

This couple's reasons for not accepting a life of ease are worth noting. Wiggins has said that his Peace Corps assignment "might be a way of repaying the opportunities and privileges he has received under the American system of government." At a time when too many feel patriotism can only be measured by wild accusations of their fellow citizens, the story of Mr. and Mrs. Wiggins speaks for itself.

DON'T BE GULLIBLE!

Are you one of the 15 million or so people who now own stocks in American corporations? Or are you one of the many additional millions who, it is expected, will be investing a part of their savings in stocks in coming years?

If your answer to either of these questions is Yes, some words written by Sylvia Porter, the syndicated business and financial analyst, should be graven on your memory. She says: "There are fly-by-night salesmen of stocks operating in the United States today who are untrained, incompetent or, worse—crooks—and if you're gullible enough to let them handle your investments, your nestegg will disappear.

"If, though, you use common sense and simply pick out one of the reputable brokerage firms in your area, the odds are the man or woman handling your account will be a professional. He'll be educated in every phase of the securities business. . . ."

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

IT IS TOO MUCH

Herbert C. Holdridge, Brigadier General, U. S. Army (Retired), who signs himself "Administrator" of the "Constitutional Provisional Government of the United States," sends out a lot of press material. Let me quote a paragraph from General Holdridge as a basis for discussion:

"Again the crimes against our people are plotted in the Vatican with the collaboration of Big Money, implemented through Outlaw Kennedy who rose to power by fraud . . . Kennedy, your (not our) Commander-in-Chief, involves us in blunder after blunder: the Cuban invasion; of Berlin; of Laos and Viet Nam; of the illegal mobilization of reservists for an undeclared, illegal war; of waging economic war against U. S. Steel and other industries; of atomic testing resumption; of involvement in the Common Market of foreign nations pooling their bankruptcies to wage economic war against us; of the recommended betrayal of our military forces to the United Nations under control of enemies of our Constitution . . . Having no intelligence, he must, naturally, blunder. He and his mentally-retarded, 'Trigger-Happy' Irish, Roman Catholic 'Mafia' set the tune, and you generals and admirals dance the 'Twist,' blindly without concern for your oath of allegiance to defend the Constitution. In the process you commit one overt act of treason after the other."

If such a paragraph were written by a Communist, as it well might be, it would be regarded as subversive. General Holdridge is entitled to his opinion. He is a citizen and is entitled to speak up in opposition to any official. He dislikes President Kennedy, principally because he is a Roman Catholic, which is his privilege. He believes:

"The 'prime movers' in these acts of violence, now as then, are the Pope and his hierarchy in Rome, and the International Big Money monopolists of Wall Street."

However, we are at war with Soviet Russia. Our civilization a well as our nation is imperilled by this war. There are Republicans as well as Democrats who are critical of President Kennedy, but when it comes to the safety of the country, most Americans stand shoulder to shoulder against the enemy. General Holdridge says:

"You advance the conspiracy to create the 'enemy' Communism, knowing full well that a potential 'enemy' was necessary to justify wars and war spending to keep the economy alive, and that had not Communism existed, another 'enemy' must necessarily be created for the purpose."

This is not good talk. This gives the impression that Communism is not an enemy; that even Soviet Russia is not an enemy; that the enemy of the American people is the American government.

This has no foundation in fact. It has no meaning in American life. And yet, General Holdridge is not to be ignored, for he has a following, as there is discontent in the land, particularly among older people, who cannot adjust themselves to changes.

Inez Robb made a point in her quarrel with a hotel man in Arizona that some people cannot cope with the 20th Century. Surely that does not mean that the 20th Century is good or bad, better or worse, than the 12th or the 18th. It is here and it is making its own peculiar history.

There are those in this country who find the middle of the 20th Century a muddle and they cannot adjust their minds and habits to the results of a deep depression and three wars. They cannot grasp the consequences of the Marxist Revolution, of Keynesian economics, of the development of atomic energy and of the new concepts in chemistry, physics, in medicine and psychiatry.

The youngsters know much about these developments because they are being taught very differently than we were taught. Their world is wider and deeper than ours was. Imagine what it did to a child of 10 or 11 to have gone through the experience of watching John Glenn orbit the Earth. To such a child, the Earth becomes very small. Before his eyes, he saw the lights of Perth, Australia, light up in a tribute to the smallness of the world.

When that child reaches manhood, he will think differently than we do. He will look upon Pakistan as just around the corner and he will probably serve a period of conscription at the North Pole or on the Khyber Pass.

Dangers of Respiratory Infections in Children

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.

Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The nasal passages of infants and young children are easily blocked by any considerable swelling of their delicate lining membranes. Hence any inflammation of these nasal membranes may be more than a mere nuisance. Especially if the inflammation is of infectious origin, it may travel by way of the throat and eustachian tubes to the middle ears. This may produce permanent damage to the drums and impaired hearing, if not total deafness.

My suggestions to you, therefore, are not aimed wholly at securing comfort for the baby or child with an upper respiratory infection. They may also be regarded as measures for the preservation of normal hearing.

At risk of incurring unnecessary expense, have your doctor examine the youngsters who may seem to have nothing more than an ordinary cold. Remember that many more serious infections begin with what appears to be a simple attack of the sniffles. Such for example as measles and infantile paralysis. In these prompt recognition and skillful treatment may lessen the intensity of the infection, prevent complications and keep the disease from spreading to other susceptible members of the household.

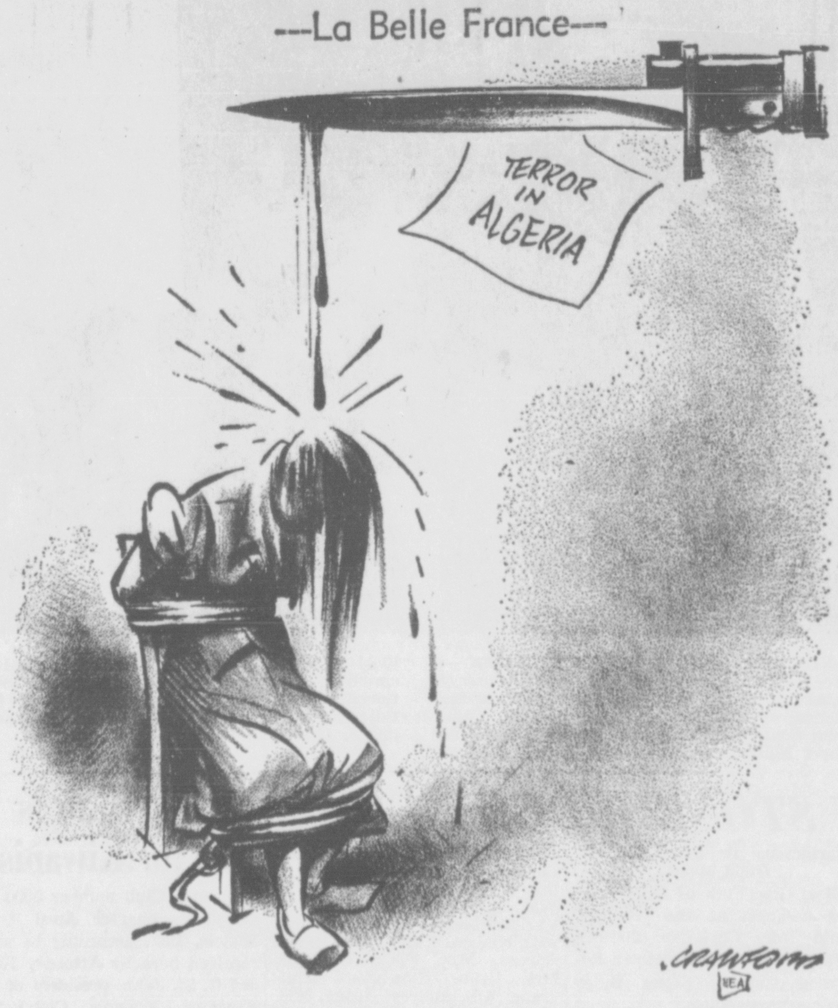

Even if the attack is only a simple cold, your doctor will be able to prescribe nasal drops of much greater usefulness than those you buy over the counter. These drops contain a combination of drugs that effectively shrink nasal membranes. They can usually be relied on to keep the passages open and thus prevent accumulated secretions from entering the middle ears.

Heed instructions for their proper use.

Place the youngster on one side until, with your finger, you can feel that air is coming through the upper passage. Then put the youngster on his back while you insert with a dropper exactly the number of drops your doctor has ordered. When this is done, again place the youngster on his side for a few moments.

When you are sure one side is clear, place the youngster on the other side. That is to say with the cleared passage down. Then repeat the drops.

With both passages cleared, prop the child up in a sitting position. Be sure to prevent both overheating and stuffiness of the bedroom by keeping the room temperature below 70 degrees.

Washington News

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Establishment of a $1.8 billion international fund for the stabilization of export markets will be the big business before the 10th annual meeting of the United Nations Commission on Commodity Trade in Rome, May 14-20. W. Michael Blumenthal, deputy assistant secretary of state for economic affairs, will be chief U. S. delegate.

IF THIS COMPLICATED ENTERPRISE can be set up, it could have tremendous influence on the success of not only the Alliance for Progress in the Western Hemisphere, but also for President Kennedy's foreign trade expansion program and all free world international trading.

There is as yet no blueprint to show how this business would work, if it will work at all. It is still a gleam in the eye of a lot of farsighted people who recognize the economic dislocations caused in many countries by fluctuating commodity supplies and prices.

They think something can and should be done to stablize world markets or both producing and consuming countries.

INTERNATIONAL COFFEE TRADE offers a prime example. A coffee study group of six importing and six exporting country representatives which has been meeting in Washington for several months has just requested U.N. Secretary-General U-Thant to call a formal conference of all coffee-producing and consuming countries in New York, beginning July 9.

It is expected that this meeting will run six weeks or more. But any agreement reached would be expected to fit into the broader export stabilization plan that will be considered in Rome and at later U.N. trade conferences.

The idea of commodity market stabilization was included in the Alliance for Progress Charter signed in Punta del Este, Uruguay, last August. Its final section called for analyzing "the proposal for establishing an international fund for the stabilization of export receipts" and for preparing "a draft plan for the creation of a mechanism for compensatory financing" in fluctuating markets.

FOR AN OVERSIMPLIFIED EXAMPLE of how it might work, take the case of Columbia, a principal coffee exporter.

Every time the New York price of coffee drops one cent a pound, Columbia's coffee producers lose $7.5 million.

Columbia now has an alliance for Progress development plan which will cost roughly $800 million a year. Any year there is a bad crop or even a bumper crop which drives down prices, Columbia doesn't have the foreign exchange to carry on development work. All it can do is cut back.

The alternative would be to set up an export stabilization fund, to which all coffee-producing countries would contribute. Any time an exporting country had a bad crop year and a shortage of foreign exchange, it could draw on this reserve by a temporary loan which would tide it over. This would enable the country to carry on its development plan.

THIS WAS THE SITUATION which Jorge Mejia Palacio, Columbia's minister of finance, described at the opening of the Inter - American Development Board of Governors meeting in Buenos Aires last month. He was extremely critical of the Alliance and the IADB for not having done anything to correct such conditions in their first year of operations. His remarks were intemperate and were resented by United States delegates.

Mejia Palacio did emphasize the problem, however. And the most important decision taken at Buenos Aires was to explore possibilities for stabilizing commodity markets.

THEODORO MOSCOSO, United States co-ordinator for the Alliance for Progress, has the idea that any plan worked out by the IADB should be limited to stabilizing exports so that funds can be guarnteed for carrying on development programs.

The Rome U.N. meeting will of course tackle the problem on a worldwide scale. Export stabilization would then function something like the International Monetary Fund. One idea is to turn the new job over to IMF. Another is to set up a separate fund and organization which would work with the IMF, International Finance Corp. and World Bank.

Sen. Byrd on Getting Our Economy Back on Its Feet

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — There's a crying need for "productivity" of tax rates. The United States government needs money with which to balance its budget. It can cut some of its expenses, of course, and postpone some of its spending programs. But this will not be a sufficient stimulus. What is most important is a program to encourage business operations so as to generate more tax money—more receipts from corporations and individuals.

To put the national economy back on its feet is the most urgent problem before the country today. This cannot be done if governmental power is used in a restrictive and frustrating way. It can be achieved only if the Federal government recognizes clearly the facts of fiscal life—that the treasury is a 52 per cent partner today in corporation profits and must act as a co-operative instead of a non-cooperative partner.

Senator Harry Byrd of Virginia, Democrat, has a realistic conception of what's going on. He is chairman of the Senate Finance Committee and a man who speaks his mind frankly and forthrightly. In a speech just delivered to the Delaware Bankers Association, he says:

"This nation has been on a deficit financing basis for 25 of the past 31 years. There was a $4-billion deficit last year, there will be a $7-billion-to-$10-billion deficite this year, and there will be another deficite of $3-billion-to-$5-billion in the coming fiscal year. . . .

"We are told that the fiscal situation will be all right if we balance the Federal budget over a cycle of years, and that this will be taken care of automatically if the Federal government will only spend enough to raise the Gross National Product high enough to produce the necessary revenue.

"This is evil fiotion. It never has worked. It is not working now, and I can prove it. It will not work in the future, and it is dangerous to rely on it. A prudent government would balance its budget by stopping nonessential expenditure. This is not being done. The hard fact is that continuing deficits ultimately end in bankruptcy. When a nation goes bankrupt, its assets are not taken over and sold to satisfy its debts. Its money becomes worthless; its economy disintegrates; its form of government falls and changes."

The Virginia Senator points out, too, that previous Federal deficits have been " a prime factor in inflation which continues to reduce the value of the dollar."

What this means is that since 1939 the dollar has gone down from 100 cents to 46.1 cents as of March of this year. Senator Byrd says he suspects that, when the figures come in, it will be found that the dollar has gone down further in April and May. He adds:

"In short, our situation is characterized by increasing debt, continuing deficits, and threatening inflation. Such a situation does not inspire confidence at home or abroad; but we need confidence in the dollar now as we never needed it before.

"I say this because loss of our gold, through withdrawals by foreigners . . . in its own way . . . imperils our security like an atomic bomb. Foreign nations and their central banks take our gold when they lose confidence in the dollar. Precisely this is happening."

Senator Byrd says that, if the balance-of-payments deficit grows more serious and America's gold flows to other countries in larger and larger quantities, there will be talk of "diluting the dollar's gold base or reneging on our policy of offering the gold-or-dollar option in foreign payments." He emphasizes that "we dare not consider action in either direction while the dollar is under fire of domestic deficits and declining value."

This is plain talk from one of the most powerful men in the United States Senate, whose words are respected far and wide. He insists that "drastic action" must be taken to reverse the downward trend. He sums it up this way:

"We must go to the root causes of the situation before it is too late. The root causes are huge deficits at home and huge deficits in our financial transactions abroad. Those in authority must act to restore confidence in the dollar."

It is obvious that the cause of the trouble is not deficits by themselves but failure to embark on a program that looks toward a rapid growth of tax receipts. This can be done not merely by revising Treasury regulations on depreciation so at to encourage plant expansion and modernization of equipment but by a general change in the attitude of the Administration and its advisers toward business as a whole. There must be a dynamic means of generating a flow of profits so that investors will find it attractive to participate in America's enterprises, both here and abroad.

So They Say..

"We no longer have the three Rs in this country. Instead, we have the six Rs—remedial reading, Remedial 'riting and remedial 'rithmetic.
—Educator Robert M. Hutchins.

There are two periods in a man's life when commendation for his professional services is especially welcome. One is while he is young and wondering whether he will make the grade; the other is when he old and wondering whether he is slipping.
—Dr. Joel H. Hildebrand, 80, researcher and teacher, receiving Priestley Medal for distinguished service to chemistry.

Manners are especially the need for the plain. The pretty can get away with anything.
—English author Evelyn Waugh.

The Russains are fighting us with everything they have got, while we fight them with only 20 per cent of what we've got. We've got to find some way of putting the other 80 per cent to work.
—Sen Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., calling for a "rock bottom minimum" of $10 billion annually in foreign aid by the West to undeveloped nations.

Mighty Mountain

El Chimborazo, a 20,561-foot mountain, dominates the Ecuadorean Andes. This peak was described by Simon Bolivar, South American liberator, as the "watchtower of the universe."

Everyone has seen a silhouette, a profile portrait cut out of black paper. But who knows how the term came to be applied to this type of art? The word was taken from the name of Etienne de Silhouette, the parsimonious finance minister of France in the middle of the 18th century. It was his hobby to cut out such portraits. The phrase, "a la Silhouette," originally meant "on the cheap."

Six Persons Hurt In Two-Car Crash At Town of Lloyd

Six persons were injured Saturday in a two-car collision on Route 44-55 Town of Lloyd, near Rocking Horse ranch. One driver was accused of driving while under the influence of alcohol.

Carl E. Bower, 30, of Wood's Mill Road, Highland, driver of one car, was ticketed for driving while under the influence of alcohol and will have a hearing before Justice of the Peace Philip Schunk of Lloyd on May 29. The other car was operated by Edward T. Williams, 61, of 80 Garden Street, Poughkeepsie. Two passengers in each car were injured along with the drivers. Trooper Czaplicki reported Mrs. Williams, wife of the driver, and Rudolph Demsky, 73, of 29 Garden Street, Poughkeepsie, passengers in the Williams car, suffered lacerations and the driver received a cut lip. Paul E. Joslin, 35, Highland and Thomas Dougherty, 24, Vineyard Avenue, Highland, passengers in the Bower car suffered lacerations and Bower received lacerations of the forehead and knee.

A car operated by Frank Isola, 18, New York City, stopped because of the two-car accident and a car operated by Gerald J. Lewis, 18, of Trenton, N. J., struck the stopped car. There were no injuries.

Fail to Get

posts of defense and interior in the coalition government.

The Vientiane regime now wants to test Souvanna's ability to control his allies of the pro-Communist Pathet Lao led by his half-brother Prince Souphanouvong.

When the pro-Communist forces routed the Vientiane troops in northwest Laos last week, Souvanna ordered Souphanouvong to pull back his forces to the original cease-fire line. The rebels pushed on further to the Mekong River.

Souvanna was reported still hopeful of a settlement through diplomatic channels rather than on the battlefield.

While President Kennedy cut short a weekend at his country estate to confer with his military and diplomatic advisers in Washington, the two top leaders of the Vientiane government flew to Formosa on a goodwill mission.

Premier Boun Oum and Gen. Phoumi Nosavan, the strongman of his regime, did not let the trouble at home interfere with their swing around non-Communist Asian countries to enlist support.

American air, sea and land forces in the Pacific area were on the move with Washington reported waiting permission to land combat marines in Thailand, bordering embattled Laos.

Four Seek Nomination For Assemblyman

With the entrance of William P. Freese, Cairo, into the race for Republican nomination for Assemblyman from Greene County, the number of candidates has been increased to four. Freese said the interest being shown in the Republican race for the assembly post is "the best shot-in-the-arm the Republican party in Greene County has had in many years."

Beside Freese others who are seeking the nomination for the post to be vacated by Assemblyman William E. Brady, who has announced his intention to retire at the end of his term, are Under Sheriff Joseph Pavlak of Catskill, George Cobb of Catskill and Clarence Lane of Windham.

Kingston Schools To Close Tuesday For Teachers Day

All Kingston Schools Consolidated will be closed Tuesday in observance of Teachers Recognition Day.

The teachers will be entertained at a reception 3 p. m. tomorrow at Governor Clinton Hotel as part of the state-wide Teacher Recognition Day.

This special program was arranged by the Education Committee of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce and will be sponsored jointly by the Kingston Rotary Club, the Kingston Savings Bank, the Rondout Savings Bank, the Ulster County Savings Institution and the Junior League of Kingston.

Joseph Morgan a member of the Chamber's Education Committee is chairman of the special Teacher Recognition Day program.

Chamber manager Albert Kurdt will serve as master of ceremonies. Following the program refreshments will be served.

The Chamber of Commerce carries on several important activities of a public relations nature to bring the schools and the people served, closer together. Teacher Recognition Day is part of this program.

In releasing plans for this special program today Chairman Morgan suggested that all citizens make a special effort to show their appreciation to all teachers for the substantial contribution they make to the education of our youth and the future welfare of our country.

Hutcheson's Conviction Is Upheld by Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court affirmed today conviction of Maurice A. Hutcheson, president of the Carpenters Brotherhood, on a charge of contempt of Congress for refusal to answer questions asked by the Senate rackets investigating committee.

Justice Harlan announced the court's judgment. The tribunal's vote was 4-2.

Hutcheson was sentenced in U.S. District Court here to six months' imprisonment and fined $500.

He appeared before the committee in June 1958 but refused to answer 18 questions. He said they concerned personal matters and might aid in prosecution of an Indiana case against him.

In the Indiana case, Hutcheson and two other union official swere charged with conspiracy to bribe a state official to get highway information that led to a quick $78,000 profit. He later was convicted at Indianapolis on highway land scandal charges. An appeal is pending.

Hutcheson did not invoke the Fifth Amendment guarantee against self-incrimination in refusing to answer the 18 questions. In his appeal to the Supreme Court he contended he had been denied due process of law as guaranteed by the Constitution.

of action until after consultation, and provided only for such prior notice as the company had intended to take in regard to action or procedure.

Parker's proposal, he held, was limited to such layoffs resulting of lack of work only, and contained "none of the elements" which the union committe had considered given "in good faith." A rewriting with provisions "as Parker had proposed," he said, was advised, but as presented Saturday night the membership of the union voted it down.

Parker announced Friday that "in an attempt to bring about prompt settlement" of the strike, the company had agreed to arbitrate discharge cases at the union's request, and that all other grievances would be handled under present contract provisions.

NEW YORK (AP)—A nervous stock market fell sharply today under a heavy wave of selling and then steadied. The ticker tape ran 29 minutes late.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was down 2.50 at 233.60 with industrials off 3.60, rails off 1.000 and utilities off 1.40.

After a brief stay on the upside at the opening, the market reeled into its seventh consecutive session of decline.

As trading swelled, the tape's lage increased. It hadn't run so late since May 27, 1933, when it trailed transactions by 34 minutes.

Brokers said the market may be engaged in a selling climax, which, on heavy volume would technically signal a turnaround.

The market's nervousness, which has been evident since the government-steel industry battle over a price increase, was heightened by the ticklish situation in Laos, brokers said.

Losses of key stocks ranged from fractions to about $2. There were heavier losses among higher priced issues.

As the list steadied some losses were shaved and a few erased.

Discouraging business news included a sharp reduction in producers' estimate of 1962 steel production.

In the first two hours of trading 2.1 million shares changed hands, compared with 1.41 million in the like period Friday.

AT&T lost about 2 points in the generally lower utilities group.

Xerox lost about 4 points and Polaroid around 3 but they had fallen deeper earlier in the session.

Motors were off with General Motors down about a point.

land at Barclay Heights for the future site of an elementary school was defeated by 240 votes with 1,056 yes and 1,296 no.

In Circulation A Week

The Citizens Advisory committee, proponents of the bond issue, will present the petitions which have been circulating throughout the school district during the past week.

The petition seeks resubmission of the bond issue to the public as soon as legally possible.

The issue may be presented again to the public referendum 21 days after legal notice has been published, and if the Board of Education approves the expenditure.

According to the petition, the action to resubmit the propositions to the voters was taken in view of the narrow margin of defeat.

Plattekill Girl Seriously Injured

An 18-year-old Plattekill girl was seriously injured Saturday in a two-car accident on Route 17-K at Union Avenue in Town of Newburgh. Miss Erma Mundo, Huckleberry Turnpike, Plattekill, was taken to St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh, suffering a fractured skull.

Miss Mundo was a passenger in a car driven by Miss Eileen Scott, 17, of Wallkill. The Scott car and one driven by Clarence Montanye, 42, of Route 17-M, Middletown, collided. Miss Scott received multiple lacerations of the body and was admitted to the hospital. Montanye suffered lacerations of the left hand and a leg injury and his son, Clifford, 18, had abrasions of the forehead.

Newburgh state police investigated.

State Visit Is Cancelled Over Rejected Bill

MANILA (AP) — President Macapagal tonight postponed his state visit to the United States indefinitely because of the U. S. House of Representatives' rejection of a long-pending Philippine war damage bill.

Macapagal, in a nationwide radio television address, said "while reiterating my gratitude for the invitation that the American president so kindly extended to me, it is with deep regret that I am constrained to postpone the date of the visit."

The president put off the visit —scheduled for next month—"until such time as the circumstances will permit me to go on a state visit, which would be most pleasant, because it would be acceptable to our people."

Macapagal explained that "the feeling of resentment among our people and the attitude of the Congress of the United States negate the atmosphere of good will upon which my visit to the United States was predicted.

"I feel that our people would never understand how, under the circumstances at this time, I could go to the United States and dwell on the subject of good will. At this present moment, the word will sound empty."

Motorist Held In Jail on Drunk Driving Charges

Morris Schmartz, 30, of 29 State Street, Hackensack, N. J., arrested by state police Sunday for driving while intoxicated, appeared before Town of Ulster Justice of the Peace Robert Stedge, who committed him to Ulster County Jail in lieu of $250 bail, pending hearing at 2 p. m. today.

Trooper John F. Salters said Schmartz refused to take a blood test at the time of his arrest. Schmartz also faces unregistered motor vehicle and no insurance charges, troopers said. Although a legal resident of Hackensack, N.J., Schmartz had a temporary Indiana driving permit, troopers said.

Stock Market Is Not Glorified Pari Mutual

Q) "I have been playing the stock market over a period of 10 years and have never made any money from my purchases. I recently bought General Time and U.S. Industries. Are they sound stocks? If not please recommend just one good issue that I might buy for capital gains." C.M.

A) Your experience is by no means unique. I assure you that very few people who play the market as if it were a glorified pari mutuel ever wound up as heavy winners. Bear in mind that whenever you buy a stock for a fast turn, someone else is selling it, and just often the "someone else" is a highly skilled professional.

The best way I know of to make money in stocks is to buy good values and stay with your holdings for a reasonable period of time, sometimes for many years. Your two stocks bought recently are speculations, of course.

I like U.S. Industries, which I believe is developing a good earnings base. General Time has little appeal for me—there are too many uncertainties in this situation. I suggest that you sell it and buy Interstate Department Stores which has a fine growth outlook over the next two or three years at least.

Q) "Please tell me if we're on the right track for the future. We hold $5,000 in cash and Government bonds. In stocks, we own Gerber Products, Continental Can and American Heritage Life. We are looking for growth, since we're only in our 30's and have two children." S.R.

A) I think you're very definitely on the right track, and I congratulate you. Your Gerber and American Heritage should work out well for you. Continental Can is not a growth stock, since earnings have been in a fairly constant decline since 1956. The latter is a good, sound issue for income, but for your purpose I would rather hold Texaco. This is probably the best marketer in the oil business and has raised earnings and dividends constantly in recent years.

Making 2nd Try For Power to Break Filibuster

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate leaders make a second attempt today to get the two-thirds majority needed to break a Southern filibuster against the administration's voter literacy test bill.

If the debate-limitation move fails as expected, Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana plans to ask the Senate to put aside the civil rights measure and turn to other legislation.

The House has no major bills on its docket this week, but the Senate may plunge into a scrap over President Kennedy's $2.6-billion public works program soon after it disposes of the literacy bill.

However, Mansfield said he first may call up a House-passed bill to give Kennedy authority to make agreements with additional nations to curb textile imports.

The literacy bill was all but killed off last Wednesday when the Senate voted 53 to 43 against invoking its anti-filibuster rule and clamping a time limit on the debate that had begun two weeks earlier.

The failure to muster even a majority for debate-limitation was a stinging setback for the bill's backers, who contend that in some areas of the South registrars keep Negroes from voting by discriminatory administration of literacy tests.

The bill would exempt anyone with a 6th grade education from having to pass a state literacy test to qualify as a voter in congressional and presidential elections.

Two Injuries Are Reported in Car Mishaps Sunday

A woman was injured in a fall from a car on East Strand and a man walking on Flatbush Avenue reported injuries after another mishap Sunday morning.

Mildred Hart, 48, of 46 Valentine Avenue, police said suffered knee, hip and elbow injuries, when the door of a car came open as it was turning on East Strand near North Street, and she fell to the pavement. She was treated at the Benedictine Hospital. The car was driven by Michael Hart Jr., 54, of 46 Valentine Avenue. The mishap was reported to Lt. Charles Hoehing at police headquarters.

Louis Bruno, 67, of 349 Flatbush Avenue, suffered scalp, ear and elbow injuries, when he was involved in the Flatbush Avenue mishap while walking near East Chester Street. He was to be treated by a doctor. Officers Joseph Kivlan and Vincent Eckert, who investigated, said the car was driven by Jennie A. Caddy, 54, of 425 Hasbrouck Avenue.

Takes Oath as President

NEW DELHI (AP)—Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan, 74, took the oath Sunday as India's second president and called on her 475 million people to settle their differences over religion, language and other issues.

Radhakrishnan had served as vice president for 12 years. He was named to the figurehead presidency by parliament and the state legislatures after ailing Rajendra Prasad decided to retire.

Six Persons Hurt In Two-Car Crash At Town of Lloyd

Six persons were injured Saturday in a two-car collision on Route 44-55 Town of Lloyd, near Rocking Horse ranch. One driver was accused of driving while under the influence of alcohol.

Carl E. Bower, 30, of Wood's Mill Road, Highland, driver of one car, was ticketed for driving while under the influence of alcohol and will have a hearing before Justice of the Peace Philip Schunk of Lloyd on May 29. The other car was operated by Edward T. Williams, 61, of 80 Garden Street, Poughkeepsie. Two passengers in each car were injured along with the drivers. Trooper Czaplicki reported Mrs. Williams, wife of the driver, and Rudolph Demsky, 73, of 29 Garden Street, Poughkeepsie, passengers in the Williams car, suffered lacerations and the driver received a cut lip. Paul E. Joslin, 35, Highland and Thomas Dougherty, 24, Vineyard Avenue, Highland, passengers in the Bower car suffered lacerations and Bower received lacerations of the forehead and knee.

A car operated by Frank Isola, 18, New York City, stopped because of the two-car accident and a car operated by Gerald J. Lewis, 18, of Trenton, N. J., struck the stopped car. There were no injuries.

Fail to Get

posts of defense and interior in the coalition government.

The Vientiane regime now wants to test Souvanna's ability to control his allies of the pro-Communist Pathet Lao led by his half-brother Prince Souphanouvong.

When the pro-Communist forces routed the Vientiane troops in northwest Laos last week, Souvanna ordered Souphanouvong to pull back his forces to the original cease-fire line. The rebels pushed on further to the Mekong River.

Souvanna was reported still hopeful of a settlement through diplomatic channels rather than on the battlefield.

While President Kennedy cut short a weekend at his country estate to confer with his military and diplomatic advisers in Washington, the two top leaders of the Vientiane government flew to Formosa on a goodwill mission.

Premier Boun Oum and Gen. Phoumi Nosavan, the strongman of his regime, did not let the trouble at home interfere with their swing around non-Communist Asian countries to enlist support.

American air, sea and land forces in the Pacific area were on the move with Washington reported waiting permission to land combat marines in Thailand, bordering embattled Laos.

Four Seek Nomination For Assemblyman

With the entrance of William P. Freese, Cairo, into the race for Republican nomination for Assemblyman from Greene County, the number of candidates has been increased to four. Freese said the interest being shown in the Republican race for the assembly post is "the best shot-in-the-arm the Republican party in Greene County has had in many years."

Beside Freese others who are seeking the nomination for the post to be vacated by Assemblyman William E. Brady, who has announced his intention to retire at the end of his term, are Under Sheriff Joseph Pavlak of Catskill, George Cobb of Catskill and Clarence Lane of Windham.

Kingston Schools To Close Tuesday For Teachers Day

All Kingston Schools Consolidated will be closed Tuesday in observance of Teachers Recognition Day.

The teachers will be entertained at a reception 3 p. m. tomorrow at Governor Clinton Hotel as part of the state-wide Teacher Recognition Day.

This special program was arranged by the Education Committee of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce and will be sponsored jointly by the Kingston Rotary Club, the Kingston Savings Bank, the Rondout Savings Bank, the Ulster County Savings Institution and the Junior League of Kingston.

Joseph Morgan a member of the Chamber's Education Committee is chairman of the special Teacher Recognition Day program.

Chamber manager Albert Kurdt will serve as master of ceremonies. Following the program refreshments will be served.

The Chamber of Commerce carries on several important activities of a public relations nature to bring the schools and the people served, closer together. Teacher Recognition Day is part of this program.

In releasing plans for this special program today Chairman Morgan suggested that all citizens make a special effort to show their appreciation to all teachers for the substantial contribution they make to the education of our youth and the future welfare of our country.

Hutcheson's Conviction Is Upheld by Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court affirmed today conviction of Maurice A. Hutcheson, president of the Carpenters Brotherhood, on a charge of contempt of Congress for refusal to answer questions asked by the Senate rackets investigating committee.

Justice Harlan announced the court's judgment. The tribunal's vote was 4-2.

Hutcheson was sentenced in U.S. District Court here to six months' imprisonment and fined $500.

He appeared before the committee in June 1958 but refused to answer 18 questions. He said they concerned personal matters and might aid in prosecution of an Indiana case against him.

In the Indiana case, Hutcheson and two other union official swere charged with conspiracy to brite a state official to get highway information that led to a quick $78,000 profit. He later was convicted at Indianapolis on highway land scandal charges. An appeal is pending.

Hutcheson did not invoke the Fifth Amendment guarantee against self-incrimination in refusing to answer the 18 questions. In his appeal to the Supreme Court he contended he had been denied due process of law as guaranteed by the Constitution.

NEW YORK (AP)—A nervous stock market fell sharply today under a heavy wave of selling and then steadied. The ticker tape ran 29 minutes late.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was down 2.50 at 233.60 with industrials off 3.60, rails off 1.000 and utilities off 1.40.

After a brief stay on the upside at the opening, the market reeled into its seventh consecutive session of decline.

As trading swelled, the tape's lage increased. It hadn't run so late since May 27, 1933, when it trailed transactions by 34 minutes.

Brokers said the market may be engaged in a selling climax, which, on heavy volume would technically signal a turnaround.

The market's nervousness, which has been evident since the government-steel industry battle over a price increase, was heightened by the ticklish situation in Laos, brokers said.

Losses of key stocks ranged from fractions to about $2. There were heavier losses among higher priced issues.

As the list steadied some losses were shaved and a few erased.

Discouraging business news included a sharp reduction in producers' estimate of 1962 steel production.

In the first two hours of trading 2.1 million shares changed hands, compared with 1.41 million in the like period Friday.

AT&T lost about 2 points in the generally lower utilities group.

Xerox lost about 4 points and Polaroid around 3 but they had fallen deeper earlier in the session.

Motors were off with General Motors down about a point.

Plattekill Girl Seriously Injured

An 18-year-old Plattekill girl was seriously injured Saturday in a two-car accident on Route 17-K at Union Avenue in Town of Newburgh. Miss Erma Mundo, Huckleberry Turnpike, Plattekill, was taken to St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh, suffering a fractured skull.

Miss Mundo was a passenger in a car driven by Miss Eileen Scott, 17, of Wallkill. The Scott car and one driven by Clarence Montanye, 42, of Route 17-M, Middletown, collided. Miss Scott received multiple lacerations of the body and was admitted to the hospital. Montanye suffered lacerations of the left hand and a leg injury and his son, Clifford, 18, had abrasions of the forehead.

Newburgh state police investigated.

State Visit Is Cancelled Over Rejected Bill

MANILA (AP) — President Macapagal tonight postponed his state visit to the United States indefinitely because of the U. S. House of Representatives' rejection of a long-pending Philippine war damage bill.

Macapagal, in a nationwide radio television address, said "while reiterating my gratitude for the invitation that the American president so kindly extended to me, it is with deep regret that I am constrained to postpone the date of the visit."

The president put off the visit —scheduled for next month—"until such time as the circumstances will permit me to go on a state visit, which would be most pleasant, because it would be acceptable to our people."

Macapagal explained that "the feeling of resentment among our people and the attitude of the Congress of the United States negate the atmosphere of good will upon which my visit to the United States was predicted.

"I feel that our people would never understand how, under the circumstances at this time, I could go to the United States and dwell on the subject of good will. At this present moment, the word will sound empty."

Motorist Held In Jail on Drunk Driving Charges

Morris Schmartz, 30, of 29 State Street, Hackensack, N. J., arrested by state police Sunday for driving while intoxicated, appeared before Town of Ulster Justice of the Peace Robert Stedge, who committed him to Ulster County Jail in lieu of $250 bail; pending hearing at 2 p. m. today.

Trooper John F. Salters said Schmartz refused to take a blood test at the time of his arrest. Schmartz also faces unregistered motor vehicle and no insurance charges, troopers said. Although a legal resident of Hackensack, N.J., Schmartz had a temporary Indiana driving permit, troopers said.

Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, first commissioner of baseball, died on Nov. 25, 1944.

Stock Market Is Not Glorified Pari Mutual

Q) "I have been playing the stock market over a period of 10 years and have never made any money from my purchases. I recently bought General Time and U.S. Industries. Are they sound stocks? If not please recommend just one good issue that I might buy for capital gains." C.M.

A) Your experience is by no means unique. I assure you that very few people who play the market as if it were a glorified pari mutuel ever wound up as heavy winners. Bear in mind that whenever you buy a stock for a fast turn, someone else is selling it, and just often the "someone else" is a highly skilled professional.

The best way I know of to make money in stocks is to buy good values and stay with your holdings for a reasonable period of time, sometimes for many years. Your two stocks bought recently are speculations, of course.

I like U.S. Industries, which I believe is developing a good earnings base. General Time has little appeal for me—there are too many uncertainties in this situation. I suggest that you sell it and buy Interstate Department Stores which has a fine growth outlook over the next two or three years at least.

Q) "Please tell me if we're on the right track for the future. We hold $5,000 in cash and Government bonds. In stocks, we own Gerber Products, Continental Can and American Heritage Life. We are looking for growth, since we're only in our 30's and have two children." S.R.

A) I think you're very definitely on the right track, and I congratulate you. Your Gerber and American Heritage should work out well for you. Continental Can is not a growth stock, since earnings have been in a fairly constant decline since 1956. The latter is a good, sound issue for income, but for your purpose I would rather hold Texaco. This is probably the best marketer in the oil business and has raised earnings and dividends constantly in recent years.

Making 2nd Try For Power to Break Filibuster

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate leaders make a second attempt today to get the two-thirds majority needed to break a Southern filibuster against the administration's voter literacy test bill.

If the debate-limitation move fails as expected, Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana plans to ask the Senate to put aside the civil rights measure and turn to other legislation.

The House has no major bills on its docket this week, but the Senate may plunge into a scrap over President Kennedy's $2.6-billion public works program soon after it disposes of the literacy bill.

However, Mansfield said he first may call up a House-passed bill to give Kennedy authority to make agreements with additional nations to curb textile imports.

The literacy bill was all but killed off last Wednesday when the Senate voted 53 to 43 against invoking its anti-filibuster rule and clamping a time limit on the debate that had begun two weeks earlier.

The failure to muster even a majority for debate-limitation was a stinging setback for the bill's backers, who contend that in some areas of the South registrars keep Negroes from voting by discriminatory administration of literacy tests.

The bill would exempt anyone with a 6th grade education from having to pass a state literacy test to qualify as a voter in congressional and presidential elections.

Two Injuries Are Reported in Car Mishaps Sunday

A woman was injured in a fall from a car on East Strand and a man walking on Flatbush Avenue reported injuries after another mishap Sunday morning.

Mildred Hart, 48, of 46 Valentine Avenue, police said suffered knee, hip and elbow injuries, when the door of a car came open as it was turning on East Strand near North Street, and she fell to the pavement. She was treated at the Benedictine Hospital. The car was driven by Michael Hart Jr., 54, of 46 Valentine Avenue. The mishap was reported to Lt. Charles Hoehing at police headquarters.

Louis Bruno, 67, of 349 Flatbush Avenue, suffered scalp, ear and elbow injuries, when he was involved in the Flatbush Avenue mishap while walking near East Chester Street. He was to be treated by a doctor. Officers Joseph Kivlan and Vincent Eckert, who investigated, said the car was driven by Jennie A. Caddy, 54, of 425 Hasbrouck Avenue.

Takes Oath as President

NEW DELHI (AP)—Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan, 74, took the oath Sunday as India's second president and called on her 475 million people to settle their differences over religion, language and other issues.

Radhakrishnan had served as vice president for 12 years. He was named to the figurehead presidency by parliament and the state legislatures after ailing Rajendra Prasad decided to retire.

Letter Defends Esopus Action on Ambulance Service

The unanimous decision of Esopus Town Board approving a contract with Fatum Ambulance Service, Kingston to provide emergency service for the township at a cost of $750 for the remainder of the year was defended this week in an open letter to post card criticism mailed to the board.

Supervisor Roger W. Mabie forwarded a copy of the following letter of explanation to those who sent post cards criticizing the action. The letter follows:

Presented to Board

"Your post cards of April 19 addressed to me, criticizing the action of the Town Board in entering into a contract to provide emergency ambulance service for the township, have been presented to the Town Board.

"It is my belief that either you are unaware of some of the facts of the problem or possibly you may misunderstand them. It is because of this, and with the concurrence of the Town Board, that I am writing this letter in an effort to give you a better picture of what is involved.

"The nub of the problem is two fold. First, the Town of Esopus needs the service of an ambulance for emergency purposes on a round-the-clock basis. Second, apparently no one is able to provide this service and make money at it.

"In our town, for the past three years, there is not question that we have been very fortunate in having free ambulance service provided to the citizens of the Town of Esopus by Laura and Zale Liese. They have been very gracious to do this and I am sure the town is appreciative of this service and hopes that it will continue for many years. However, there are periods when this ambulance is not always available, due to the ambulance taking someone to New York or Albany, when a driver is not immediately available, or for various other reasons. During such a period, what would we do if there should be a multiple auto accident on Route 9W; if a child should be hit by a car on 9-W; if there should be an industrial accident at Hercules or Callanan's?

Board is Concerned

"It is the accident type of need with which we, the Town Board, are greatly concerned. Unfortunately, no one has control over when an accident will occur. If such an unfortunate event should happen, an ambulance—maybe even two of them—would be required in the quickest possible time, regardless of the time of day or night, or the day of the year. Emergency ambulance service is somewhat like a fire department. You don't need it except in an emergency, but when you do need it, you need it desperately.

"As far as the profitability of ambulance service is concerned, the point is academic except for the effect it has on availability of service. In this connection, it should be remembered that during the past 20 years area emergency ambulance service was successively provided before Fatum by Connor, Kingston Hospital, and Schultz Taxi. Each one gave it up because they suffered heavy losses in providing the service.

"Fatum originally got into the ambulance service only after no one else would provide the service and after a monetary agreement was worked out with the Common Council of the City of Kingston.

"The City of Kingston now pays Fatum $5,000 per year to guarantee emergency ambulance service on a 24-hour basis, every day in the year. The Towns of Esopus, Ulster and Hurley have now entered into like agreements with Fatum except for the monetary amounts involved. The towns are paying Fatum $750 in 1962 and $1,000 in 1963, providing, of course, the agreements should be renewed. In the Town of Esopus on a per capita basis, this amounts to 11 cents per person in 1962 and slightly less than 15 cents per person in 1963.

Suggest Referendum

On your card, you suggest the question of emergency ambulance service be put up to the voters on a referendum. This is not feasible on four counts.

"The timing, the legality, the cost, and the moral obligation of the Town Board to the people they represent.

"The timing—The Town Board was faced with a deadline that had been twice extended. If there could have been a referendum, the Town would have been without emergency ambulance service during the interim.

"The legality—The Town law does not provide for a referendum on a question such as this.

Cost Is High

"The cost—A referendum, even if permitted by law, would be expensive unless it coincided with primary day or the general election.

"A referendum would have to provide every voter with an opportunity to vote in each of the town's five election districts. The average cost of the general town elections for the past three years has been $1,783.20 per year.

"The moral obligation of the Town Board—It should be remembered that the five members of the Town Board are duly elected by their fellow citizens to administer the affairs of the town. If they were not considered responsible individuals, they never would have been elected in the first place. In carrying out their oath of office they are obligated to use their best judgement and to act in what they consider to be in the best interest of the town for the greatest number of its people. If every issue on which there might be a question were put up to a referendum, very little of importance would be accomplished.

"Three other points also should not be overlooked. First, the town has a contract with Fatum. A contract involves certain definite obligations on both parties. While it is in effect, it gives the town an opportunity to work something else out—if that something else should be more feasible or better meet the requirements of the town.

Not Final Solution

"Second, the Town Board does not necessarily feel that the Fatum service is the final answer to the problem, merely that it is the best solution at this time. In this connection, it should be pointed out that at the April meeting, Mr. Liese was asked if he would be willing to enter into a contract similar to the one being negotiated with Fatum. He replied that he would not as he did not want to get into the ambulance business.

"Third, the contract entered into with Fatum was not the result of a quick decision. It had been under discussion and intensive study for nearly three months. Every angle was thoroughly examined. It should be pointed out that the final decision was a unanimous one, agreed to by every member of the Town Board.

"In closing, I hhope this letter has given you some additional information on the problem. I would also like to make a plea. When a problem such as this, or any other concerning the Town comes up, don't hesitate to call me or a member of the Town Board. Please do this and get the facts rather than listen to someone who either doesn't have the facts or misrepresents them. All members of the Town Board are equally versed in the affairs of the Town and are delighted at any time to discuss them or any facet of them with you."

"The cost—A referendum, even if permitted by law, would be expensive unless it coincided with primary day or the general election.

"A referendum would have to provide every voter with an opportunity to vote in each of the town's five election districts. The average cost of the general town elections for the past three years has been $1,783.20 per year.

"The moral obligation of the Town Board—It should be remembered that the five members of the Town Board are duly elected by their fellow citizens to administer the affairs of the town. If they were not considered responsible individuals, they never would have been elected in the first place. In carrying out their oath of office they are obligated to use their best judgement and to act in what they consider to be in the best interest of the town for the greatest number of its people. If every issue on which there might be a question were put up to a referendum, very little of importance would be accomplished.

"Three other points also should not be overlooked. First, the town has a contract with Fatum. A contract involves certain definite obligations on both parties. While it is in effect, it gives the town an opportunity to work something else out—if that something else should be more feasible or better meet the requirements of the town.

Not Final Solution

"Second, the Town Board does not necessarily feel that the Fatum service is the final answer to the problem, merely that it is the best solution at this time. In this connection, it should be pointed out that at the April meeting, Mr. Liese was asked if he would be willing to enter into a contract similar to the one being negotiated with Fatum. He replied that he would not as he did not want to get into the ambulance business.

"Third, the contract entered into with Fatum was not the result of a quick decision. It had been under discussion and intensive study for nearly three months. Every angle was thoroughly examined. It should be pointed out that the final decision was a unanimous one, agreed to by every member of the Town Board.

"In closing, I hhope this letter has given you some additional information on the problem. I would also like to make a plea. When a problem such as this, or any other concerning the Town comes up, don't hesitate to call me or a member of the Town Board. Please do this and get the facts rather than listen to someone who either doesn't have the facts or misrepresents them. All members of the Town Board are equally versed in the affairs of the Town and are delighted at any time to discuss them or any facet of them with you."

Only the nail builds more homes in New York State than the Savings Banks

It's a fact. Your Savings Banks finance more New York State home building than all other banks in the state combined. They also help put new schools, parks, highways, playgrounds, and places of worship on the map. Your money builds in a Savings Bank, too. Remember, at a Savings Bank your money works only for you! P.S. Are all banks Savings Banks? No indeed. Savings Banks are "mutual" banks. This means that, beyond operating costs and reserves to protect your savings, all earnings go to you, the depositor. Start building your savings today, in a New York State Savings Bank.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Why would a film actress want to hide her marriage?

This question has puzzled Hollywood as it studies the case of Yvette Mimieux. She is one of the town's most promising young actresses. She also appears to be quite married.

She is reliably reported to have wed a psychology teacher named Evan Engber 2½ years ago. Yvette has refused to confirm or deny. This despite the fact that Engber visited her on Hawaiian locations for "Diamond Head" and frequently calls for her at Columbia Studios.

Reverse Gimmick?

There has been conjecture that her silence is a kind of reverse-publicity gimmick. Her mentor is the same canny chap who impelled Jayne Mansfield to acres of press clippings.

What does Yvette have to say about the whole thing?

"Apparently you are married," I offered as an opening gambit.

"Whether that is apparent or not is up to you," she said wide-eyed. "I can't help you with it."

But why all the secrecy about a matter which most people are happy to tell about?

"I feel very strongly about this," she said. "I have seen people in this town destroyed by living their lives in public. If it comes to the point where I have to do that, I'll quit acting. I hope I don't have to do that, because I love to act.

Points to Liz

"But more important than that is my self-respect, my own sense of dignity. If I can't preserve that, then all the rest doesn't mean anything."

Yvette opined that the Roman ruckus of Elizabeth Taylor confirmed her beliefs.

"It was so blown up by publicity," she said. "Or even if it did happen the way it appeared, it didn't deserve all that attention."

"People seem to want to hold the stars' mistakes up to the light as if to say, 'I'm not so bad after all; look what they did!' I think it's wrong to be put in that position, and I'm going to do everything I can to avoid it."

Young Generation Called Superior To Former Ones

CLINTON, N.Y. (AP) — The President of the Carnegie Corp. of New York says the present younger generation is more mature, dedicated, clearheaded and serious than any of its predecessors.

John W. Gardner, the foundation president, spoke Saturday at a convocation marking the 150th anniversary of the founding of Hamilton College.

Gardner, who received an honorary degree, said youth today is better equipped than any previous generations to deal with the problems of the nuclear age.

Honorary degrees also were awarded to Edward D. Stone, New York City Architect; William C. Murray, president of Munson-William-Proctor Institute, Utica, and Otis A. Thompson, president of National Bank and Trust Co., Norwich.

Can Hold One Going To Rescue

Other Decisions Made on Thursday

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The state's highest court, in a precedent-setting decision, held that a person can be charged with assault for entering a one-sided fight in the mistaken belief he is aiding the underdog.

The Court of Appeals, by a 5-2 margin, made the ruling Thursday. The question had not arisen before in New York State.

Exonerating a person from criminal liability in such cases "would not be conducive to an orderly society," the court said.

Other Decisions

In other decisions, the court:

1. Unanimously reversed the convictions of two former New York City detectives and a lawyer who allegedly attempted to extort money from a man under the threat that they would charge him with possession of marijuana.

2. Reversed the convictions of two men sentenced to death in the slaying of a man and woman in Orleans County in January, 1961.

3. Upheld the constitutionality of a 2½-month freeze on rent increases in New York City while jurisdiction over rent controls in the city was transferred from the state to the city governments.

Charges Reinstated

In its precedent-setting decision, the court reinstated charges against Gerald E. Young, 40, of Manhattan, a drug store delivery man, who had been charged with assaulting two policemen.

Young entered a street fight when he saw two white men in civilian clothes apparently beating a Nego youth, about 18. He learned shortly that the men were police officers, who said they had been arresting the boy for refusing to move out of a busy street when they ordered him to do so.

General Sessions Judge Benjamin Gassman sentenced Young to 6 days on the assault charge but suspended the sentence and told him that when he saw trouble he should "walk away from it. Don't get into it."

In His Favor Once

The Appellate Division, First Department, reversed the sentence on the ground that a person who intervened in a struggle under the mistaken but reasonable belief he was protecting another from an unlawful beating was exonerated from criminal liability.

The Court of Appeals said, however, "there can be no doubt that the defendant intended to assault the police officer in civilian dress ...motive or mistake of fact is of no significance as the defendant was not charged with a crime requiring such intent or knowledge..."

In its decision involving two former New York City detectives, the court ordered new trials for Philip J. Buckles and James Kelly, former members of the police narcotics squad, and Leonard Rosenfeld, a lawyer.

The court said it did not question the evidence that led to the convictions of the three men, but said that it could uphold the verdicts only by deciding "that the fundamentals of a fair trial need not be respected if there is truth ...to persuade us of defendant's guilt."

The court's decision was based primarily on a tape recording of an alleged conversation between Rosenfeld and Shimon Tamari, from whom the men were charged with attempting to extort money.

The trial judge refused to receive in evidence stenographic transcripts made from the recording because, he said, only one of the voices in the recording was clear.

The appeals court said "grave and unfair damage (was) ...done to the defendants by the (prosecutor's) constant suggestions to the jury that these suppressed spools contained strong evidence against the defendants."

In its ruling involving the Orleans County slaying, the court ordered new trials for Artemio Rodriguez, 22, and Rafael N. Carde, 20, who were convicted in the shooting of Jose Torres and Noreen Russell in the Town of Shelby.

The trial court erred in accepting in evidence statements by Carde that he had seen Rodriguez shoot and kill the couple, the court said.

The defendant should have been represented by counsel when being questioned because this statement was made after Carde had been brought before a peace justice for arraignment, the court held.

"The procedure...not only violated Carde's right to assistance of counsel but also infringed on his privilege against self-incrimination," the court said.

In its decision on New York City rents, the court held, 5-2, that a freeze on increases between Feb. 17, 1962, when the Legislature enacted the transfer legislation, and May 1, when the city's control began, was valid.

"Freezes and rollbacks of rent increases are...historically and constitutionally acceptable ... the relatively short 2½-month hold period ordered by the 1962 Legislature, pending transfer of control to the city, seems reasonably incidental to such a changeover," Chief Judge Charles S. Desmond wrote in the majority decision.

Woodstock Pony Club Mounted Rally Saturday

The next mounted rally of the Woodstock Pony Club will be held on May 19 at 12:30 on the grounds of the Woodstock Riding Club. The topics of Saturday's Rally will be tack and contact. Several competent members of the Southlands Pony Club will assist the Woodstock Instructors.

The first phase of the stable inspection has been completed. Mrs. Daniel Morehouse announced that the stable which received the highest score during this period was that of Karen and Kathy Larson with honorable mention going to Nina Wilson. The winner of the eight phases of the test will receive a perpetual plaque in January donated by Dr. Paul Le Paige.

Beginning in June the Woodstock Pony Club will hold a regular monthly rally every second Saturday. The meetings will begin at 12:30.

Guild of Craftsmen Exhibits in Kingston

An interesting exhibition of early and contemporary crafts, by the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen, is now on display in the lobby of the Kingston Savings Bank, 273 Wall Street, and will continue through May 24. The exhibition includes weaving, ceramics, metalwork, woodwork, enameling and glass. In the early 1800's, this area was the scene of much skilled handiwork, often created for purely functional rather than art purposes. In time, mass production absorbed the efforts of the skilled craftsman for needful purposes. However, the love of creating, so native to the artisan, survived, making this Woodstock and the Hudson Valley areas of today one of our richest sources for fine craftsmanship. Historians, collectors, craftsmen, students, as well as the public in general, will enjoy the present display.

Christian Science Service on Sunday

More meaningful goals are attained through spiritual enlightenment. This is a theme of the lesson-sermon "Mortals and Immortals" which will be heard Sunday in Christian Science churches.

Paul's admonition to the Colossians (3) will be among the Scriptual passages: "Set your affection on things above, not on things on the earth."

Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include (p. 256): "Advancing to a higher plane of action, thought rises from the material sense to the spiritual, from the scholasic to the inspirational, and from the mortal to the immortal."

Baptism at St. Ggegory's

Sunday, May 6, the Rev. Lloyd H. Uyeki, vicar of St. Gregory's Episcopal Church, administered the Sacrament of Holy Baptism to Michael Matthew Macak, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph William Macak of West Hurley. The little boy's Godparents were Hazel Martha Ventura and Lorenzo Ventura.

Uyekis Announce Son

The Rev. and Mrs. Lloyd H. Uyeki announce the birth of their first child, a son, born in Kingston Hospital, May 9. The baby is named James Velde Heroyuki and weight at birth was six pounds, 10 and a quarter ounces. Mother and child are progressing well.

Bishop's Visit

The Rev. Lloyd H. Uyeki, vicar of St. Gregory's Episcopal Church, reminds parishioners and friends of St. Gregory's that Wednesday, May 23, at eight o'clock in the evening, is the date for the visit of the Bishop of the Protestant Diocese, the Rt. Rev. Horace W. B. Donegan. The vicar hopes that all may be present to greet him. A reception in the parish house of the church will follow the service of administering the Sacrament of Holy Confimation to a group of adults and children.

Thinks About Herefords On Washington Lawn

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy says Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. has been trying for years to sell him Hereford cattle, and the President added he would be glad to raise livestock on the White House lawn.

Kennedy made the tongue-in-cheek remarks Saturday to a gathering of U.S. Agricultural attaches from around the world and representatives of about 40 livestock associations.

He was introduced by Roosevelt, a breeder of polled Herefords in Dutchess County, N.Y.

Charges Reinstated

In its precedent-setting decision, the court reinstated charges against Gerald E. Young, 40, of Manhattan, a drug store delivery man, who had been charged with assaulting two policemen.

Young entered a street fight when he saw two white men in civilian clothes apparently beating a Nego youth, about 18. He learned shortly that the men were police officers, who said they had been arresting the boy for refusing to move out of a busy street when they ordered him to do so.

General Sessions Judge Benjamin Gassman sentenced Young to 6 days on the assault charge but suspended the sentence and told him that when he saw trouble he should "walk away from it. Don't get into it."

In His Favor Once

The Appellate Division, First Department, reversed the sentence on the ground that a person who intervened in a struggle under the mistaken but reasonable belief he was protecting another from an unlawful beating was exonerated from criminal liability.

The Court of Appeals said, however, "there can be no doubt that the defendant intended to assault the police officer in civilian dress ...motive or mistake of fact is of no significance as the defendant was not charged with a crime requiring such intent or knowledge..."

In its decision involving two former New York City detectives, the court ordered new trials for Philip J. Buckles and James Kelly, former members of the police narcotics squad, and Leonard Rosenfeld, a lawyer.

The court said it did not question the evidence that led to the convictions of the three men, but said that it could uphold the verdicts only by deciding "that the fundamentals of a fair trial need not be respected if there is truth ...to persuade us of defendant's guilt."

The court's decision was based primarily on a tape recording of an alleged conversation between Rosenfeld and Shimon Tamari, from whom the men were charged with attempting to extort money.

The trial judge refused to receive in evidence stenographic transcripts made from the recording because, he said, only one of the voices in the recording was clear.

The appeals court said "grave and unfair damage (was) ...done to the defendants by the (prosecutor's) constant suggestions to the jury that these suppressed spools contained strong evidence against the defendants."

In its ruling involving the Orleans County slaying, the court ordered new trials for Artemio Rodriguez, 22, and Rafael N. Carde, 20, who were convicted in the shooting of Jose Torres and Noreen Russell in the Town of Shelby.

The trial court erred in accepting in evidence statements by Carde that he had seen Rodriguez shoot and kill the couple, the court said.

The defendant should have been represented by counsel when being questioned because this statement was made after Carde had been brought before a peace justice for arraignment, the court held.

"The procedure...not only violated Carde's right to assistance of counsel but also infringed on his privilege against self-incrimination," the court said.

In its decision on New York City rents, the court held, 5-2, that a freeze on increases between Feb. 17, 1962, when the Legislature enacted the transfer legislation, and May 1, when the city's control began, was valid.

"Freezes and rollbacks of rent increases are...historically and constitutionally acceptable ... the relatively short 2½-month hold period ordered by the 1962 Legislature, pending transfer of control to the city, seems reasonably incidental to such a changeover," Chief Judge Charles S. Desmond wrote in the majority decision.

Young Generation Called Superior To Former Ones

CLINTON, N.Y. (AP) — The President of the Carnegie Corp. of New York says the present younger generation is more mature, dedicated, clearheaded and serious than any of its predecessors.

John W. Gardner, the foundation president, spoke Saturday at a convocation marking the 150th anniversary of the founding of Hamilton College.

Gardner, who received an honorary degree, said youth today is better equipped than any previous generations to deal with the problems of the nuclear age.

Honorary degrees also were awarded to Edward D. Stone, New York City Architect; William C. Murray, president of Munson-William-Proctor Institute, Utica, and Otis A. Thompson, president of National Bank and Trust Co., Norwich.

Woodstock Pony Club Mounted Rally Saturday

The next mounted rally of the Woodstock Pony Club will be held on May 19 at 12:30 on the grounds of the Woodstock Riding Club. The topics of Saturday's Rally will be tack and contact. Several competent members of the Southlands Pony Club will assist the Woodstock Instructors.

The first phase of the stable inspection has been completed. Mrs. Daniel Morehouse announced that the stable which received the highest score during this period was that of Karen and Kathy Larson with honorable mention going to Nina Wilson. The winner of the eight phases of the test will receive a perpetual plaque in January donated by Dr. Paul Le Paige.

Beginning in June the Woodstock Pony Club will hold a regular monthly rally every second Saturday. The meetings will begin at 12:30.

Guild of Craftsmen Exhibits in Kingston

An interesting exhibition of early and contemporary crafts, by the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen, is now on display in the lobby of the Kingston Savings Bank, 273 Wall Street, and will continue through May 24. The exhibition includes weaving, ceramics, metalwork, woodwork, enameling and glass. In the early 1800's, this area was the scene of much skilled handiwork, often created for purely functional rather than art purposes. In time, mass production absorbed the efforts of the skilled craftsman for needful purposes. However, the love of creating, so native to the artisan, survived, making this Woodstock and the Hudson Valley areas of today one of our richest sources for fine craftsmanship. Historians, collectors, craftsmen, students, as well as the public in general, will enjoy the present display.

Christian Science Service on Sunday

More meaningful goals are attained through spiritual enlightenment. This is a theme of the lesson-sermon "Mortals and Immortals" which will be heard Sunday in Christian Science churches.

Paul's admonition to the Colossians (3) will be among the Scriptual passages: "Set your affection on things above, not on things on the earth."

Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include (p. 256): "Advancing to a higher plane of action, thought rises from the material sense to the spiritual, from the scholasic to the inspirational, and from the mortal to the immortal."

Baptism at St. Ggegory's

Sunday, May 6, the Rev. Lloyd H. Uyeki, vicar of St. Gregory's Episcopal Church, administered the Sacrament of Holy Baptism to Michael Matthew Macak, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph William Macak of West Hurley. The little boy's Godparents were Hazel Martha Ventura and Lorenzo Ventura.

Uyekis Announce Son

The Rev. and Mrs. Lloyd H. Uyeki announce the birth of their first child, a son, born in Kingston Hospital, May 9. The baby is named James Velde Heroyuki and weight at birth was six pounds, 10 and a quarter ounces. Mother and child are progressing well.

Bishop's Visit

The Rev. Lloyd H. Uyeki, vicar of St. Gregory's Episcopal Church, reminds parishioners and friends of St. Gregory's that Wednesday, May 23, at eight o'clock in the evening, is the date for the visit of the Bishop of the Protestant Diocese, the Rt. Rev. Horace W. B. Donegan. The vicar hopes that all may be present to greet him. A reception in the parish house of the church will follow the service of administering the Sacrament of Holy Confimation to a group of adults and children.

Thinks About Herefords On Washington Lawn

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy says Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. has been trying for years to sell him Hereford cattle, and the President added he would be glad to raise livestock on the White House lawn.

Kennedy made the tongue-in-cheek remarks Saturday to a gathering of U.S. Agricultural attaches from around the world and representatives of about 40 livestock associations.

He was introduced by Roosevelt, a breeder of polled Herefords in Dutchess County, N.Y.

GIFTS FOR THEIR INSTRUCTORS

Q: One of the schools in our city is giving a course in self-defense. I am one of a group of women who is taking this course. Our instructors (four) are volunteers who work hard and spend many hours with us. We would like very much to buy them each a gift and had decided on shirts, but one of the women is objecting on the grounds that it is too personal and would be in very bad taste. Most of us feel that as we will be giving these shirts as a group, thus making it an impersonal gesture, it would be quite all right. Will you please give us your opinion, and if you do not approve, can you suggest something else that we might give?

A: I agree that to give shirts to these men will be in bad taste.. To those of them who smoke, pocket lighters would be proper and most probably welcomed gifts. To the non-smokers, you could give fountain pens or wallets or key rings.

Welcoming Her Daughter's Fiance

Q: My daughter is to receive her engagement ring next week and I would like to know what, if anything, I should say to her fiance when this takes place. Do I intend to give my daughter a set of sterling flatware and would like to know if it should be marked with her maiden initials or the initial of her future husband?

A: You do not congratulate your daughter's fiance. You simply admire the ring and show some affection to him such as welcoming him into your family with a kiss. It is more practical to have the silver marked with the initials that will be hers rather than the ones she will soon be relinquishing.

Sauce in Small Paper Cups

Q: When tartar sauce

Q: When tartar sauce is served in a small paper container on the plate with fish, how should this be eaten?

A: You either take a small portion on your fork from the cup and put it on each bite of the fish or, if you prefer, you can empty the contents out at one time on your plate beside the fish.

JULIE FONDINO

Four additional Ulster County young ladies will be among nearly 20 who will vie for the title of Page One Queen of the Kingston area newsmen Wednesday, May 23, 7 p. m., at Governor Clinton Hotel.

The three finalists will be chosen and the winner named from among the three will be crowned Page One Queen of 1962 at the Page One Ball of Kingston Newspaper Guild Saturday, May 26 at the hotel. Only a few more days are left for those wishing to enter the contest. Mrs. Betty Saban is committee chairman.

In addition to a weekend in New York City, the winner will receive a silver loving cup, a sterling silver charm bracelet, a U. S. Savings Bond and many other gifts donated by local merchants.

The latest contestants are as follows:

Beverly Pine of RD 4, Box 243, Kingston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Pine. She is a graduate of Kingston High School and Albany Business College where she was chosen Snow Ball Queen.

An employe of P. Ballantine & Sons, Tillson, she is a member of the Trail Sweepers Ski Club and is actively interested in horseback riding, swimming and sewing. During her high school days, she was a member of the May court and one of the Community Chest Red Feather Girls.

Linda Ann Gleason of RD 1, Box 181, Kingston, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Gleason and is a senior at Kingston High where she is a member of the Student Council, Gym Club, Art Club, Prsma and Library Council. She is interested in modeling and beauty culture. The 18-year-old brunette won awards for art and physical fitness.

Julie Fondino, 16, is the daughter of Angelo Fondino Sr., of Glasco. A junior in Saugerties High School, she is interested in dancing, roller skating and singing. An honor student in school, she holds several offices in various classes.

Linda Louise Lambert is the 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Lambert of Esopus and attends Kingston High where she was named maid of honor of the KHS May Day Court. At school she belongs to Prisma, Student Council, Library and Radio Clubs. She is also a member of the Catholic Youth Organization.

She is interested in hair styling and enjoys playing records and dancing.

To be eligible, girls must be residents of Ulster County, single and between 16 and 24 years of age. The winners will be chosen on the basis of poise and personality as well as beauty. There is no judging in swim suits.

Contestants may submit the following to Mrs. Saban, Kingston Newspaper Guild, Rondout Post Office Box 153, Kingston: Name, address, telephone number, parent's names and address, date of birth, schools attended, activities, interests, honors, hobbies and other pertinent details.

Proceeds of the dinner-dance, sponsored annually by the working press of the Kingston area, will provide funds for a journalism scholarship to be awarded to a deserving Ulster County high school senior. Proceeds also will be used for a children's vacation fund to send five deserving youngsters to the YMCA Day Camp at Shokan for two weeks.

Four additional Ulster County young ladies will be among nearly 20 who will vie for the title of Page One Queen of the Kingston area newsmen Wednesday, May 23, 7 p. m., at Governor Clinton Hotel.

The three finalists will be chosen and the winner named from among the three will be crowned Page One Queen of 1962 at the Page One Ball of Kingston Newspaper Guild Saturday, May 26 at the hotel. Only a few more days are left for those wishing to enter the contest. Mrs. Betty Saban is committee chairman.

In addition to a weekend in New York City, the winner will receive a silver loving cup, a sterling silver charm bracelet, a U. S. Savings Bond and many other gifts donated by local merchants.

The latest contestants are as follows:

Beverly Pine of RD 4, Box 243, Kingston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Pine. She is a graduate of Kingston High School and Albany Business College where she was chosen Snow Ball Queen.

An employe of P. Ballantine & Sons, Tillson, she is a member of the Trail Sweepers Ski Club and is actively interested in horseback riding, swimming and sewing. During her high school days, she was a member of the May court and one of the Community Chest Red Feather Girls.

Linda Ann Gleason of RD 1, Box 181, Kingston, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Gleason and is a senior at Kingston High where she is a member of the Student Council, Gym Club, Art Club, Prsma and Library Council. She is interested in modeling and beauty culture. The 18-year-old brunette won awards for art and physical fitness.

Julie Fondino, 16, is the daughter of Angelo Fondino Sr., of Glasco. A junior in Saugerties High School, she is interested in dancing, roller skating and singing. An honor student in school, she holds several offices in various classes.

Linda Louise Lambert is the 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Lambert of Esopus and attends Kingston High where she was named maid of honor of the KHS May Day Court. At school she belongs to Prisma, Student Council, Library and Radio Clubs. She is also a member of the Catholic Youth Organization.

She is interested in hair styling and enjoys playing records and dancing.

To be eligible, girls must be residents of Ulster County, single and between 16 and 24 years of age. The winners will be chosen on the basis of poise and personality as well as beauty. There is no judging in swim suits.

Contestants may submit the following to Mrs. Saban, Kingston Newspaper Guild, Rondout Post Office Box 153, Kingston: Name, address, telephone number, parent's names and address, date of birth, schools attended, activities, interests, honors, hobbies and other pertinent details.

Proceeds of the dinner-dance, sponsored annually by the working press of the Kingston area, will provide funds for a journalism scholarship to be awarded to a deserving Ulster County high school senior. Proceeds also will be used for a children's vacation fund to send five deserving youngsters to the YMCA Day Camp at Shokan for two weeks.

Court Santa Maria Elects New Slate Of Officers, Trustees

Court Santa Maria No. 164, Catholic Daughters of America held a regular monthly meeting Thursday evening at 14 Henry Street with Miss Joan L. Woinoski, grand regent, presiding.

Mrs. Walter Fallon reported on the annual communion breakfast which was held Sunday, May 6. She thanked the members of her committee for all their assistance which made the breakfast the success it was.

Mrs. Thomas Provenzano announced that the merchandise ordered by the members has arrived. Members should contact her as soon as possible.

Miss Helen Van Steenbergh reported on the linen chest, Mrs. Margaret Mitchell and Mrs. Kathryn Liscom gave reports on the socials and paper drive respectively.

Four additional members were accepted into the Court. They are the Mmes. Ann Sangaline, Marie Leahy, Sue Benicase, Helen Evans. These members total 25 new candidates who will be received into the Court on May 24. One of the goals of the 50th anniversary year was to receive 50 new members during the year. At the next reception in the fall it is expected to accept the second half of the goal.

A slate of officers was presented to the Court by the nomination committee of which Mrs. Kathryn Liscom was chairman.

The newly elected slate of officers include Mrs. Walter Fallon, grand regent; Mrs. Helen Schatzel, vice grand regent; Mrs. Margaret Mitchell, prophetess; Mrs. Andrew Grier, financial secretary; Miss Alice Krom, historian; Mrs. Charles Hoehing, treasurer; Miss Helen VanSteenbergh, monitor; Miss Laura Albrecht, sentinel; Mrs. Loretta Peskie, lecturer; Mrs. Kathryn Liscom, organist. Two trustees who were elected for a three year period are Mrs. Robert Hayes and Miss Elizabeth McDonough. All officers and trustees were unanimously elected by the Court.

Miss Laura Albrecht will represent the Court as delegate to the annual convention which is being held at Rochester on May 20 to May 24.

Definite arrangements for initiation and installation of officers will be announced.

Mrs. Louis Spada and her committee served refreshments.

The next monthly meeting will be held on June 14.

ST. FRANCES CABRINI SOCIETY—Members of the St. Frances Cabrini Society of East Kingston had their annual communion breakfast on Sunday, May 13. Breakfast was served at Tommy's Restaurant. Seated at the speakers' table were (l-r) Dominic Tiano, president; Joseph Hill, guest speaker; Charles Saccoman, master of ceremonies; and Miss Teresa Tiano, treasurer. (Freeman photo)

COMMUNITY SERVICE AWARDS

Time is growing short for groups who wish to enter the 11th Annual Community Service Awards Contest sponsored by the Women's Division of the New York State Exposition. Applications are due on or before Friday, June 29, 1962, according to Mrs. Helen B. Vandervort, Women's Director.

The contest is open to all women's clubs, groups and organizations in the Empire State who are involved in the area of community betterment.

The 1962 Exposition opens Tuesday, August 28 for seven days and nights.

The system of awarding prizes has been changed this year, Mrs. Vandervort said, so that now each organization entering will be competing directly with every other entrant for the top prizes.

In previous years there had been four separate divisions with first, second and third prize for each. Now, all prizes have been consolidated into three larger awards of $500 second and $100 third, Mrs. Vandervort said.

Eligibility in the contest is open to any active women's group, club or organization in New York State whose unpaid efforts have resulted in current achievements of outstanding civic usefulness. Mrs. Vandervort said the group need not be a formal organization and that there are no restrictions on size.

She continued that winners of a cash award in recent years may re-enter but the project must be entirely new.

The Women's Division director also noted the addition of a teenage girls' division to the Community Service Awards Contest for the first time this year. Organizations whose members are girls between the ages of 14 and 18 are eligible for first prize of $200 or second prize of $100.

Mrs. J. Edwin Yarwood, chairman of the Community Service Awards Contest, said entries will be judged and winners announced in Rochester prior to the opening of the Exposition.

Awards will be presented at the Women's Day Program, August 29 at the Harriet May Mills Building.

A participation certificate will be given to each organization entering the contest, Mrs. Yarwood noted.

Further information can be obtained by writing to Mrs. Helen B. Vandervort, Director, Women's Division, New York State Exposition, Syracuse 9, New York.

Rocket Reported Success

REDLANDS, Calif. (AP)—The largest solid fuel rocket engine ever built by the United States is considered a success by officials.

It contains many features to be used in future moon rockets.

The engine—called an applied research motor—burned out its capacity of 160,000 pounds of solid propellant in 130 seconds with a mighty roar of flames in a test Saturday.

Lockheed Propulsion Co., builder of the engine, said it was capable of producing 400,000 pounds of thrust.

Reds Shell Matsu

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The Chinese Communists shelled the Matsu Islands Sunday for the first time in almost 19 months, the Nationalist Defense Ministry reported.

The ministry said the Communists fired 22 rounds at the little islands at the northern end of the Formosa Strait.

It did not disclose whether the defenders replied to the attack, but the Nationalist policy has been to ignore minor shellings.

275 Protest Ouster

NEW YORK (AP)—The ouster of the Rev. Dr. Stuart Hamilton Merriam as minister of the Broadway Presbyterian Church led Sunday to a protest by 275 persons who walked out of morning worship.

The supporters of Dr. Merriam filed to the downstairs auditorium, where a prayer service was held.

The 125 persons who remained in the church proper heard an indictment of Dr. Merriam's ministry by the Rev. Graydon E. McClellan, chief administrative officer of the Presbytery of New York.

The meeting was held at the Huguenot Grange hall in New Paltz May 9. The meeting was attended by State Deputy Charles T. Everett and State Juvenile Deputy Beatrice K. Everett also Pomona Grange Master, Jack Nace along with several other officers and members of the county grange. Election of officers took place and those elected for the ensuing year were as follows: Virgil Ronk of Huguenot Grange in New Paltz, President; Joseph Bowman of Highland Grange, Vice President, and Miss Judy Schrieber of Huguenot Grange in New Paltz, Secretary. Two county grange masters were present, Joseph Bowman of Highland Grange and Ralph Westphal of Asbury Grange in addition to five other Pomona Grange officers. A model Grange was demonstrated and a lengthy discussion was held on securing new members. Miss Kathy Lewis asked for opinions on "What constitutes a good lecturers program." Miss Lewis is County Pomona Grange Lecturer. The next regular meeting will be held at the Highland Grange hall Wednesday, Aug. 8.

Highland 888

The next regular meeting will be held at the Grange Hall Tuesday, May 15 at 8 p. m. with Worthy Master Joseph Bowman, presiding. Nineteen members of Highland Grange were present at the annual Visitation Night program held at the Mt. Tremper Grange hall May 7. Worthy Lecturer Mrs. Virginia Decker presented a program on the subject of "Religion" opening with the Lord's Prayer sung by the full assemblage followed by several readings and a candlelight service and a talk about religion in the grange. Members who participated were Mrs. Mabel Schoonmaker, Mrs. M. Swinbourne, Mrs. Florence Loos, Miss Barbara Iorio, Edward Hecht, Joseph Bowman, Mrs. M. Kisor, David Decker. A portion supper will be served at the local grange hall Saturday, May 12 followed by a dance with music furnished by the Catskill Mountaincers.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Lloyd Methodist Church will serve a portion supper Saturday at the church hall starting at 5:30 p. m.

Greek Princess Weds Spaniard

By PHIL DOPOULOS

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—Prince Juan Carlos of Spain and Princess Sophie of Greece were married today in two religious ceremonies as tens of thousands of Greeks cheered.

The dashing prince, groomed by Generalissimo Francisco Franco to occupy the long vacant Spanish throne, first married the daughter of Greece's rulers in his own faith at the Roman Catholic Cathdral of St. Denis.

They rode together through the streets to the royal palace, smiling and waving to the cheering throngs. Then they separated and were driven to the Greek Orthodox Cathdral for the Orthodox ceremony require dby Greek law and Sophie's faith.

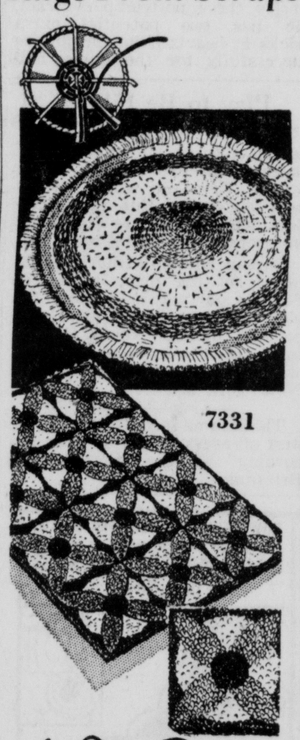

Pope John XXIII gave special approval of the Roman-Orthodox union after the princess pledged to bring up her children in her husband's faith.

Getting Data Sought

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman Glenn T. Seaborg of the Atomic Energy Commission says indications are the government is getting the information it sought in the current series of nuclear tests in the skies over the Pacific.

Except for this remark Seaborg was as tight-lipped Sunday on a recorded television interview with Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., as the government has been in announcing firing of the tests.

Greek Princess Weds Spaniard

By PHIL DOPOULOS

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—Prince Juan Carlos of Spain and Princess Sophie of Greece were married today in two religious ceremonies as tens of thousands of Greeks cheered.

The dashing prince, groomed by Generalissimo Francisco Franco to occupy the long vacant Spanish throne, first married the daughter of Greece's rulers in his own faith at the Roman Catholic Cathdral of St. Denis.

They rode together through the streets to the royal palace, smiling and waving to the cheering throngs. Then they separated and were driven to the Greek Orthodox Cathdral for the Orthodox ceremony require dby Greek law and Sophie's faith.

Pope John XXIII gave special approval of the Roman-Orthodox union after the princess pledged to bring up her children in her husband's faith.

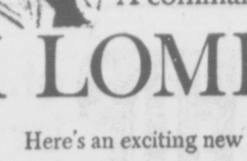

Getting Data Sought

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman Glenn T. Seaborg of the Atomic Energy Commission says indications are the government is getting the information it sought in the current series of nuclear tests in the skies over the Pacific.

Except for this remark Seaborg was as tight-lipped Sunday on a recorded television interview with Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., as the government has been in announcing firing of the tests.

Insurance — Many World War II veterans and some Korean veterans still hold five-year level premium term National Service Life Insurance policies. The premium on this type of policy increases as the policyholder gets older. Veterans with term policies may convert to another plan of government insurance. Permanent policies have higher premiums but the permanent plan rate, unlike the rate on term insurance which increases every five years, remains the same for the life of the policy. Moreover, permanent plans have a cash value and, therefore, a loan value which enables a policyholder to borrow on his policy if he needs it. There are six types of permanent plan National Service Life Insurance policies: ordinary life, 30 pay life, 20 pay life, endowment at age 65, endowment at age 60, and 20 year endowment. Complete information and assistance in applying for government insurance conversion may be obtained from this agency.

G. I. Bill — A person whose only period of military duty was served in the New York National Guard without any federally recognized active service during a period of war as defined by Veterans Administration regulations is not eligible for loan or education and training benefits under either the World War II or Korean G. I. bills. Persons who served only in the New York State Guard are not eligible for any benefits administered by the VA.

Questions about the rights and benefits of veterans, servicemen or their dependents may be submitted for individual attention to the New York State Division of Veterans Affairs and the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency at 32 Main Street, Kingston, N. Y.

Allot $140,089 To Subdivisions Of Ulster County

ALBANY — State Comptroller Arthur Levitt today announced the distribution of $11,741,696.11 — a total of $140,089.96 to Ulster County — as per capita assistance to the cities, towns and villages of the state.

This payment is the first quarterly installment in the state's 1962-63 fiscal year.

The checks were mailed to the fiscal officers of the state's 61 cities, 550 village and 932 towns.

Unlike other types of state aid, which are granted for a specific purpose (such as education, highways and health) the per capita aid can be used for any general municipal purpose.

This payment is allocated to the local units of government on a per capita basis. Each city receives annually the sum of $6.75 times the amount of its population, towns receive $3.55 for each inhabitant, and villages $3.00 for each inhabitant.

Guard Contract Without Risk

In planning your play at no-trump the first step is to count the sure tricks. The next step is to look around for enough additional tricks to insure making the contract. After that you can and should think about overtricks, but not before.

South can count two hearts, three diamonds and two clubs for a total of seven sure tricks at his three no-trump contract. He has two potential extra tricks in hearts if he can finesse successfully for the queen and break the suit. He may also gain an extra trick in clubs in the finesse for that queen works. But finesses don't always work and if South looks further he can find two sure tricks in the spade suit.

All he must do is to lead spades twice. The defense will take the ace and king, whereupon South will wrap up those two needed tricks in spades.

Can anything bad happen to South while he is setting up those two spades? No! He still has two stoppers in each of the other suits and has plenty of time.

What about the finesses? He can try them later if he wishes, but his first job is to make sure of his contract.

Play to Be Filmed

NEW YORK (AP) — Henry Fonda is to be star and coproducer of the firm version of "A Gift of Time," in which he has been appearing this season on Broadway. Olivia de Havilland will repeat her stage role.

Garson Kanin, author and director of the play, is to be Fonda's partner in making the picture. Location scenes are to be shot during August in the south of France and interiors will be filmed subsequently in a New York studio.

Insurance — Many World War II veterans and some Korean veterans still hold five-year level premium term National Service Life insurance policies. The premium on this type of policy increases as the policyholder gets older. Veterans with term policies may convert to another plan of government insurance. Permanent policies have higher premiums but the permanent plan rate, unlike the rate on term insurance which increases every five years, remains the same for the life of the policy. Moreover, permanent plans have a cash value and, therefore, a loan value which enables a policyholder to borrow on his policy if he needs it. There are six types of permanent plan National Service Life insurance policies: ordinary life, 30 pay life, 20 pay life, endowment at age 65, endowment at age 60, and 20 year endowment. Complete information and assistance in applying for government insurance conversion may be obtained from this agency.

G. I. Bill — A person whose only period of military duty was served in the New York National Guard without any federally recognized active service during a period of war as defined by Veterans Administration regulations is not eligible for loan or education and training benefits under either the World War II or Korean G. I. bills. Persons who served only in the New York State Guard are not eligible for any benefits administered by the VA.

Questions about the rights and benefits of veterans, servicemen or their dependents may be submitted for individual attention to the New York State Division of Veterans Affairs and the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency at 32 Main Street, Kingston, N. Y.

Allot $140,089 To Subdivisions Of Ulster County

ALBANY — State Comptroller Arthur Levitt today announced the distribution of $11,741,696.11 — a total of $140,089.96 to Ulster County — as per capita assistance to the cities, towns and villages of the state.

This payment is the first quarterly installment in the state's 1962-63 fiscal year.

The checks were mailed to the fiscal officers of the state's 61 cities, 550 village and 932 towns.

Unlike other types of state aid, which are granted for a specific purpose (such as education, highways and health) the per capita aid can be used for any general municipal purpose.

This payment is allocated to the local units of government on a per capita basis. Each city receives annually the sum of $6.75 times the amount of its population, towns receive $3.55 for each inhabitant, and villages $3.00 for each inhabitant.

In planning your play at no-trump the first step is to count the sure tricks. The next step is to look around for enough additional tricks to insure making the contract. After that you can and should think about overtricks, but not before.

South can count two hearts, three diamonds and two clubs for a total of seven sure tricks at his three no-trump contract. He has two potential extra tricks in hearts if he can finesse successfully for the queen and break the suit. He may also gain an extra trick in clubs in the finesse for that queen works. But finesses don't always work and if South looks further he can find two sure tricks in the spade suit.

All he must do is to lead spades twice. The defense will take the ace and king, whereupon South will wrap up those two needed tricks in spades.

Can anything bad happen to South while he is setting up those two spades? No! He still has two stoppers in each of the other suits and has plenty of time.

What about the finesses? He can try them later if he wishes, but his first job is to make sure of his contract.

Play to Be Filmed

NEW YORK (AP) — Henry Fonda is to be star and coproducer of the firm version of "A Gift of Time," in which he has been appearing this season on Broadway. Olivia de Havilland will repeat her stage role.

Garson Kanin, author and director of the play, is to be Fonda's partner in making the picture. Location scenes are to be shot during August in the south of France and interiors will be filmed subsequently in a New York studio.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

Going back to June 11, 1903 I found a write up in the Kingston Weekly Freeman on the Mary Powell. It seems a 1903 commerce number of the Nautical Gazette had a write up and pictures on three of the most popular passenger steamers on the Hudson river at the time. They were, the New York, Albany and Mary Powell. Freight was not carried on them, and they were all tastefully, elegantly and scrupuously clean for the comfort and pleasure of the passengers.

They say that the Mary Powell was added to the Hudson River Day Lines fleet that year and then was known as perhaps the best loved steamboat in the world. She was then the last of the old style Hudson river steamboats and perhaps the handsomest vessel afloat. She was considered smaller than the New York and Albany, being but 298 feet long and of a tonnage of 983 gross and 877 net. She was known to run more economically than the big boats and known as a very fast boat. They also tell about Frank E. Kirby, the most noted steamboat architect in the world at that time and working on a new boat for our river.

I see an item in the May 21, 1903 issue that the people of Stone Ridge feared the May 1 frost killed their peach crop which would have been the largest in the history of the orchards.

They tell about an excursion to Albany by steamer Mary Powell which left Kingston Point about 10 a. m. Friday. There were about 1,800 passengers from Middletown and Port Jervis. They filled 22 coaches. The two sections of the excursion train were run from Higginsville over the Ulster and Delaware tracks to Kingston Point according to the May 21, 1903 paper.

An item from the Saugerties Post of May 1903: "Dr. Diedling went to Kingston Thursday in his "auto" in 35 minutes. He went so fast that he lost the backboard of the machine." May 28, 1903 the first home grown strawberries arrived in town and were received by Fred Holstein, the Strand commission dealer. The berries were picked by George House of Esopus. . . Dr. Josiah Hasbrouck of Port Ewen left for New York at noon on the West Shore. He met his brother, Judge G.D.B. Hasbrouck, at the Hoffman House in the morning, and they sailed for Liverpool.

More from Port Ewen above date. "The horse of George Wachmeyer of the Crispell Drug Co. was tied to a hitching post on Broadway near the home of J. L. Neise. The bridle came off and the horse ran away until stopped on Stout Avenue by Lyman Ellsworth after it ran several blocks, doing considerable damage to the buggy, which was upset. The shafts and wheels were broken. It was wired together and taken to Rondout for repairs.

Another item from Port Ewen, same date: "Burgevin's sons, the Kingston florists have greatly ornamented the lawns around the residence of William A. Vanderveer, corner of Broadway and Stout Avenue, by planting beds of flowers and placing two handsome urns full of flowers in front of the house. A beautiful fountain is playing nearly all the time, with gold fish swimming in the basin. The fine hedges and walks help to make it as lovely a place as can be found in the county."

Businessmen See JFK As Sincere In New Attitude

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

CHICAGO (AP) —Action, not talk, speaks loud to Chicago businessmen.

Most of the top executives interviewed in a survey of Midwestern thinking on government-business relations say they believe President Kennedy is sincere in his assurances he isn't antibusiness. But with few exceptions they qualify that at once by citing deeds and trends that bring them up short.

Others Take Action

"It's one thing to say the administration is not antibusiness," says Robert E. Brooker, who took over as president of Montgomery Ward last fall. "But that isn't very convincing if at the same time various federal agencies or departments are taking actions that harass business.

"Many restrictive rules keep popping up. The trouble is largely at a lower level than the presidency. Officials who are antibusiness and antibigness may make the rules and regulations."

Any trend toward more federal regulation must be halted, in the view of John E. Swearingen, president of Standard Oil Co. (Indiana). He thinks government is applying pointless regulatory brakes to business in many important ways.

"Business baiting has become too popular a sport," he contends.

As to government intervention in price policies—as in the recent case of a price boost attempt by steel companies, Swearingen holds that prices for oil products "must eventually be increased, if wages, materials and the other things we buy continue to increase —although I recognize that price increases have not been a popular subject in recent weeks."

Sign of Enmity

Another oil man, who asked not to be identified by name or company, was more emphatic: "Even before President Kennedy moved against the steel firms, there was every sign of enmity to big business as such among a small but powerful group in Washington bent on deciding what's best for business.

"These men were using all the forces of government they could to move against big business on several fronts, such as antitrust suits, or blocking merger."

He added: "Business should be left alone to work out its own problems."

Robert W. Galvin, president of Motorola, electronics and electric appliance firm in Franklin Park, Ill., thinks President Kennedy isn't antibusiness himself but is moving toward a new era in which one group of officials often accused of being antibusiness will decide what's right and best for the country.

"Private business, with its many cross currents of interest, can best set the course of the economy," Galvin contends.

Joseph L. Block, chairman of Inland Steel Co., which bucked the steel price hike, disagrees with some of the methods the administration is using in policing business and labor. But, unlike many of the others, he thinks the government has the right to set forth the national interest and advise both sides in strong terms as to what it thinks would be bad for the public in general. He adds that neither side is required under present laws, nor should be compelled, to accept the government's ideas.

Unanimously Opposed

Most of those interviewed said their talks with other executives in the Midwestern area showed an almost unanimous opposition to the methods the President used in fighting the steel price rise—even among those who thought the hike self would have been unwise.

The executives said they found the fear of a growing antibusiness trend spreading among their confreres, although only a few of these would say they thought the President insincere in his subsequent proffer of an olive branch.

MODENA — Wesleyan Service Guild met Tuesday evening at the home of Alice Lofink. Those attending were Edith Coy, Florence Hyatt, Marian Jensen, Eileen Riley, Roxcie Smith, Muriel Ward, Marie and Elinor Winters, Patricia Wager, Hilda Richardson, Mary Watson.

"The Parable of the Talents" was the topic of the Bible study period, with Marian Jensen, leader.

Plans were discussed for the buffet supper to be served Wednesday, July 11 at 6:30 p. m. in Hasbrouck Memorial Hall, in connection with the annual Modena Methodist Church fair.

All officers were reelected as follows: President, Marie Winters; vice president, Evelyn Abbott; secretary, Patricia Wager; treasurer, Eileen Riley.

The next meeting will be held Tuesday, June 12, at 7:30 p. m. at the home of Patricia Wager with Elinor Winters as assistant hostess.

Floyd Wells has returned from Kingston Hospital where he received treatment for injured hands, sustained in an accident in Gardiner Tuesday.

Norman Wuebber is the caretaker of Modena Rural Cemetery replacing William Hoffman, who has other employment.

Mrs. Jesse McHugh Jr., and children of Weedsport, are spending some time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd B. Wells.

Mrs. Jessie Johnston of New Paltz was a supper guest of Mrs. O. R. Smith and Miss Marguerite Smith on Tuesday evening.

Local fruit growers have received notice of a Twilight Fruit meeting to be held Monday 7 p. m. at Sanford Orchards, Route 208 north of Irelands Corners.

William Palmer, Ulster County Agricultural Agent, urges all fruit farmers to attend this important meeting, when a full program is planned on insect and disease control, as well as information on chemical thinning of fruit.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Art Carney, walking out of the usual black background into the spotlight for his hosting chores on Sunday night's NBC "Fads and Foibles," described the program as a "patchwork." "Jumble" would have been more apt.

It was another in what is fast becoming a tiresome series of clips from ancient movies showing early automobiles, Rudolph Valentino, the Charleston, suffragettes on the march and Woodrow Wilson throwing out the first baseball of the season.

For no particular reason NBC also added some tasteless film showing Elvis Presley in action, Marilyn Monroe and Whistler's mother, then saluted some states in song. In spite of the talents of Carney and comedienne Alice Ghostley, it was really a dismal effort. NBC is either going to have to find some new old film or get off its nostalgic kick.

"Yves Montand on Broadway," repeated by NBC Friday night after an airing earlier in the season on ABC, was one of the brightest, most engaging variety hours of the season. Montand is a continental-type charmer. The music was delightful and the dancing was fine. Montand had help from Polly Bergen and Bobby Van, but it was his show all the way.

The summer season already is pretty well along. Tonight, for example, there are two repeats on ABC, four repeats on CBS and three on NBC. "The Price Is Right" and "Pete and Gladys" are the only series with fresh shows on NBC and CBS.

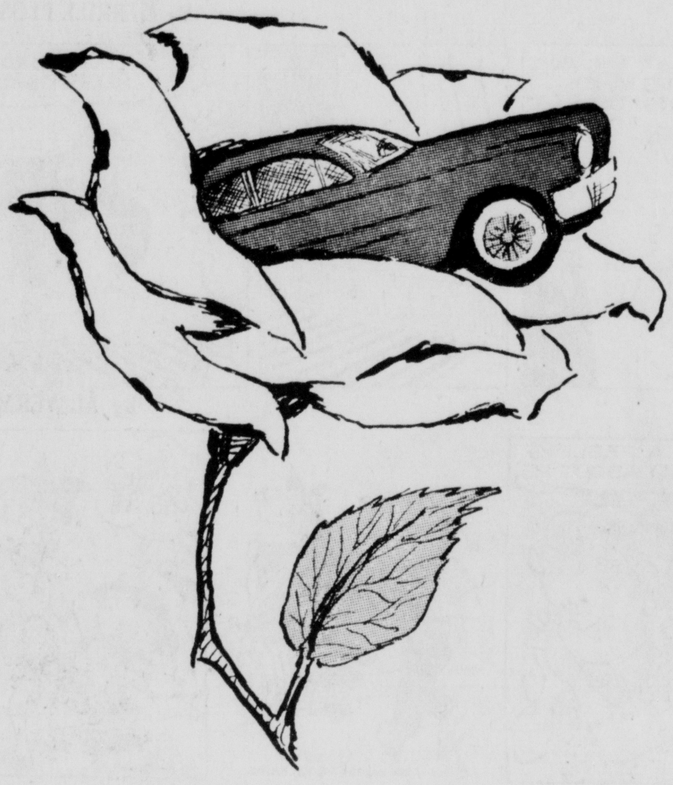

Most of the news staffs of the networks that covered the Glenn orbitting have been reassigned to cover the next space shot, including Walter Cronkite, temporarily moving his news base to Cape Canaveral. Lisa Howard, whose aggressive interviewing techniques made prickly viewing during the Glenn trip, has been assigned as pool correspondent covering Mrs. Scott Carpenter, the astronaut's wife, and family. One hopes she won't be quite so pushy in her zeal.

He adds that neither side is required under present laws, nor should be compelled, to accept the government's ideas.

Unanimously Opposed

Most of those interviewed said their talks with other executives in the Midwestern area showed an almost unanimous opposition to the methods the President used in fighting the steel price rise—even among those who thought the hike self would have been unwise.

The executives said they found the fear of a growing antibusiness trend spreading among their confreres, although only a few of these would say they thought the President insincere in his subsequent proffer of an olive branch.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Art Carney, walking out of the usual black background into the spotlight for his hosting chores on Sunday night's NBC "Fads and Foibles," described the program as a "patchwork." "Jumble" would have been more apt.

It was another in what is fast becoming a tiresome series of clips from ancient movies showing early automobiles, Rudolph Valentino, the Charleston, suffragettes on the march and Woodrow Wilson throwing out the first baseball of the season.

For no particular reason NBC also added some tasteless film showing Elvis Presley in action, Marilyn Monroe and Whistler's mother, then saluted some states in song. In spite of the talents of Carney and comedienne Alice Ghostley, it was really a dismal effort. NBC is either going to have to find some new old film or get off its nostalgic kick.

"Yves Montand on Broadway," repeated by NBC Friday night after an airing earlier in the season on ABC, was one of the brightest, most engaging variety hours of the season. Montand is a continental-type charmer. The music was delightful and the dancing was fine. Montand had help from Polly Bergen and Bobby Van, but it was his show all the way.

The summer season already is pretty well along. Tonight, for example, there are two repeats on ABC, four repeats on CBS and three on NBC. "The Price Is Right" and "Pete and Gladys" are the only series with fresh shows on NBC and CBS.

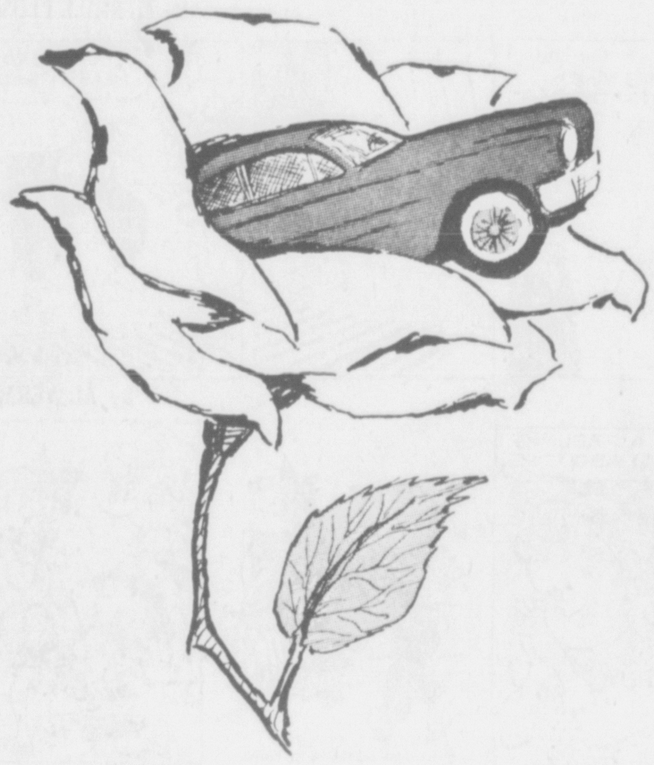

Most of the news staffs of the networks that covered the Glenn orbitting have been reassigned to cover the next space shot, including Walter Cronkite, temporarily moving his news base to Cape Canaveral. Lisa Howard, whose aggressive interviewing techniques made prickly viewing during the Glenn trip, has been assigned as pool correspondent covering Mrs. Scott Carpenter, the astronaut's wife, and family. One hopes she won't be quite so pushy in her zeal.

Ecdysiast Art To Be Displayed By Oscar Winner

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—First Natalie Wood, now it's Oscar winner Joanne Woodward doing a strip tease in films.

Goodness, what is Hollywood coming to? Don't answer that. Just come along as we investigate how Joanne is grinding out bumps for "Celebration."

Style Eloquent

She is rehearsing on Stage 12 at 20th Century-Fox, and her style is quite eloquent. Tiring, too.

"My mother used to quote an old Southern saying to correct me," recalled the onetime belle of Thomasville, Ga. "She said, 'Horses sweat, men perspire, but ladies just glow.'

"I've got news for mother: I'm not glowing; I'm sweating. Streams of it. Three weeks of rehearsals have made me realize what dancers go through. My admiration for them is unbounded."

She explained the reason for the strip. "Celebration"—a new title is expected momentarily—is the story of a girl who flunks a screen test. Missing her one big try for the big time, she slips down the ladder of success until she becomes a striptease.

Plans To Sing

"I may play Vegas after all this rehearsal," she exulted. "No, not with 'Strip Along with Joanne.' As a singer. I've been studying voice for years, and now I find I've been doing it all wrong. I've got a real voice—opera-style. I intend to do something with it."

To get back to stripping—asked how she had done her research.

"For two years I went to school in Baton Rouge," she explained, "and I spent almost every weekend in New Orleans. Need I say more?

"It may sound strange, but I love strippers. I enjoy watching them work. They are artists in their own right; each one has her own particular style.

Remembers Story

"I remember one in New Orleans who was called Stormy. She always came on to the accompaniment of storm effects—thunder and lightning and all that. Suddenly she would appear, all in black. She never changed her expression through the whole strip. She was fantastic."

Joanne admitted she will not be as uninhibited as Stormy in her movie strip. The industry's watered-down censorship code still limits the ecdysiast art.

"There must be no bumps to ward the camera," Joanne reported. "To the side is all right, also to the rear.

"Also, there must be no display of the navel. I think it's ridiculous."

Work on Farms Recommended for State Delinquents

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The state should put juvenile delinquents to work on farms, a Republican legislator says.

Assemblyman Willard C. Dumm of Columbia County said Sunday he had suggested the rehabilitation program in a letter to Gov. Rockefeller.

Drumm, who is a farmer, said the youths could live at camps in agricultural areas throughout the state. He suggested that they be paid for the work they do.

The state now operates forestry camps for delinquents and potential delinquents. The youths work on conservation and other forestry projects.

Health for All

Keep Your Hair On!

Heavens, a brush full of hair! What's happening to the crowning glory? Nothing, probably.

Most hair loss is temporary. Hair is normally shed every day. At times you may find yourself shedding more than usual. Everybody has these heavy molting periods. An illness accompanied by high fever can cause temporary loss of hair. So can pregnancy. None of this is anything to worry about. The lost hairs are always replaced.

Some hair loss is permanent. Heredity plays a large part here. A man is likely to inherit thinning hair from this father and grandfather; a woman from her mother and grandmother. Nothing to be done in this case except resign yourself to a thinner thatch.

There have been reports of cases where using tight brush rollers or skinning the hair back in a pony tail has caused permanent hair loss.

The hair you see is actually not living tissue. The living part of the hair is at the bottom of the hair shaft in the scalp, so the best way to keep your hair on is taking care of your scalp. Good general health is important here — the right food, exercise, enough rest and sleep. Brushing stimulates the part of the hair beneath the scalp by pulling gently on it. Brush your hair every day. Keep your scalp clean with a weekly shampoo.

If you're worried by thinning hair, don't go in for expenssive hair treatments. They probably won't do any good. See your doctor.

FELONY IN THE FOREST

SMOKEY talks a lot about forest fires started by carelessness. What you don't hear so much about are the forest fires that are set, on purpose, by your neighbors.

Surely, you say, nobody I know would do a thing like that! But you're wrong. One out of every four forest fires, nation-wide, is classed as INCENDIARY!

Even though the wilful forest fire problem is greatest in the South and the East, no part of the Country is free of it. You should know that the malicious woods burner robs you, wherever you live!

Do you want to help solve this serious problem? Here's what you can do:

1. Check with your local forest officers on the problem in your area.

2. Support your law enforcement officers.

3. Let your judicial and legislative servants know how you feel.

Teachers to Be Feted on Tuesday

Teacher Recognition Day will be observed in the schools of the Sauugerties Central School District Tuesday, in keeping with a proclamation made by Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller in which he urges every person to join in commending the teachers for their present achievement and lending them every encouragement in their further pursuit of excellence for all the people.

The Saugerties Parent-Teacher Association and the individual parent groups in the schools of the district are making plans to honor the 131 teachers in the eight schools for their sincere dedication to their work in training the children who will be the leaders of tomorrow.

Parents, also, may show their respect in an individual way by sending special notes of appreciation to the teachers.

Local School Offers Course For Teachers

The associate commissioner of Education for New York State has notified Dr. Grant D. Morse, superintendent of schools, that Saugerties has been designated as a regional center for the school year 1962-63 for a course in science for elementary school teachers with Ralph O. Gabler, currently a member of the Saugerties High School faculty, as the instructor.

Gabler will attend a science institute at Cornell University during the summer in preparation for his duties.

The course is intended primarily for teachers in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades. Membership in the class will be open to teachers from neighboring schools as well as Saugerties teachers. The Saugerties system is encouraging eligible teachers on the staff to be a member of this class next year It will meet for thirty sessions of two hours each. The subject matter will consist of the following units:

Measurement and the tools of the physical scientist; the relationships of force, mass, acceleration; simple machines; light; sound; astronomy; electric charges, circuits; magnetism electromagnetism; chemistry; air and weather.

Gabler is a graduate of Cornell University where he earned the BS degree. He has had additional courses in several other educational institutions. His preparation includes courses in chemistry, biology, botany, ornithology, entomology, physiology, astronomy, and zoology.

Events Scheduled

Tonight-Saugerties Board of Education meets, 8 o'clock.

Tuesday - Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce, 8 p. m. at Schoentag's Colonial Tavern, Route 32.

Plans Completed For Scout Outing

Plans are complete for the weekend Olympic Camporee for the Saugerties District Boy Scouts which will be held on the Valley Farm property of the Knaust Brothers, just east of the Saugerties High School, beginning Friday night and continuing through Sunday.

All Cub Scout Packs and Boy Scout Troops will be entered in the all day competitive sports program planned for Saturday, with one of the highlights being the decathlon events to be handled by Coach William Straub and his staff of the high school. Trophies will be awarded in this category as well as other events during the day.

The Glasco Athletic Club will sponsor a trap-shoot for senior scouts; Chet Joy of Kingston will conduct a casting contest for Cubs and Scouts, William Cutler will supervise the archery contest and Joe Vernon Benjamin will handle the senior scouts in a 22-rifle contest. Other events include an early morning kite flying contest for Cubs, woodchopping competition and many other activities in keeping with the theme.

The public is invited to attend any or all of the day's events, which culminate with the evening campfire program and the awarding of plaques and trophies to the winners. A pageant, depicting the land grant to The Sawyer, Saugerties first white settler, will be presented during the evening's program.

Deadline for W. Camp Mother-Daughter Fete

Tuesday is the deadline for reservations for the annual mothers and daughters dinner of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church, West Camp to be held at the parish hall Thursday, May 24 at 6:30 p. m.

Southern fried chicken will be served and an entertaining program is scheduled.

Reservations may be made through Mrs. Gertrude Pavlinik, West Camp. No dinners will be served without reservation.

Mrs. Jennie Oltmann, chairman of the event suggests that those who have no daughter may adopt one for the evening and come alone. The Rev. Alvin F. Messersmith, pastor of the church, and Mrs. Messersmith will be happy to provide names of Sunday school children who might not otherwise be able to attend.

Concert Exchange

The Saugerties High School band with its director, Winthrop Emmons, traveled to New Paltz May 9 to present a program of band music to the New Paltz High School assembly.

This coming Wednesday, May 16, the New Paltz High School band will come to Saugerties to present a program at the Saugerties High School assembly.

The exchange of programs was arranged by the band directors of the two schools to give their groups the experience of playing before a new audience.

Pageant Date Is Set for Aug. 25

The Miss Saugerties Pageant, sponsored annually by the Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce, will be held on Aug. 25 this year.

It was announced by the Miss Saugerties Committee of the chamber that nomination blanks are now available and may be obtained from any member store or at the chamber office in the Amrod Building. The committee will meet at 7:30 p. m., Tuesday, at Schoentag's Colonial Tavern, Route 32, prior to the regular monthly meeting of the Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce meeting at 8 p. m.

Miss Penny Pettinger who was chosen Miss Saugerties in last year's pageant, will represent the Saugerties Chamber of Commerce in this year's Miss New York State Pageant in Kingston July 5, 6 and 7.

An effort is being made by the chamber to increase its membership to 100 by the June meeting. Present figures indicate the goal may be reached as there are now 88 paid-up members, 16 unpaid for 1962 and 8 unpaid for 1961-62, with two honorary members on the rolls.

Refreshments will be served at the Tuesday night meeting.

Stratford Festival

A trip to Stratford, Conn. to the Shakespeare Festival next Saturday has drawn a tremendous response from the students and faculty of the Saugerties High School. According to Miss Agnes Sheff who arranged the trip, 191 persons, including students from eighth through 12th grades and faculty members, will depart on the four buses at 9 a. m. at the Saugerties bus terminal arriving at Stratford around noon. They will lunch on the grounds and visit the art collections and costume museum prior to the 1:30 performance of Henry IV, Part One.

Following the afternoon show a lecture in the theater given by members of the festival staff will be attended after which the group will depart for home.

Little League Opener

The Saugerties Lions Club Little League will play its first game tonight at the Little League Field, with the Braves vs. the Dodgers. A good turn out of parents is expected.

Buffalo Resident Is New President Of State Jaycees

UTICA, N.Y. (AP)—Warren Potash of Buffalo is the new president of the New York State Junior Chamber of Commerce.

He was elected Saturday to succeed Curtis Bauer of Jamestown. The state Jaycees' three-day annual meeting, attended by about 1,200 persons, ended Sunday.

Albert Helo of Albany was elected internal vice president and Carl Isley of Watkins Glen, external vice president.

Named directors were: Bruce Cameron of Nyack, Richard J. Ross of Jamestown, Harvey Hugunin of Syracuse, Donald Cosper of Horseheads, Robert Crist of Castleton, Robert Singiser of Cheektowaga, and Robert Herthum of Whitesboro.

The Jamestown club received an award for outstanding service. William Dougherty of Batavia was cited as the outstanding regional vice president, and William Clark of Albany was named the outstanding new member.

Next year's annual meeting will be held in Albany.

Ecdysiast Art To Be Displayed By Oscar Winner

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—First Natalie Wood, now it's Oscar winner Joanne Woodward doing a strip tease in films.

Goodness, what is Hollywood coming to? Don't answer that. Just come along as we investigate how Joanne is grinding out bumps for "Celebration."

Style Eloquent

She is rehearsing on Stage 12 at 20th Century-Fox, and her style is quite eloquent. Tiring, too.

"My mother used to quote an old Southern saying to correct me," recalled the onetime belle of Thomasville, Ga. "She said, 'Horses sweat, men perspire, but ladies just glow.'

"I've got news for mother: I'm not glowing; I'm sweating. Streams of it. Three weeks of rehearsals have made me realize what dancers go through. My admiration for them is unbounded."

She explained the reason for the strip. "Celebration"—a new title is expected momentarily—is the story of a girl who flunks a screen test. Missing her one big try for the big time, she slips down the ladder of success until she becomes a striptease.

Plans To Sing

"I may play Vegas after all this rehearsal," she exulted. "No, not with 'Strip Along with Joanne.' As a singer, I've been studying voice for years, and now I find I've been doing it all wrong. I've got a real voice—opera-style. I intend to do something with it."

To get back to stripping—asked how she had done her research.

"For two years I went to school in Baton Rouge," she explained, "and I spent almost every weekend in New Orleans. Need I say more?

"It may sound strange, but I love strippers. I enjoy watching them work. They are artists in their own right; each one has her own particular style.

Remembers Story

"I remember one in New Orleans who was called Stormy. She always came on to the accompaniment of storm effects—thunder and lightning and all that. Suddenly she would appear, all in black. She never changed her expression through the whole strip. She was fantastic."

Joanne admitted she will not be as uninhibited as Stormy in her movie strip. The industry's watered-down censorship code still limits the ecdysiast art.

"There must be no bumps to ward the camera," Joanne reported. "To the side is all right, also to the rear.

"Also, there must be no display of the navel. I think it's ridiculous."

Work on Farms Recommended for State Delinquents

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The state should put juvenile delinquents to work on farms, a Republican legislator says.

Assemblyman Willard C. Dumm of Columbia County said Sunday he had suggested the rehabilitation program in a letter to Gov. Rockefeller.

Drumm, who is a farmer, said the youths could live at camps in agricultural areas throughout the state. He suggested that they be paid for the work they do.

The state now operates forestry camps for delinquents and potential delinquents. The youths work on conservation and other forestry projects.

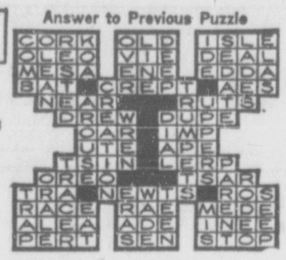

Only the flag of Cyprus, of all the flags of the United Nations, bears a map of the country.

Health for All

Keep Your Hair On!

Heavens, a brush full of hair! What's happening to the crowning glory? Nothing, probably.

Most hair loss is temporary. Hair is normally shed every day. At times you may find yourself shedding more than usual. Everybody has these heavy molting periods. An illness accompanied by high fever can cause temporary loss of hair. So can pregnancy. None of this is anything to worry about. The lost hairs are always replaced.

Some hair loss is permanent. Heredity plays a large part here. A man is likely to inherit thinning hair from this father and grandfather; a woman from her mother and grandmother. Nothing to be done in this case except resign yourself to a thinner thatch.

There have been reports of cases where using tight brush rollers or skinning the hair back in a pony tail has caused permanent hair loss.

The hair you see is actually not living tissue. The living part of the hair is at the bottom of the hair shaft in the scalp, so the best way to keep your hair on is taking care of your scalp. Good general health is important here — the right food, exercise, enough rest and sleep. Brushing stimulates the part of the hair beneath the scalp by pulling gently on it. Brush your hair every day. Keep your scalp clean with a weekly shampoo.

If you're worried by thinning hair, don't go in for expenssive hair treatments. They probably won't do any good. See your doctor.

FELONY IN THE FOREST

SMOKEY talks a lot about forest fires started by carelessness. What you don't hear so much about are the forest fires that are set, on purpose, by your neighbors.

Surely, you say, nobody I know would do a thing like that! But you're wrong. One out of every four forest fires, nation-wide, is classed as INCENDIARY!

Even though the wilful forest fire problem is greatest in the South and the East, no part of the Country is free of it. You should know that the malicious woods burner robs you, wherever you live!

Do you want to help solve this serious problem? Here's what you can do:

1. Check with your local forest officers on the problem in your area.

2. Support your law enforcement officers.

3. Let your judicial and legislative servants know how you feel.

Remember- only YOU can PREVENT FOREST FIRES!

Teachers to Be Feted on Tuesday

Teacher Recognition Day will be observed in the schools of the Sauugerties Central School District Tuesday, in keeping with a proclamation made by Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller in which he urges every person to join in commending the teachers for their present achievement and lending them every encouragement in their further pursuit of excellence for all the people.

The Saugerties Parent-Teacher Association and the individual parent groups in the schools of the district are making plans to honor the 131 teachers in the eight schools for their sincere dedication to their work in training the children who will be the leaders of tomorrow.

Parents, also, may show their respect in an individual way by sending special notes of appreciation to the teachers.

Local School Offers Course For Teachers

The associate commissioner of Education for New York State has notified Dr. Grant D. Morse, superintendent of schools, that Saugerties has been designated as a regional center for the school year 1962-63 for a course in science for elementary school teachers with Ralph O. Gabler, currently a member of the Saugerties High School faculty, as the instructor.

Gabler will attend a science institute at Cornell University during the summer in preparation for his duties.

The course is intended primarily for teachers in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades. Membership in the class will be open to teachers from neighboring schools as well as Saugerties teachers. The Saugerties system is encouraging eligible teachers on the staff to be a member of this class next year It will meet for thirty sessions of two hours each. The subject matter will consist of the following units:

Measurement and the tools of the physical scientist; the relationships of force, mass, acceleration; simple machines; light; sound; astronomy; electric charges, circuits; magnetism electromagnetism; chemistry; air and weather.

Gabler is a graduate of Cornell University where he earned the BS degree. He has had additional courses in several other educational institutions. His preparation includes courses in chemistry, biology, botany, ornithology, entomology, physiology, astronomy, and zoology.

Events Scheduled

Tonight-Saugerties Board of Education meets, 8 o'clock.

Tuesday - Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce, 8 p. m. at Schoentag's Colonial Tavern, Route 32.

Plans Completed For Scout Outing

Plans are complete for the weekend Olympic Camporee for the Saugerties District Boy Scouts which will be held on the Valley Farm property of the Knaust Brothers, just east of the Saugerties High School, beginning Friday night and continuing through Sunday.

All Cub Scout Packs and Boy Scout Troops will be entered in the all day competitive sports program planned for Saturday, with one of the highlights being the decathlon events to be handled by Coach William Straub and his staff of the high school. Trophies will be awarded in this category as well as other events during the day.

The Glasco Athletic Club will sponsor a trap-shoot for senior scouts; Chet Joy of Kingston will conduct a casting contest for Cubs and Scouts, William Cutler will supervise the archery contest and Joe Vernon Benjamin will handle the senior scouts in a 22-rifle contest. Other events include an early morning kite flying contest for Cubs, woodchopping competition and many other activities in keeping with the theme.

The public is invited to attend any or all of the day's events, which culminate with the evening campfire program and the awarding of plaques and trophies to the winners. A pageant, depicting the land grant to The Sawyer, Saugerties first white settler, will be presented during the evening's program.

Deadline for W. Camp Mother-Daughter Fete

Tuesday is the deadline for reservations for the annual mothers and daughters dinner of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church, West Camp to be held at the parish hall Thursday, May 24 at 6:30 p. m.

Southern fried chicken will be served and an entertaining program is scheduled.

Reservations may be made through Mrs. Gertrude Pavlinik, West Camp. No dinners will be served without reservation.

Mrs. Jennie Oltmann, chairman of the event suggests that those who have no daughter may adopt one for the evening and come alone. The Rev. Alvin F. Messersmith, pastor of the church, and Mrs. Messersmith will be happy to provide names of Sunday school children who might not otherwise be able to attend.

Concert Exchange

The Saugerties High School band with its director, Winthrop Emmons, traveled to New Paltz May 9 to present a program of band music to the New Paltz High School assembly.

This coming Wednesday, May 16, the New Paltz High School band will come to Saugerties to present a program at the Saugerties High School assembly.

The exchange of programs was arranged by the band directors of the two schools to give their groups the experience of playing before a new audience.

Pageant Date Is Set for Aug. 25

The Miss Saugerties Pageant, sponsored annually by the Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce, will be held on Aug. 25 this year.

It was announced by the Miss Saugerties Committee of the chamber that nomination blanks are now available and may be obtained from any member store or at the chamber office in the Amrod Building. The committee will meet at 7:30 p. m., Tuesday, at Schoentag's Colonial Tavern, Route 32, prior to the regular monthly meeting of the Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce meeting at 8 p. m.

Miss Penny Pettinger who was chosen Miss Saugerties in last year's pageant, will represent the Saugerties Chamber of Commerce in this year's Miss New York State Pageant in Kingston July 5, 6 and 7.

An effort is being made by the chamber to increase its membership to 100 by the June meeting. Present figures indicate the goal may be reached as there are now 88 paid-up members, 16 unpaid for 1962 and 8 unpaid for 1961-62, with two honorary members on the rolls.

Refreshments will be served at the Tuesday night meeting.

Stratford Festival

A trip to Stratford, Conn. to the Shakespeare Festival next Saturday has drawn a tremendous response from the students and faculty of the Saugerties High School. According to Miss Agnes Sheff who arranged the trip, 191 persons, including students from eighth through 12th grades and faculty members, will depart on the four buses at 9 a. m. at the Saugerties bus terminal arriving at Stratford around noon. They will lunch on the grounds and visit the art collections and costume museum prior to the 1:30 performance of Henry IV, Part One.

Following the afternoon show a lecture in the theater given by members of the festival staff will be attended after which the group will depart for home.

Little League Opener

The Saugerties Lions Club Little League will play its first game tonight at the Little League Field, with the Braves vs. the Dodgers. A good turn out of parents is expected.

Buffalo Resident Is New President Of State Jaycees

UTICA, N.Y. (AP)—Warren Potash of Buffalo is the new president of the New York State Junior Chamber of Commerce.

He was elected Saturday to succeed Curtis Bauer of Jamestown. The state Jaycees' three-day annual meeting, attended by about 1,200 persons, ended Sunday.

Albert Helo of Albany was elected internal vice president and Carl Isley of Watkins Glen, external vice president.

Named directors were: Bruce Cameron of Nyack, Richard J. Ross of Jamestown, Harvey Hugunin of Syracuse, Donald Cosper of Horseheads, Robert Crist of Castleton, Robert Singiser of Cheektowaga, and Robert Herthum of Whitesboro.

The Jamestown club received an award for outstanding service. William Dougherty of Batavia was cited as the outstanding regional vice president, and William Clark of Albany was named the outstanding new member.

Next year's annual meeting will be held in Albany.

Sports Club Defeats Endicott Team, 7-0

SOUVENIRS—Barry Needham, 17-year-old Randolph, Mass., high school senior, who tossed four consecutive no-hit, no-run games, shows off the winning balls to brother, Bruce, 14. Barry, a 6-5, 170-pound righthander, struck out 19 batters May 11 in shutting out Canton in his 4-0 no-hitter in league game. Pitcher hasn't allowed a ball to be hit beyond the infield in his school's five victories in as many games. He has struck out 68 and walked only eight in 28 2/3 innings of pitching. All high school league games are seven innings. (AP Wirephoto)

Locals Retain Top Spot in Soccer Loop

Completely outclassing the visitors in every phase of the game, the Kingston Sports Club players retained first place in the Central New York Soccer League with a 7-0 whitewashing of visiting Endicott yesterday at Hosbrouck Park.

Captain George Vizvary started the leaders off with a penalty kick after ten minutes of play in the second half. This climaxed 55 minutes of pressure play by the Sports Club, which came close to scoring several times in the first half, only to be turned back.

The goal by Vizvary opened the flood gates. Hans Wolfe scored to make it 2-0 and then Al Miller tallied on a picture play when he dribbled through five players before kicking the ball into the goal.

It was a rout from that point on. Reiner Schwenkel scored the final four goals for Kingston, putting the contest well out of reach.

Next week the local team will be in Poughkeepsie for a meeting with the Blue and White squad from the Bridge City. The Sports Club will be aiming at retaining their hot streak, which has seen them score 23 goals in four weeks while allowing only three.

In other circuit action, Albany Athletic Club remained second with a 7-1 win over the Troy Sports Club to reverse an early season setback.

Other scores were Albany Sports Club 6, Utica 1; Poughkeepsie Italians 2, Poughkeepsie K of C 1; Schenectady Sons of Italy 2, Schenectady Football Club 1.

1st Controversy Develops in 'A' Doubles Event

Luscher's Tornadoes of Rochester, a 909 average team; Marion Turash, the bowling star from Elmont, Long Island and the first controversy of the 29th annual New York State Women's tournament highlighted weekend action. This was the best weekend to date, at least from the standpoint of name keglers and also attendance wise.

The Tornadoes, paced by a brilliant 611 series on the part of Peg Martin, moved into second place in the Class A team event with a neat 2699 triple. The upstate squad shot games of 880, 878 and 941, trailing only Pasquale's Restaurant of New York City, which has a 2797 total.

Mrs. Turash, who warmed up for her date in the national doubles tourney next weekend in Louisville, swept into second place in the coveted all-events race, shooting 565 in the team play, 594 in the doubles and 575 in the singles for a total of 1734. Mrs. Turash, who drew the largest gallery in yesterday's singles and doubles action, had three splits in her final singles event, thus costing her the chance to beat the 1770 all-events total, walloped by Barbara Korthas of Syracuse.

The controversy occurred Saturday morning on the 11 o'clock singles and doubles squad at the Bowlerama. The team of Frances Waligara and Ruth Green of Dunkirk shot an 1146, good enough for first place in the Class A doubles. However, it was discovered by a tournament official that the pair had rolled a practice game prior to the beginning of the festivities Sunday morning. They rolled the practice game on Lanes 27 and 28 and then rolled their doubles on 25 and 26.

Mrs. Clover Bailey, state secretary, was in Phoenix, Arizona, for the national tournament over the weekend and officials will have to wait until she arrives before a decision can be made as to whether the doubles score will stand. As of now, the 1135 total, shot several weeks ago by Jean Healey and Ruby Hunter of Albany is still the official leading score.

Another major change in the weekend activity saw the Dic Concrete Corp. of Elmont, featuring Mrs. Turash, roll into fifth place in the team event with a 2260 total. Marion shot 565 to pace the squad.

Peg Martin, a member of the Luscher Tornado squad had a 1710 in her all-events, moving her into fourth place.

Leaders in the other divisions remained the same in this third from last week of competition.

Charlotte Lapine and Betty Egan, a pair of Kingston keglers, did well in singles, doubles and the all-events, despite the fact they didn't make the top ten. Mrs. Egan scored 1571 in her all-events, getting 478 in the team, 567 in doubles and 526 in the singles. Mrs. Lapine tllied 520 in the team, 512 in the doubles and 492 in the singles for 1524. Their doubles total was a nifty 1079.

Dot Kreamer of Aurora walloped the tourney high game, a neat 255.

Palmer, Pott In Playoff

By MIKE COCHRAN

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Faltering Arnold Palmer and youthful Johnny Pott set out today to square a little matter of $7,000 and the championship of the $40,000 National Invitation Golf Tournament.

Palmer, in one of his rare golfing lapses, necessitated an 18-hole playoff when he bogied two of the last three holes Sunday and missed a 12-foot birdie putt on No. 18 that would have given him his sixth current title.

The muscular Pennsylvanian soared to a 76 in the final round of the tournament and enabled Pott, with a one-under-par 69, to move from seven strokes back into a tie at 281.

Record Crowd

An all-time record crowd of 16,000 watched Palmer sail his approach shot on No. 18 to within a dozen feet of the cup as Pott watched from the clubhouse balcony.

But the putt rolled to the edge of the cup and died, and Pott, looking somewhat stunned, got another chance to pocket the $7,000. The runner-up gets $3,500.

Even more woeful than Palmer was Bruce Crampton, an easy-going Australian, who should get the hard-luck trophy of the 17th annual event.

Crampton, trailing Palmer by three strokes as the final round began, was even par through 71 holes and could have won his first title this year by parring the 18th.

But he slammed his second shot into the water on the left side of the green and was tagged with a penalty stroke. He put his fourth shot five feet from the hole, then missed the putt that would have given him a tie.

The double-bogey six, his second at 18 in two days, gave him a 74 and third place at 282, two over par. It paid $2,500.

Former national amateur champ Jack Nicklaus, who has finished in the money 15 of the 16 times he's played as a professional, trimmed one stroke from par for a 69, a 284 total, fourth place and $2,0000.

Money winners in the tournament:

X-Johnny Pott	69-70-73-69—281
X-Arnold Palmer	67-72-66-76—281
Bruce Crampton, $2,500	71-70-67-74—282
Jack Nicklaus, $2,000	69-71-74-69—283
Jim Ferree, $1,750	71-78-71-69—284
Gay Brewer, $1,750	70-75-67-72—284

Boxing Roundup

Daniels, Clay to Meet In TV Bout Saturday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Billy Daniels gets the opportunity of a lifetime Saturday night when he meets heralded Cassius Clay in a battle of unbeaten, young heavyweights in the television fight of the week.

They are scheduled for 10-rounds at New York's St. Nicholas Arena.

The bout will be televised nationally, ABC-TV at 9 p.m. EST.

Daniels, 25, is virtually unknown despite a 16-0 record including seven knockouts. The East Arcadia, N.C., native, now a Brooklyn resident, hasn't fought any name fighters since he turned pro two years ago. His best triumph was a three round knockout of Don Warner, a hard-hitting Philadelphian with a glass jaw. He is not ranked among the contenders.

Every fight buff knows about Clay, the 20-year-old contender from Louisville. Winner of the Olympic light heavyweight crown at Rome in 1960, the cocky, boxer-puncher has won all 13 of his pro fights, 10 by knockouts in a year-and-a-half of fighting for cash.

Cassius is ranked seventh by the NBA and ninth by Ring Magazine. He already numbers Alonzo Johnson, Alex Miteff, and George Logan among his victims. In his latest fight he stopped Logan in four rounds, April 23. He halted Warner in the fourth on Feb. 28.

Cleveland Williams, the Houston belter who is rated above Clay, takes on Alonzo Johnson in a 10-rounder at Houston Tuesday night. Williams, 28, is ranked sixth by the NBA and eighth by Ring. Johnson, 27, of Pittsburgh, once was a top ten contender but no longer is ranked.

Harold Johnson Impressive in Beating Jones

PHILADELPHIA (Pa) — The light heavyweight champion of all the world but California is going to have to await the pleasure of his manager before he knows when his next fight will be.

Harold Johnson of Philadelphia successfully defended his National Boxing Association crown in Philadelphia Saturday night by winning a unanimous 15-round decision over challenger Doug Jones of New York. In doing so he added New York State, Europe and Massachusetts to his title domain.

New York, Europe and Massachusetts joined the NBA in unfrocking Archie Moore and recognizing the Johnson-Jones winner as undisputed light heavyweight champion. California remains ad amant in looking to its home-bred Moore as the division king.

The 33-year-old Johnson, weighing a surprisingly light 171½ pounds, lived up to his reputation as a master boxer. His 16 years of experience was written all over his actions as he speared the younger Jones with jabs, battered him with overhand rights and counterpunched the junior fighter into submission. Jones, 25, also weighed 171½.

The Garden wants him to fight Zora Folley in a non-title bout June 9. The German promoter wants Johnson for a title fight against Gustav Scholz in West Berlin June 16.

The decision rests in the hands of Pat Olivieri, Johnson's manager of record, who has a temporary injunction prohibiting the champion from fighting without the manager's permission.

Knothole League Application Dates Slated This Week

Applications for those interested in playing in the Metropolitan Knothole League will be given this week from 6 to 8 p. m. each night at the playing field on Greenkill Ave. Boys from 8 to 12 years of age are eligible.

Tryouts for former players are slated May 28 and May 29, 6 to 8 p. m. New players are scheduled to report on May 31 and June 1 at the field.

Opening day will take place June 10 and a parade, led by Boy Scout band from Troop 12 will be a highlight.

The league is building a new concession stand, complete with bathroom facilities.

Adora's Dream Faces Big Test in Messenger Stakes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Just how good Adora's Dream is may be answered Friday night when 11 three-year-old pacers vie in the $169,430 Messenger Stakes at Roosevelt Raceway.

The lightly - raced, undefeated Dream defeated the same field in a prep race last Friday night in 2:02 2-5. A week ago he did the same thing in 2:01, a time considered exceptional for a sophomore at this time of the year over a half-mile track. Those were his only 1962 starts. He won 11 races as a juvenile.

Leader Pick, second to Adora's Dream in the 2:01 prep, and Lehigh Hanover, second last week, are expected to be close second choices. The others in the field are Buxton Hanover, Fast Gun, Knight Latch, Meadow Newport, Play Bill, Ranger Knight, Surprise News and Thor Hanover.

Neither Adora's Dream nor Leader Pick were kept eligible for the Messenger and had to pay a $15,000 supplemental entry fee so they could start. They are not eligible for the Little Brown Jug or the Cane Futurity. The three races comprise pacing's triple crown.

This week is the final week of Grand Circuit racing at Roosevelt, and the final week of the spring meeting at the Westbury track.

Royal Rick Wins

In the feature race last Saturday night at Roosevelt, Royal Rick won the $10,000 Junior Free-For-All Pace in 2:00 4-5. Driven by George Sholty, Royal Rick paid $17.10. Countess Adios, the favorite, was second and Muncy Hanover third.

At Buffalo Raceway, Sumter Prince won the $3,500 featured trot in 2:04 2-5 and paid $7.70.

In other harness racing news: Chrystal Seabee, a 4-year-old gelding, topped the first annual Saratoga Standardbred sale Saturday at Saratoga Springs. Carrol A. Farr of Putnam, Conn., purchased Chrystal Seabee for $5,300.

Shadydale King went to C. H. Jung of Colden for $4,650, the second highest price.

And Roosevelt Raceway increased its horse population by one Saturday night.

The first foal ever born at the raceway was foaled by a 4-year-old trotter named Misty Flight. Owner Jack Barchi said he did not even know Misty Flight was expecting. He named the foal "Roosevelt Surprise."

Ridan Arrives At Pimlico, Set For Preakness

BALTIMORE (AP)—A workout was scheduled at Pimlico today for Ridan, the beaten favorite in the Kentucky Derby who will get another crack at Derby winner Decidedly in Saturday's 86th running of the Preakness.

Mrs. Moody Jolley's 3-year-old colt arrived at the track Sunday after a trip by van from Washington Park in Chicago.

The arrival of Ridan increased to nine the number of probable Preakness starters already stabled at Pimlico. Two others, Jaipur and Vimy Ridge, are expected from New York either today or Tuesday.

Ridan finished third in the Derby after proving difficult to handle for Jockey Manuel Ycaza, who complained that the colt tried to "bear in" with almost every stride.

Ycaza will be aboard again Saturday as he shoots for the winner's share of the $150,000-added purse over the mile and three sixteenths distance.

George B. Widener's Jaipur won the $58,600 Withers mile at Aqueduct Saturday. He covered the distance in 1:35 3-5 over a fast track, just two-fifths of a second over the Withers record.

Like Jaipur, Vimy Ridge did not compete in the Derby. But the English-bred colt broke the American mile record for a turf course in winning the Senatorial Stakes at Laurel.

Decidedly set a record for the mile and a quarter Derby, taking charge late in the race. He'll have less time in the Preakness, which is a sixteenth of a mile shorter.

Roman Line, who finished ahead of Ridan in the Derby, will try again to block Decidedly's bid for the triple crown. Other Derby horses expected to compete are Sunrise County, Crimson Satan, Green Hornet and Prego.

Cornell Is Heavy Favorite In Eastern Sprints This Week

Mighty Cornell, with a solid triumph over previously unbeaten Yale by the boards, ranks as the crew to beat this weekend in the Eastern Sprint Championship regatta on Lake Quinsigamond, outside Worcester, Mass.

Cornell, surprised by Navy in the 2,000 meter Eastern Sprints last year, became the only major unbeaten crew in the East Saturday when it swept from behind and beat sophomore-dominated Yale by a length for the Carnegie Cup.

Penn and MIT also gained prestige with their victories in the Adams Cup at Annapolis and the Cochrane Cup at Cambridge, Mass., respectively.

Cornell, however, remains the one to watch. The Big Red caught Yale at the mile mark over the two-mile downstream course of the Housatonic River at Derby, Conn., and slowly pulled away. Princeton was third and never in contention. Cornell finished in 11:17.2, Yale in 11:25.4.

MIT scored by a length over Dartmouth and three others over 1¾ miles of the rough, choppy Charles River. MIT finished in 8:53.6, Dartmouth two seconds slower. Wisconsin, Brown and Boston University trailed in that order.

At Annapolis, Penn caught Harvard in the last half mile and won the 1¾ mile race by a length in 8:53.2. Harvard clocked 8:53.8 and Navy 9:02.7.

Georgetown University led all the way in winning the Dad Vail Cup over the 1 5-16 mile Henley distance at Philadelphia, finishing in 6:34.6, three lengths ahead of Marietta. Trinity, Conn., was third, St. Joseph's, Pa., fourth, LaSalle fifth and Purdue sixth.

On the Connecticut River at Hanover, N.H., Cornell's powerful lightweight crews swept three races from Dartmouth Saturday.

The Big Red's lightweight varsity led from the opening strokes and had pulled away to a four-length margin over the Green at the finish of the mile and 5-16ths races.

Cornell was clocked in 6:21.4 to Dartmouth's 6:38.5.

The Cornell Junior Varsity shell had a boost from a strong tailwind and turned in the best time of the competition — 6:21. Dartmouth trailed by five lengths.

The Big Red freshman shell crossed the line in 6:36, a length and a half ahead of the Dartmouth crew.

Sports Club Defeats Endicott Team, 7-0

SOUVENIRS—Barry Needham, 17-year-old Randolph, Mass., high school senior, who tossed four consecutive no-hit, no-run games, shows off the winning balls to brother, Bruce, 14. Barry, a 6-5, 170-pound righthander, struck out 19 batters May 11 in shutting out Canton in his 4-0 no-hitter in league game. Pitcher hasn't allowed a ball to be hit beyond the infield in his school's five victories in as many games. He has struck out 68 and walked only eight in 28 2/3 innings of pitching. All high school league games are seven innings. (AP Wirephoto)

Locals Retain Top Spot in Soccer Loop

Completely outclassing the visitors in every phase of the game, the Kingston Sports Club players retained first place in the Central New York Soccer League with a 7-0 whitewashing of visiting Endicott yesterday at Hosbrouck Park.

Captain George Vizvary started the leaders off with a penalty kick after ten minutes of play in the second half. This climaxed 55 minutes of pressure play by the Sports Club, which came close to scoring several times in the first half, only to be turned back.

The goal by Vizvary opened the flood gates. Hans Wolfe scored to make it 2-0 and then Al Miller tallied on a picture play when he dribbled through five players before kicking the ball into the goal.

It was a rout from that point on. Reiner Schwenkel scored the final four goals for Kingston, putting the contest well out of reach.

Next week the local team will be in Poughkeepsie for a meeting with the Blue and White squad from the Bridge City. The Sports Club will be aiming at retaining their hot streak, which has seen them score 23 goals in four weeks while allowing only three.

In other circuit action, Albany Athletic Club remained second with a 7-1 win over the Troy Sports Club to reverse an early season setback.

Other scores were Albany Sports Club 6, Utica 1; Poughkeepsie Italians 2, Poughkeepsie K of C 1; Schenectady Sons of Italy 2, Schenectady Football Club 1.

1st Controversy Develops in 'A' Doubles Event

Luscher's Tornadoes of Rochester, a 909 average team; Marion Turash, the bowling star from Elmont, Long Island and the first controversy of the 29th annual New York State Women's tournament highlighted weekend action. This was the best weekend to date, at least from the standpoint of name keglers and also attendance wise.

The Tornadoes, paced by a brilliant 611 series on the part of Peg Martin, moved into second place in the Class A team event with a neat 2699 triple. The upstate squad shot games of 880, 878 and 941, trailing only Pasquale's Restaurant of New York City, which has a 2797 total.

Mrs. Turash, who warmed up for her date in the national doubles tourney next weekend in Louisville, swept into second place in the coveted all-events race, shooting 565 in the team play, 594 in the doubles and 575 in the singles for a total of 1734. Mrs. Turash, who drew the largest gallery in yesterday's singles and doubles action, had three splits in her final singles event, thus costing her the chance to beat the 1770 all-events total, walloped by Barbara Korthas of Syracuse.

The controversy occurred Saturday morning on the 11 o'clock singles and doubles squad at the Bowlerama. The team of Frances Waligara and Ruth Green of Dunkirk shot an 1146, good enough for first place in the Class A doubles. However, it was discovered by a tournament official that the pair had rolled a practice game prior to the beginning of the festivities Sunday morning. They rolled the practice game on Lanes 27 and 28 and then rolled their doubles on 25 and 26.

Mrs. Clover Bailey, state secretary, was in Phoenix, Arizona, for the national tournament over the weekend and officials will have to wait until she arrives before a decision can be made as to whether the doubles score will stand. As of now, the 1135 total, shot several weeks ago by Jean Healey and Ruby Hunter of Albany is still the official leading score.

Another major change in the weekend activity saw the Dic Concrete Corp. of Elmont, featuring Mrs. Turash, roll into fifth place in the team event with a 2260 total. Marion shot 565 to pace the squad.

Peg Martin, a member of the Luscher Tornado squad had a 1710 in her all-events, moving her into fourth place.

Leaders in the other divisions remained the same in this third from last week of competition.

Charlotte Lapine and Betty Egan, a pair of Kingston keglers, did well in singles, doubles and the all-events, despite the fact they didn't make the top ten. Mrs. Egan scored 1571 in her all-events, getting 478 in the team, 567 in doubles and 526 in the singles. Mrs. Lapine tllied 520 in the team, 512 in the doubles and 492 in the singles for 1524. Their doubles total was a nifty 1079.

Dot Kreamer of Aurora walloped the tourney high game, a neat 255.

Palmer, Pott In Playoff

By MIKE COCHRAN

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Faltering Arnold Palmer and youthful Johnny Pott set out today to square a little matter of $7,000 and the championship of the $40,000 National Invitation Golf Tournament.

Palmer, in one of his rare golfing lapses, necessitated an 18-hole playoff when he bogied two of the last three holes Sunday and missed a 12-foot birdie putt on No. 18 that would have given him his sixth current title.

The muscular Pennsylvanian soared to a 76 in the final round of the tournament and enabled Pott, with a one-under-par 69, to move from seven strokes back into a tie at 281.

Record Crowd

An all-time record crowd of 16,000 watched Palmer sail his approach shot on No. 18 to within a dozen feet of the cup as Pott watched from the clubhouse balcony.

But the putt rolled to the edge of the cup and died, and Pott, looking somewhat stunned, got another chance to pocket the $7,000. The runner-up gets $3,500.

Even more woeful than Palmer was Bruce Crampton, an easy-going Australian, who should get the hard-luck trophy of the 17th annual event.

Crampton, trailing Palmer by three strokes as the final round began, was even par through 71 holes and could have won his first title this year by parring the 18th.

But he slammed his second shot into the water on the left side of the green and was tagged with a penalty stroke. He put his fourth shot five feet from the hole, then missed the putt that would have given him a tie.

The double-bogey six, his second at 18 in two days, gave him a 74 and third place at 282, two over par. It paid $2,500.

Former national amateur champ Jack Nicklaus, who has finished in the money 15 of the 16 times he's played as a professional, trimmed one stroke from par for a 69, a 284 total, fourth place and $2,0000.

Money winners in the tournament:

X-Johnny Pott	69-70-73-69—281
X-Arnold Palmer	67-72-66-76—281
Bruce Crampton, $2,500	71-70-67-74—282
Jack Nicklaus, $2,000	69-71-74-69—283
Jim Ferree, $1,750	71-76-71-69—284
Gay Brewer, $1,750	70-75-67-72—284

Boxing Roundup

Daniels, Clay to Meet In TV Bout Saturday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Billy Daniels gets the opportunity of a lifetime Saturday night when he meets heralded Cassius Clay in a battle of unbeaten, young heavyweights in the television fight of the week.

They are scheduled for 10-rounds at New York's St. Nicholas Arena.

The bout will be televised nationally, ABC-TV at 9 p.m. EST.

Daniels, 25, is virtually unknown despite a 16-0 record including seven knockouts. The East Arcadia, N.C., native, now a Brooklyn resident, hasn't fought any name fighters since he turned pro two years ago. His best triumph was a three round knockout of Don Warner, a hard-hitting Philadelphian with a glass jaw. He is not ranked among the contenders.

Every fight buff knows about Clay, the 20-year-old contender from Louisville. Winner of the Olympic light heavyweight crown at Rome in 1960, the cocky, boxer-puncher has won all 13 of his pro fights, 10 by knockouts in a year-and-a-half of fighting for cash.

Cassius is ranked seventh by the NBA and ninth by Ring Magazine. He already numbers Alonzo Johnson, Alex Miteff, and George Logan among his victims. In his latest fight he stopped Logan in four rounds, April 23. He halted Warner in the fourth on Feb. 28.

Cleveland Williams, the Houston belter who is rated above Clay, takes on Alonzo Johnson in a 10-rounder at Houston Tuesday night. Williams, 28, is ranked sixth by the NBA and eighth by Ring. Johnson, 27, of Pittsburgh, once was a top ten contender but no longer is ranked.

Harold Johnson Impressive in Beating Jones

PHILADELPHIA (Pa) — The light heavyweight champion of all the world but California is going to have to await the pleasure of his manager before he knows when his next fight will be.

Harold Johnson of Philadelphia successfully defended his National Boxing Association crown in Philadelphia Saturday night by winning a unanimous 15-round decision over challenger Doug Jones of New York. In doing so he added New York State, Europe and Massachusetts to his title domain.

New York, Europe and Massachusetts joined the NBA in unfrocking Archie Moore and recognizing the Johnson-Jones winner as undisputed light heavyweight champion. California remains ad amant in looking to its home-bred Moore as the division king.

The 33-year-old Johnson, weighing a surprisingly light 171½ pounds, lived up to his reputation as a master boxer. His 16 years of experience was written all over his actions as he speared the younger Jones with jabs, battered him with overhand rights and counterpunched the junior fighter into submission. Jones, 25, also weighed 171½.

Most of the post bout talk was on what's ahead for the champion. Officials from Madison Square Garden and a representative of a German promoter swarmed around him in his dressing room.

The Garden wants him to fight Zora Folley in a non-title bout June 9. The German promoter wants Johnson for a title fight against Gustav Scholz in West Berlin June 16.

The decision rests in the hands of Pat Olivieri, Johnson's manager of record, who has a temporary injunction prohibiting the champion from fighting without the manager's permission.

Knothole League Application Dates Slated This Week

Applications for those interested in playing in the Metropolitan Knothole League will be given this week from 6 to 8 p. m. each night at the playing field on Greenkill Ave. Boys from 8 to 12 years of age are eligible.

Tryouts for former players are slated May 28 and May 29, 6 to 8 p. m. New players are scheduled to report on May 31 and June 1 at the field.

Opening day will take place June 10 and a parade, led by Boy Scout band from Troop 12 will be a highlight.

The league is building a new concession stand, complete with bathroom facilities.

Adora's Dream Faces Big Test in Messenger Stakes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Just how good Adora's Dream is may be answered Friday night when 11 three-year-old pacers vie in the $169,430 Messenger Stakes at Roosevelt Raceway.

The lightly - raced, undefeated Dream defeated the same field in a prep race last Friday night in 2:02 2-5. A week ago he did the same thing in 2:01, a time considered exceptional for a sophomore at this time of the year over a half-mile track. Those were his only 1962 starts. He won 11 races as a juvenile.

Leader Pick, second to Adora's Dream in the 2:01 prep, and Lehigh Hanover, second last week, are expected to be close second choices. The others in the field are Buxton Hanover, Fast Gun, Knight Latch, Meadow Newport, Play Bill, Ranger Knight, Surprise News and Thor Hanover.

Neither Adora's Dream nor Leader Pick were kept eligible for the Messenger and had to pay a $15,000 supplemental entry fee so they could start. They are not eligible for the Little Brown Jug or the Cane Futurity. The three races comprise pacing's triple crown.

This week is the final week of Grand Circuit racing at Roosevelt, and the final week of the spring meeting at the Westbury track.

Royal Rick Wins

In the feature race last Saturday night at Roosevelt, Royal Rick won the $10,000 Junior Free-For-All Pace in 2:00 4-5. Driven by George Sholty, Royal Rick paid $17.10. Countess Adios, the favorite, was second and Muncy Hanover third.

At Buffalo Raceway, Sumter Prince won the $3,500 featured trot in 2:04 2-5 and paid $7.70.

In other harness racing news: Chrystal Seabee, a 4-year-old gelding, topped the first annual Saratoga Standardbred sale Saturday at Saratoga Springs. Carrol A. Farr of Putnam, Conn., purchased Chrystal Seabee for $5,300.

Shadydale King went to C. H. Jung of Colden for $4,650, the second highest price.

A total of 98 yearlings, broodmares and their foals, and horses-in-training sold for $69,505, an average of $709.

And Roosevelt Raceway increased its horse population by one Saturday night.

The first foal ever born at the raceway was foaled by a 4-year-old trotter named Misty Flight. Owner Jack Barchi said he did not even know Misty Flight was expecting. He named the foal "Roosevelt Surprise."

Ridan Arrives At Pimlico, Set For Preakness

BALTIMORE (AP)—A workout was scheduled at Pimlico today for Ridan, the beaten favorite in the Kentucky Derby who will get another crack at Derby winner Decidedly in Saturday's 86th running of the Preakness.

Mrs. Moody Jolley's 3-year-old colt arrived at the track Sunday after a trip by van from Washington Park in Chicago.

The arrival of Ridan increased to nine the number of probable Preakness starters already stabled at Pimlico. Two others, Jaipur and Vimy Ridge, are expected from New York either today or Tuesday.

Ridan finished third in the Derby after proving difficult to handle for Jockey Manuel Ycaza, who complained that the colt tried to "bear in" with almost every stride.

Ycaza will be aboard again Saturday as he shoots for the winner's share of the $150,000-added purse over the mile and three sixteenths distance.

George B. Widener's Jaipur won the $58,600 Withers mile at Aqueduct Saturday. He covered the distance in 1:35 3-5 over a fast track, just two-fifths of a second over the Withers record.

Like Jaipur, Vimy Ridge did not compete in the Derby. But the English-bred colt broke the American mile record for a turf course in winning the Senatorial Stakes at Laurel.

Decidedly set a record for the mile and a quarter Derby, taking charge late in the race. He'll have less time in the Preakness, which is a sixteenth of a mile shorter.

Roman Line, who finished ahead of Ridan in the Derby, will try again to block Decidedly's bid for the triple crown. Other Derby horses expected to compete are Sunrise County, Crimson Satan, Green Hornet and Prego.

Cornell Is Heavy Favorite In Eastern Sprints This Week

Mighty Cornell, with a solid triumph over previously unbeaten Yale by the boards, ranks as the crew to beat this weekend in the Eastern Sprint Championship regatta on Lake Quinsigamond, outside Worcester, Mass.

Cornell, surprised by Navy in the 2,000 meter Eastern Sprints last year, became the only major unbeaten crew in the East Saturday when it swept from behind and beat sophomore-dominated Yale by a length for the Carnegie Cup.

Penn and MIT also gained prestige with their victories in the Adams Cup at Annapolis and the Cochrane Cup at Cambridge, Mass., respectively.

Cornell, however, remains the one to watch. The Big Red caught Yale at the mile mark over the two-mile downstream course of the Housatonic River at Derby, Conn., and slowly pulled away. Princeton was third and never in contention. Cornell finished in 11:17.2, Yale in 11:25.4.

MIT scored by a length over Dartmouth and three others over 1¾ miles of the rough, choppy Charles River. MIT finished in 8:53.6, Dartmouth two seconds slower. Wisconsin, Brown and Boston University trailed in that order.

At Annapolis, Penn caught Harvard in the last half mile and won the 1¾ mile race by a length in 8:53.2. Harvard clocked 8:53.8 and Navy 9:02.7.

Georgetown University led all the way in winning the Dad Vail Cup over the 1 5-16 mile Henley distance at Philadelphia, finishing in 6:34.6, three lengths ahead of Marietta. Trinity, Conn., was third, St. Joseph's, Pa., fourth, LaSalle fifth and Purdue sixth.

On the Connecticut River at Hanover, N.H., Cornell's powerful lightweight crews swept three races from Dartmouth Saturday.

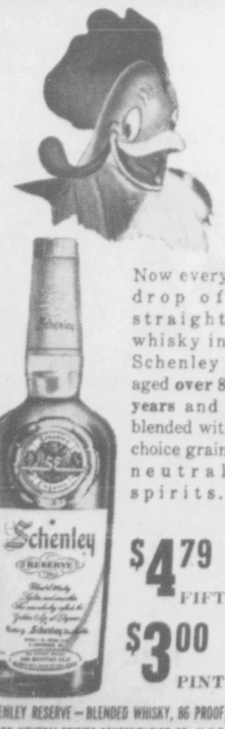

The Big Red's lightweight varsity led from the opening strokes and had pulled away to a four-length margin over the Green at the finish of the mile and 5-16ths races.

Cornell was clocked in 6:21.4 to Dartmouth's 6:38.5.

The Cornell Junior Varsity shell had a boost from a strong tailwind and turned in the best time of the competition — 6:21. Dartmouth trailed by five lengths.

The Big Red freshman shell crossed the line in 6:36, a length and a half ahead of the Dartmouth crew.

Donovan Wins Sixth Contest; Pinson Hits 11th HR For Reds

Cleveland Ace Leads Tribe to Sweep of Yanks

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

A year ago about this time Cleveland right-hander Dick Donovan had a pitching percentage of zero (0-5 for Washington), Cleveland second baseman Jerry Kindall was batting zero (0 for 5 in 7 games for the Chicago Cubs) and the Cleveland team had a zero winning percentage against New York (0-2).

Today, Donovan leads all pitchers in the American League with a 6-0 record, Kindall is batting .277 but .364 in seven games against the Yankees and the Indians have beaten the world champions five of seven.

These statistics more than anything else explain why the Indians are in first place, a half game in front of the Yankees who they whipped in both ends of a Sunday doubleheader 6-4 and 8-5.

With only a little more than a month of the season gone, the Indians, under freshman manager Mel McGaha, already have beaten the Yankees more times than they did all last year under manager Jimmy Dykes. In 1961 when the Indians finished fifth, 30½ games behind the Yankees, they won only 4 of 18 from New York.

Twins Are Third

Minnesota, vying with Cleveland for the No. 1 surprise in the American League, clung to third place, only 1½ games off the pace, crushing Kansas City 10-3. Chicago's fourth-place White Sox outslugged Los Angeles 15-6, Baltimore nipped Washington 3-2 and Detroit edged Boston 6-5.

The Indians pounded Whitey Ford and four more New York pitchers for two dozen hits, including four home runs. Catcher Johnny Romano had a three-run homer in the first inning of the first game contributing largely to Ford's second defeat of the season. Kindall also had a three-run homer. His came in the fourth inning of the second game, off rookie Jim Bouton.

Cleveland added one more run in the fifth and three in the sixth to go ahead 7-5. Rookie outfielder Ty Cline's single tied the score and Chuck Essegian followed with a two-run single off loser Roland Sheldon.

Donovan's sixth straight victory came in the opener by way of a five-hitter. Barry Latman, in relief, was credited with the second game triumph.

Veteran Vic Power and rookies Bernie Allen and Joe Bonikowski teamed up to bring Minnesota its 11th victory in the last 15 starts. Power drove in five runs with a grand slam homer and a single. Allen boosted his average 29 points to .260 with four hits, including two doubles and his fifth home run. The right-handed Bonikowski, in his first major league start, went the distance for his third victory in four decisions.

The White Sox sent 12 men to bat in the eighth inning, scored seven runs and broke a 5-5 tie with the Angels. Mike Hershberger had two singles in the big inning and Floyd Robinson drove in two runs with a fielder's choice.

Dick Brown and Dick McAuliffe got all Detroit hits (4) and drove in all the team's runs (6) in the Tigers' one-run victory over Boston. Brown had two home runs and a single and drove in three runs. McAuliffe also batted in three runs, with a triple after loser Galen Cisco had filled the bases with walks.

A disputed ninth inning home run by Earl Robinson snapped a 2-2 tie and brought victory to Baltimore over Washington. The ball hugged the left field foul line and was ruled fair by third base umpire John Flaherty over the objections of the Washington team.

Yesterday's Stars

Batting—Frank Bolling, Braves—hit a two-run homer in the eighth inning to bring the Braves from behind and give them a 3-2 victory over the New York Mets.

Pitching—Dick Donovan, Indians—pitched a first game five-hitter for his sixth victory as the Indians defeated the Yankees in both ends of a doubleheader 6-4 and 8-5.

NL Champions Top Bucs, 6-4; Giants on Top

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

"Anything Willie Mays can do, Vada Pinson can do as well."

That's Cincinnati Manager Fred Hutchinson on the subject of two dazzling National League center fielders, his own Pinson and wondrous Willie of the San Francisco Giants.

Vada had another productive afternoon Sunday with his 11th homer and a triple as the Reds won their fourth in a row, beating Pittsburgh's faltering Pirates 6-4. Cincinnati's unbeaten Bob Purkey became a six-game winner with able relief help

Meanwhile, even with Mays continuing his slump with an 0-for-5 performance, the Giants had little trouble romping over Houston 7-2 and holding onto their four-game lead.

Elsewhere in the NL, Los Angeles leap-frogged over St. Louis into second place, edging the Cardinals 4-3; Chicago eased out of the cellar in a doubleheader sweep over Philadelphia, 8-7 and 8-5 with reliever Barney Schultz winning both games; and Milwaukee dumped New York into last, trimming the Mets 3-2.

Pinson took over the major league leadership in home runs when he socked No. 11 against loser Bob Friend (4-3) in the first inning. Then, after a three-run homer by Jim Marshall helped pushed the Pirates in front 4-1 in the third, Vada tripled in one run in the bottom of the inning and rode in on Frank Robinson's homer.

Cincinnati regained the lead in the sixth when Leo Cardenas singled in Gordie Coleman and added annother run in the eight on two errors by Dick Groat, a sacrifice and a pinch single by Joe Gaines.

Orlando Cepeda, Jim Davenport and Jose Pagan gave right-hander Jack Sanford his prime support in the Giants' runaway over Houston. Cepeda and Davenport rapped three hits each, while Pagan homered in the decisive four-run sixth inning and also had a singl. Sanford (4-2) went the distance, allowing six hits, and was one out away from shutting out the Colts when Roman Mejias' double and Norm Larker's single chased in the Houston runs.

The loss went to winless Ken Johnson, now 0-5.

The Doders regained second by cashing in all four of their runs in the eighth, aided by Ken Boyer's throwing error. Held hitless by Larry Jackson (3-4) for five innings and behind 2-0 after seven, the Dodgers drew even on Larry Burright's double, a walk, and Boyer's bad throw on a sacrifice attempt.

Tommy Davis singled across the go-ahead run and John Roseboro's fly brought in the clincher. The Cards kicked up for one run in the ninth, when the Dodgers used three pitchers to stem the rally. Los Angeles starter Johnny Podres (3-2) was the winner.

Schultz (3-1), a workhorse who's now pitched in eight straight Cub games, went a total of 4 1-3 innins for his twin victories. The Cubs amassed 23 hits all told, 13 of them extra basers, including two homers by George Altman, and one each by Ernie Banks, Billy Williams, Lou Brock and Ken Hubbs. The Phils weren't far behind with 22 hits, getting homers from Billy Klaus, Ted Savage and Tony Taylor. Jack Baldschun (1-3) and Chris Short (1-2) were the losing pitchers in the see-saw doubleheader.

Frank Bolling's two-run homer in the eighth powered the Braves over the Mets as Cecil Butler (2-0) threw a six-hitter in his first big league start. Roy McMillan also homered against Jay Hook (2-2).

Hawks Nip Wrens, 1-0; Jays Score Over Crows

Relief hurler Bruce Gilligan escaped from a bases loaded situation in the ninth inning and preserved a 1-0 triumph for the Hawks over the Wrens as the Jaycee Little League opened yesterday.

In the other half of the twinbill, the Jays beat the Crows, 7-3.

Scott Findholt of the Hawks and Jerry Corrado of the Wrens hooked up in a scoreless duel for six frames. Since Little League rules stipulate they couldn't pitch any farther than that inning, relief chuckers were summoned. Gilligan was the third pitcher for the winners.

The winning run crossed the plate on a passed ball.

Andy Murphy cracked a home run in the first inning and then hurled the Jays to the verdict over the Crows. A. J. also had a pair of doubles for the winners. He pitched almost as well as he hit, allowing only one safety while walking seven and striking out 11 batters.

Starter Dave Roberts absorbed the loss and he was relieved by nine-year-old Tom Kuriger, who did a good job in his first league game.

A highlight of the opening ceremonies was the throwing out of the first ball by Andrew J. Murphy, III, father of the winning chucker for the Jays. The elder Murphy wasn't as sharp as his son. The toss sailed over the head of everyone.

Sickler's Takes First In Falls Pin Tourney

Sickler's Delivery Service of Kingston rolled into first place in the gross division of the Holiday Recreation tournament in Wappingers Falls with a 3396 series on Sunday. It was a record for the tourney, which has two weeks to run. Previous high was 3271, rolled by the Sportsmen Special of Poughkeepsie. The record of 3290 was set by last year's winning club.

John DeCicco, on a strike spree, led the Deliverymen with a nifty 624 triple, stroking 194, 224 and 203. Cliff Miller swatted 191, 198 and 202 for 591, John Dunn had 541, Len Sickler Jr. 511 and Don Sickler Jr. 496.

Sickler's had net games of 947, 998 and 918 for 2763 and their 633 handicap gave them the 3396 total. If the lead stands up, the local hotshots will receive $750.

The scores:

Local Keglers Star in Tourney

John Spada and Pat Pietramala of Kingston shot a 1373 gross in the first annual New York State Bowling Proprietors tournament over the weekend in Albany, the highest score recorded. Their 504 game is high to date in the tournament.

Pietramala is the all-events leader with a gross total of 2061. Spada is fourth in gross singles with 673.

In doubles, Pietramala rapped 618 and Spada 524. With a handicap of 231, their total is 1373. In singles, Pietramala had 539-126 for 665 and Spada shot 514-105 for 619.

Minoso Is Improved In St. Louis Hospital

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Minnie Minoso suffered a fractured right wrist as well as a fractured skull in his headlong dash into a concrete wall Friday night, X rays disclosed Sunday.

The 39-year-old St. Louis Cardinal outfielder was much improved Sunday night. But physicians said it would be four weeks at least before he could put on a uniform and two more weeks of conditioning before he could play.

Dr. Stan London said there was no pressure on Minoso's brain but the fracture was near a blood vessel which could exert pressure and require surgery.

Minoso had a lifetime batting mark of .304 in the American League with Chicago and Cleveland and averaged 18 homers a season.

Donovan Wins Sixth Contest; Pinson Hits 11th HR For Reds

Cleveland Ace Leads Tribe to Sweep of Yanks

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

A year ago about this time Cleveland right-hander Dick Donovan had a pitching percentage of zero (0-5 for Washington), Cleveland second baseman Jerry Kindall was batting zero (0 for 5 in 7 games for the Chicago Cubs) and the Cleveland team had a zero winning percentage against New York (0-2).

Today, Donovan leads all pitchers in the American League with a 6-0 record, Kindall is batting .277 but .364 in seven games against the Yankees and the Indians have beaten the world champions five of seven.

These statistics more than anything else explain why the Indians are in first place, a half game in front of the Yankees who they whipped in both ends of a Sunday doubleheader 6-4 and 8-5.

With only a little more than a month of the season gone, the Indians, under freshman manager Mel McGaha, already have beaten the Yankees more times than they did all last year under manager Jimmy Dykes. In 1961 when the Indians finished fifth, 30½ games behind the Yankees, they won only 4 of 18 from New York.

Twins Are Third

Minnesota, vying with Cleveland for the No. 1 surprise in the American League, clung to third place, only 1½ games off the pace, crushing Kansas City 10-3. Chicago's fourth-place White Sox outslugged Los Angeles 15-6, Baltimore nipped Washington 3-2 and Detroit edged Boston 6-5.

The Indians pounded Whitey Ford and four more New York pitchers for two dozen hits, including four home runs. Catcher Johnny Romano had a three-run homer in the first inning of the first game contributing largely to Ford's second defeat of the season. Kindall also had a three-run homer. His came in the fourth inning of the second game, off rookie Jim Bouton.

Cleveland added one more run in the fifth and three in the sixth to go ahead 7-5. Rookie outfielder Ty Cline's single tied the score and Chuck Essegian followed with a two-run single off loser Roland Sheldon.

Donovan's sixth straight victory came in the opener by way of a five-hitter. Barry Latman, in relief, was credited with the second game triumph.

Veteran Vic Power and rookies Bernie Allen and Joe Bonikowski teamed up to bring Minnesota its 11th victory in the last 15 starts. Power drove in five runs with a grand slam homer and a single. Allen boosted his average 29 points to .260 with four hits, including two doubles and his fifth home run. The right-handed Bonikowski, in his first major league start, went the distance for his third victory in four decisions.

The White Sox sent 12 men to bat in the eighth inning, scored seven runs and broke a 5-5 tie with the Angels. Mike Hershberger had two singles in the big inning and Floyd Robinson drove in two runs with a fielder's choice.

Dick Brown and Dick McAuliffe got all Detroit hits (4) and drove in all the team's runs (6) in the Tigers' one-run victory over Boston. Brown had two home runs and a single and drove in three runs. McAuliffe also batted in three runs, with a triple after loser Galen Cisco had filled the bases with walks.

A disputed ninth inning home run by Earl Robinson snapped a 2-2 tie and brought victory to Baltimore over Washington. The ball hugged the left field foul line and was ruled fair by third base umpire John Flaherty over the objections of the Washington team.

Yesterday's Stars

Batting—Frank Bolling, Braves—hit a two-run homer in the eighth inning to bring the Braves from behind and give them a 3-2 victory over the New York Mets.

Pitching—Dick Donovan, Indians—pitched a first game five-hitter for his sixth victory as the Indians defeated the Yankees in both ends of a doubleheader 6-4 and 8-5.

NL Champions Top Bucs, 6-4; Giants on Top

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

"Anything Willie Mays can do, Vada Pinson can do as well."

That's Cincinnati Manager Fred Hutchinson on the subject of two dazzling National League center fielders, his own Pinson and wondrous Willie of the San Francisco Giants.

Vada had another productive afternoon Sunday with his 11th homer and a triple as the Reds won their fourth in a row, beating Pittsburgh's faltering Pirates 6-4. Cincinnati's unbeaten Bob Purkey became a six-game winner with able relief help

Meanwhile, even with Mays continuing his slump with an 0-for-5 performance, the Giants had little trouble romping over Houston 7-2 and holding onto their four-game lead.

Elsewhere in the NL, Los Angeles leap-frogged over St. Louis into second place, edging the Cardinals 4-3; Chicago eased out of the cellar in a doubleheader sweep over Philadelphia, 8-7 and 8-5 with reliever Barney Schultz winning both games; and Milwaukee dumped New York into last, trimming the Mets 3-2.

Pinson took over the major league leadership in home runs when he socked No. 11 against loser Bob Friend (4-3) in the first inning. Then, after a three-run homer by Jim Marshall helped pushed the Pirates in front 4-1 in the third, Vada tripled in one run in the bottom of the inning and rode in on Frank Robinson's homer.

Cincinnati regained the lead in the sixth when Leo Cardenas singled in Gordie Coleman and added annother run in the eight on two errors by Dick Groat, a sacrifice and a pinch single by Joe Gaines.

Orlando Cepeda, Jim Davenport and Jose Pagan gave right-hander Jack Sanford his prime support in the Giants' runaway over Houston. Cepeda and Davenport rapped three hits each, while Pagan homered in the decisive four-run sixth inning and also had a singl. Sanford (4-2) went the distance, allowing six hits, and was one out away from shutting out the Colts when Roman Mejias' double and Norm Larker's single chased in the Houston runs.

The loss went to winless Ken Johnson, now 0-5.

The Doders regained second by cashing in all four of their runs in the eighth, aided by Ken Boyer's throwing error. Held hitless by Larry Jackson (3-4) for five innings and behind 2-0 after seven, the Dodgers drew even on Larry Burright's double, a walk, and Boyer's bad throw on a sacrifice attempt.

Tommy Davis singled across the go-ahead run and John Roseboro's fly brought in the clincher. The Cards kicked up for one run in the ninth, when the Dodgers used three pitchers to stem the rally. Los Angeles starter Johnny Podres (3-2) was the winner.

Schultz (3-1), a workhorse who's now pitched in eight straight Cub games, went a total of 41-3 innins for his twin victories. The Cubs amassed 23 hits all told, 13 of them extra basers, including two homers by George Altman, and one each by Ernie Banks, Billy Williams, Lou Brock and Ken Hubbs. The Phils weren't far behind with 22 hits, getting homers from Billy Klaus, Ted Savage and Tony Taylor. Jack Baldschun (1-3) and Chris Short (1-2) were the losing pitchers in the see-saw doubleheader.

Frank Bolling's two-run homer in the eighth powered the Braves over the Mets as Cecil Butler (2-0) threw a six-hitter in his first big league start. Roy McMillan also homered against Jay Hook (2-2).

Hawks Nip Wrens, 1-0; Jays Score Over Crows

Relief hurler Bruce Gilligan escaped from a bases loaded situation in the ninth inning and preserved a 1-0 triumph for the Hawks over the Wrens as the Jaycee Little League opened yesterday.

In the other half of the twinbill, the Jays beat the Crows, 7-3.

Scott Findholt of the Hawks and Jerry Corrado of the Wrens hooked up in a scoreless duel for six frames. Since Little League rules stipulate they couldn't pitch any farther than that inning, relief chuckers were summoned. Gilligan was the third pitcher for the winners.

The winning run crossed the plate on a passed ball.

Andy Murphy cracked a home run in the first inning and then hurled the Jays to the verdict over the Crows. A. J. also had a pair of doubles for the winners. He pitched almost as well as he hit, allowing only one safety while walking seven and striking out 11 batters.

Starter Dave Roberts absorbed the loss and he was relieved by nine-year-old Tom Kuriger, who did a good job in his first league game.

A highlight of the opening ceremonies was the throwing out of the first ball by Andrew J. Murphy, III, father of the winning chucker for the Jays. The elder Murphy wasn't as sharp as his son. The toss sailed over the head of everyone.

Perry Slams to Lead 16-5 Win For ALL Dodgers

Jeff Perry slammed a bases loaded home run and a pair of doubles while driving home eight runners to lead the Dodgers to a 16-5 American Little League verdict over the Indians yesterday.

Rich Sande went the distance for the winners, spacing seven hits. Lary Scanlon was the loser.

The winners scored in every inning but the fifth.

Local Keglers Star in Tourney

John Spada and Pat Pietramala of Kingston shot a 1373 gross in the first annual New York State Bowling Proprietors tournament over the weekend in Albany, the highest score recorded. Their 504 game is high to date in the tournament.

Pietramala is the all-events leader with a gross total of 2061. Spada is fourth in gross singles with 673.

In doubles, Pietramala rapped 618 and Spada 524. With a handicap of 231, their total is 1373. In singles, Pietramala had 539-126 for 665 and Spada shot 514-105 for 619.

Sickler's Takes First In Falls Pin Tourney

Sickler's Delivery Service of Kingston rolled into first place in the gross division of the Holiday Recreation tournament in Wappingers Falls with a 3396 series on Sunday. It was a record for the tourney, which has two weeks to run. Previous high was 3271, rolled by the Sportsmen Special of Poughkeepsie. The record of 3290 was set by last year's winning club.

John DeCicco, on a strike spree, led the Deliverymen with a nifty 624 triple, stroking 194, 224 and 203. Cliff Miller swatted 191, 198 and 202 for 591, John Dunn had 541, Len Sickler Jr. 511 and Don Sickler Jr. 496.

Sickler's had net games of 947, 998 and 918 for 2763 and their 633 handicap gave them the 3396 total. If the lead stands up, the local hotshots will receive $750.

The scores:

Cliff Miller	191	198	202	591
John DeCicco	197	224	203	624
Len Sickler Jr.	126	208	177	511

Minoso Is Improved In St. Louis Hospital

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Minnie Minoso suffered a fractured right wrist as well as a fractured skull in his headlong dash into a concrete wall Friday night, X rays disclosed Sunday.

The 39-year-old St. Louis Cardinal outfielder was much improved Sunday night. But physicians said it would be four weeks at least before he could put on a uniform and two more weeks of conditioning before he could play.

Dr. Stan London said there was no pressure on Minoso's brain but the fracture was near a blood vessel which could exert pressure and require surgery.

Minoso had a lifetime batting mark of .304 in the American League with Chicago and Cleveland and averaged 18 homers a season.

Jay LeFevre Gets Hole-In-One at Twaalfskill Club

Jay LeFevre recorded the first hole-in-one at Twaalfskill this year when he aced the 122 yard, par three second hole yesterday.

He was playing with Floyd Flint and Herman Glanz.

LeFevre used a six iron in scoring his ace.

Defrosters Capture Home Engineer Title

Defrosters captured the championship in the Home Engineers League, winning 59½ and losing only 36½. Second place Buffers were four games off the pace.

Irene Maurer averaged 155.75 to nip Peg Weber for individual high. The runnerup averaged 155.65. Carol Whalen had a 228 single and Weber and Maurer stroked 553 triples.

EMPLOYMENT

NOTICE TO JOB APPLICANTS
The Kingston Daily Freeman does not knowingly accept help wanted advertisements from employers covered by the Federal Wage-Hour Law if they offer less than legal minimum wages. Beginning September 3, 1961, employees engaged in interstate or foreign commerce or in the production of goods for such commerce must be paid not less than $1.15 an hour and at least time and one-half for hours worked after 40 in a workweek, unless specifically exempt. Employees of certain large retail, service, construction, and other enterprises must be paid not less than $1.00 an hour after September 3, 1961, but no overtime for such employment is required until September 3, 1963. If you are offered less by covered employers, or if you have questions concerning this law or other activities of the U. S. Department of Labor, call or write the Department's local office at Bronx: Abraham Klainpard, Investigation Supr., 881 Gerard Ave., Bronx, N. Y. WYandotte 2-1235.

EMPLOYMENT

NOTICE TO JOB APPLICANTS
The Kingston Daily Freeman does not knowingly accept help wanted advertisements from employers covered by the Federal Wage-Hour Law if they offer less than legal minimum wages. Beginning September 3, 1961, employees engaged in interstate or foreign commerce or in the production of goods for such commerce must be paid not less than $1.15 an hour and at least time and one-half for hours worked after 40 in a workweek, unless specifically exempt. Employees of certain large retail, service, construction, and other enterprises must be paid not less than $1.00 an hour after September 3, 1961, but no overtime for such employment is required until September 3, 1963. If you are offered less by covered employers, or if you have questions concerning this law or other activities of the U. S. Department of Labor, call or write the Department's local office at Bronx: Abraham Klainoard, Investigation Supr., 881 Gerard Ave., Bronx, N. Y. WYandotte 2-1235.

A Bit of Advice
Don't Wait
If you want a large modern home don't hesitate or someone will beat you to it. If you want 4 bedrms. and a family room or 3 bedrms. with 2 full baths, action is needed. If you want a ½ acre park like setting, among several trees with healthy lawn, 140' frontage and a choice suburban location only 3 miles from Kingston you'd better call us immediately. Price reduced to $18,900, makes this the "Buy Among Buys" and many extras are included for good measure.

STATE OF NEW YORK COUNTY COURT : COUNTY OF ULSTER.

RONDOUT SAVINGS BANK, Plaintiff
— against —
MATTHEW V. CAHILL and CORINNE D. CAHILL, Defendants.

In pursuance of a Judgment of Foreclosure and Sale, entered in the above entitled action and bearing date the 4th day of April, 1962, I, the undersigned, the Referee in said Judgment named, will sell at public auction, at the front door of the Ulster County Court House, in the City of Kingston, New York on the 23rd day of May 1962, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, the premises described by said Judgment to be sold and therein described as follows:

ALL THAT CERTAIN LOT, PIECE OR PARCEL OF LAND, situate, lying and being in the City of Kingston, in the County of Ulster and State of New York, known and designated as Lot No. 4 on the partition map of land of the heirs of A. R. Post, deceased, of partition made April, 1864, and which said lot of land is bounded and described on said map as follows:—Beginning at a point on the Albany Road, at the corner of Lot No. Five, and running along the bounds thereof South forty-five degrees East seven chains and fifty links to lands of P. Hudler; thence along the lands of P. Hudler North four degrees East one chain and forty links; thence North forty-five degrees West six chains and fifty links to the Albany Road; thence along said Albany Road South forty-five degrees West one chain and eleven links to the point or place of beginning. Containing 77/100 acres of land. Being the same premises as conveyed to the parties of the first part hereto by Cora Roach by indenture of deed dated December 31, 1941, acknowledged the same date, and recorded in the Office of the Clerk of Ulster County June 30, 1943 in Liber 634 of Deeds, at page 101.

Excepting from and out of the above-described premises all that part or portion thereof as conveyed by the parties of the first part hereto to Ida Monashefsky by indenture of deed dated March 17, 1947, acknowledged the same date, and recorded the same date in said Clerk's Office in Liber 677 of Deeds at page 327, to which said deed and the record thereof reference is hereby made for a more particular description of the premises hereby excepted.

Dated: April 6, 1962.

Opinions on PPR Sought by League Of Women Voters

Supervisors throughout the county are being interviewed during the next few weeks by the Leagues of Women Voters of Kingston, Woodstock, and New Paltz in order to get their opinions on Permanent Personal Registration (PPR) for Ulster County.

There will be an interchange of views in which the League of Women Voters will also acquaint the supervisors with the League's position on PPR arrived at after intensive study of registration systems dating back as far as 1924.

The ultimate aim of the interviewing is to have the Board of Supervisors sponsor a study group, which may or may not include interested members of the community, to determine the needs of our community so that the most economical set-up could be adapted for the entire county.

PPR is being used by over 75% of the voters in New York State. It offers greater convenience than annual registration (Kingston) and greater safeguard against fraud than both annual registration and non-personal registration (uncorporated areas or incorporated areas of less than 5000 population).

Under PPR the voter registers once, has a physical description taken, and is registered as long as he remains at the same address and votes once in two successive general elections.

Following is a list of Supervisors by wards and their interviewers: 1st Ward — James A. Rapp, 2nd Ward — Benjamin A. Storms — Mrs. Ellsworth Johnson, Mrs. Harvey Marcus, 3rd Ward — Francis Vertetis, 4th Ward, Joseph J. Turck — Mrs. Morton Kamen, Mrs. Saul Schecter.

5th Ward — John J. Lucci, 6th Ward — Peter F. Simpson — Mrs. John Hofler, Mrs. David Gerbarg.

8th Ward — Richard Hinkley, 9th Ward — James T. McCardle — Mrs. Robert Yallum, Mrs. Paul Mezer.

10th Ward — James J. Carroll, 11th Ward — Robert F. Phinney — Mrs. John Johnson, Mrs. Lewis Neporent.

7th Ward — Michael Ward, 12th Ward — Clarence C. Raichle. 13th Ward — John Glennon — Mrs. Charles Forst, Mrs. Jeremiah Sachs.

Escapes Injury As Car Runs off Road Near Saxton

Hervey Barber, 30 of Hensonville, Greene County reportedly escaped injury early Sunday when his car went off Route 32 near Saxton, struck a mail box and several guard rails, coming to rest in the front yard of property owned by Winifred Conners, state police and Saugerties Town special police said today.

According to police reports Barber was proceeding west on Route 32 a short distance from the Fawn Road when he was blinded by oncoming headlights, went off the side of the highway, struck a mail box on the property of Michael Mattera, cut back across the highway twice, each time hitting guard rails and coming to rest in the front lawn of Winifred Conners. The mishap occurred at 2:55 a. m.

Investigating were Special Town Police Charles Riley and John Pavlak and Kingston Troopers David Wachtel and Carl Robke.

No Place Like Home

MOSCOW (AP) — Spaceman Gherman Titov told the Soviet people today after his return from the United States that there's no place like home.

Titov wrote in Pravda, the Soviet Communist party newspaper: "I returned home, heaved in a breathful of clear spring air, and told the comrades welcoming me, despite all the comforts of America, there is no land on earth better than our dear, wonderful Soviet homeland!"

Titov said he would never forget "the friendly smiles and hearty handshakes of the ordinary Americans, who are well disposed to our country."

RONDOUT SAVINGS BANK,
Plaintiff
— against —
MATTHEW V. CAHILL and CORINNE D. CAHILL,
Defendants.

In pursuance of a Judgment of Foreclosure and Sale, entered in the above entitled action and bearing date the 4th day of April, 1962, I, the undersigned, the Referee in said Judgment named, will sell at public auction, at the front door of the Ulster County Court House, in the City of Kingston, New York on the 23rd day of May 1962, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, the premises described by said Judgment to be sold and therein described as follows:

ALL THAT CERTAIN LOT, PIECE OR PARCEL OF LAND, situate, lying and being in the City of Kingston, in the County of Ulster and State of New York, known and designated as Lot No. 4 on the partition map of land of the heirs of A. R. Post, deceased, of partition made April, 1864, and which said lot of land is bounded and described on said map as follows:—Beginning at a point on the Albany Road, at the corner of Lot No. Five, and running along the bounds thereof South forty-five degrees East seven chains and fifty links to lands of P. Hudler; thence along the lands of P. Hudler North four degrees East one chain and forty links; thence North forty-five degrees West six chains and fifty links to the Albany Road; thence along said Albany Road South forty-five degrees West one chain and eleven links to the point or place of beginning. Containing 77/100 acres of land. Being the same premises as conveyed to the parties of the first part hereto by Cora Roach by indenture of deed dated December 31, 1941, acknowledged the same date, and recorded in the Office of the Clerk of Ulster County June 30, 1943 in Liber 634 of Deeds, at page 101.

Excepting from and out of the above-described premises all that part or portion thereof as conveyed by the parties of the first part hereto to Ida Monashefsky by indenture of deed dated March 17, 1947, acknowledged the same date, and recorded the same date in said Clerk's Office in Liber 67⅞ of Deeds at page 327, to which said deed and the record thereof reference is hereby made for a more particular description of the premises hereby excepted.

Dated: April 6, 1962.

Opinions on PPR Sought by League Of Women Voters

Supervisors throughout the county are being interviewed during the next few weeks by the Leagues of Women Voters of Kingston, Woodstock, and New Paltz in order to get their opinions on Permanent Personal Registration (PPR) for Ulster County.

There will be an interchange of views in which the League of Women Voters will also acquaint the supervisors with the League's position on PPR arrived at after intensive study of registration systems dating back as far as 1924.

The ultimate aim of the interviewing is to have the Board of Supervisors sponsor a study group, which may or may not include interested members of the community, to determine the needs of our community so that the most economical set-up could be adapted for the entire county.

PPR is being used by over 75% of the voters in New York State. It offers greater convenience than annual registration (Kingston) and greater safeguard against fraud than both annual registration and non-personal registration (uncorporated areas or incorporated areas of less than 5000 population).

Under PPR the voter registers once, has a physical description taken, and is registered as long as he remains at the same address and votes once in two successive general elections.

Following is a list of Supervisors by wards and their interviewers: 1st Ward — James A. Rapp, 2nd Ward — Benjamin A. Storms — Mrs. Ellsworth Johnson, Mrs. Harvey Marcus, 3rd Ward — Francis Vertetis, 4th Ward, Joseph J. Turck — Mrs. Morton Kamen, Mrs. Saul Schecter.

5th Ward — John J. Lucci, 6th Ward — Peter F. Simpson — Mrs. John Hofler, Mrs. David Gerbarg.

8th Ward — Richard Hinkley, 9th Ward — James T. McCardle — Mrs. Robert Yallum, Mrs. Paul Mezer.

10th Ward — James J. Carroll, 11th Ward — Robert F. Phinney — Mrs. John Johnson, Mrs. Lewis Neporent.

7th Ward — Michael Ward, 12th Ward — Clarence C. Raichle, 13th Ward — John Glennon — Mrs. Charles Forst, Mrs. Jeremiah Sachs.

Escapes Injury As Car Runs off Road Near Saxton

Hervey Barber, 30 of Hensonville, Greene County reportedly escaped injury early Sunday when his car went off Route 32 near Saxton, struck a mail box and several guard rails, coming to rest in the front yard of property owned by Winifred Conners, state police and Saugerties Town special police said today.

According to police reports Barber was proceeding west on Route 32 a short distance from the Fawn Road when he was blinded by oncoming headlights, went off the side of the highway, struck a mail box on the property of Michael Mattera, cut back across the highway twice, each time hitting guard rails and coming to rest in the front lawn of Winifred Conners. The mishap occurred at 2:55 a. m.

Investigating were Special Town Police Charles Riley and John Pavlak and Kingston Troopers David Wachtel and Carl Robke.

No Place Like Home

MOSCOW (AP) — Spaceman Gherman Titov told the Soviet people today after his return from the United States that there's no place like home.

Titov wrote in Pravda, the Soviet Communist party newspaper: "I returned home, heaved in a breathful of clear spring air, and told the comrades welcoming me, despite all the comforts of America, there is no land on earth better than our dear, wonderful Soviet homeland!"

Titov said he would never forget "the friendly smiles and hearty handshakes of the ordinary Americans, who are well disposed to our country."

Personal Income Gain Reported Of 1.9 Million

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Personal income in New York State rose to $46.9 billion in 1960—a gain of $1.9 billion over 1959, the State Commerce Department reported today.

Per capita income in 1960 was $2,813, up $80. State totals hit new highs for the 22nd successive year.

The state had 12 per cent of the personal income for the nation as a whole. California was second with $43.4 billion.

The department's figures are based on reports of the U.S.. Commerce Department.

There was no indication of trends since the end of 1960.

Of the total of $46.9 billion income in 1960, $33.4 billion or more than 70 per cent, was in the New York City metropolitan area, comprising the city and Nassau, Suffolk, Westchester and Rockland counties.

Per capita income in that area was $3,141, compared with $2,237 for the rest of the state.

Westchester County had the highest per capita income, $3,648.

Wages and salaries accounted for $32 billion of the 1960 income, compared with $30.7 billion in 1959.

Other income was from property, including farms, business and professional sources.

Government spending in the form of wages to its employes and various benefits totaled $7.5 billion in 1960.

Grand Chef de Gare Edgar M. Maurer of the 40 & 8 Society of New York State and Mrs. Maurer attended a testimonial dinner dance for Grand Chef de Gare Passe John C. Beckmerwert and the newly elected Chef de Chemin de Fer, Hal Stauffer of Colorado Springs, Colo. The event was held at the Robert Treat Hotel, Newark, N. J. Saturday evening. Maurer was an honored guest as were many other state and national officers.

Aim of Securities Commission:

A Hard-Hitting Public Probe, Minus Hard Blows

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Securities and Exchange Commission is trying to find a formula for conducting a hard-hitting public investigation without hitting hard. The results so far have been very spotty.

The initial experiment was conducted last week and involved five days of hearings on the hiring, training, fitness, supervision and sales practices of securities salesmen. The inquiry will resume Wednesday.

At the direction of Congress, the SEC is studying the entire securities industry to determine whether new laws, regulations or procedures are needed to protect the investing public.

In these first hearings, investigators want to compile a public record to support tighter controls over those who sell stocks, mutual fund shares and other securities. Yet Milton H. Cohen, director of the inquiry and presiding officer at the hearings, seemed at the outset to deprecate the significance of the testimony taken. He said:

"In requesting particular individuals or firms to present testimony, the special study does not mean to suggest, even remotely, that anyone of them is a model of good or bad performance as compared with others in the industry. Furthermore, in inquiring about particular practices or occurrences, we do not mean to suggest that these are necessarily typical of the particular firm's performance in other respects, or of the industry's performance."

In other words, if anyone wants to draw any conclusions from the evidence presented, he is on his own and gets no encouragement from the investigators.

SEC lawyers repeatedly passed up opportunities to emphasize important revelations and some points were lost entirely. Also, it was apparent more than once that punches were being pulled.

A good example was the questioning on Friday of top officials of Bache & Co., one of the five largest stock brokerage chains in the country.

Bache officials, apparently unaware of evidence gathered by the SEC, denied allegations of irregularities in their Seattle office. Harold L. Bache, senior partner, said the charges came from a "very disturbed" former employe.

The investigators then produced evidence to support some of the allegations, but in such rapid fire and fuzzy fashion that their case was quite confusing. The Bache officials backtracked a bit but much of their testimony remained in direct conflict with sworn statements produced by the SEC.

Commission attorneys did not press their tactical advantage nor point up the conflicts.

LAWRENCE S. WILLIAMS

Going to Florida In IBM Capacity

The appointment of Lawrence S. Williams of Kingston as placement counselor, personnel services, IBM Federal Systems Division Command Control Systems Center at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., has been announced by Manager Ralph G. Mork.

A graduate of Kingston High School, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Vogt of Lawrenceville Street.

Williams joined IBM in the summer of 1959 as a student engineer in product engineering and also worked during the summer of 1960 as a student engineer in circuit design. After graduating from college, he joined IBM in June, 1961 as a junior engineer in displays. In October, 1961 he joined the engineering personnel department and has held several positions in that area until his present appointment.

Williams is a member of Pi Kappa Alpha social fraternity and Eta Kappa Nu, Pi Mu Epsilon and Tau Beta Pi honorary societies. He received a bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering from Duke University.

Water Rent Deadline

Tuesday is the deadline date for payment of water rents in eight wards of the city, it was announced today. The wards are three through nine and the 13th. The water department office is open until 6 p. m. this date. Regular hours, 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. are in effect Tuesday.

Germantown Man Faces Prison if Caught in Italy

GENOA, Italy (AP)—Three U. S. Marines, including one from New York State, face prison terms of four years each if they ever return to Italy.

An Italian court convicted the three in absentia on charges of beating and robbing Ermanna Croese of Genoa in 1960. She was found unconscious in a dark waterfront alley. Her jaw had been broken, four teeth knocked out and she suffered a concussion.

Later, she told police three Americans had beaten her and taken her purse containing 30,000 lire ($48). Court records identified the Americans as Lester Bowen, 19, Chester, W. Va.; Towald Carter, 19, Germantown, N.Y., and Robert Wieszchowsky, 22, no fixed residence.

Italian police filed charges against the three on April 25, 1960 and sought help of U.S. Military Police from four U.S. Navy supply ships in the harbor.

Bowen then was serving on the Suffolk, Carter on the Pokono and Wieszchowsky on the Marcos. All three were left at liberty after the woman's damage claims were settled privately.

Police pressed the charges, however, and the trial was held here last Tuesday. The three marines face arrest and imprisonment if they return to Italy.

Italian authorities have not asked the United States for their extradition.

Fire Threatened 21-Room House At West Park

A 21-room house on the Hilda Smith property at West Park was threatened Sunday afternoon when flames from burning leaves communicated to the house. At 1:12 p. m. Mutual Aid was notified and Highland and Port Ewen Departments were alerted.

Firemen from the Esopus department under Chief Oscar Lambert brought the fire under control without much fire damage, although there was some water damage in the cellar and smoke damage through the house.

High winds drove burning leaves under a porch and the fire communicated through the siding into the cellar.

Highland firemen stood by at the Esopus firehouse and Port Ewen firemen stood by at their station.

Highland and Rifton tankers responded to the fire.

The premises are located on Route 9W near the Broglio Restaurant.

Fire Control Center on Golden Hill reported several calls for grass and brush fires over the week-end, including Marlboro, Tillson, Centerville, and Glasco.

Nurses' Meeting

District No. 11 of the New York State Nurses Association will hold a special meeting Tuesday at 8 p. m., in the Auditorium of the Nurses Home at Benedictine Hospital. The purpose of the meeting is to hear convention reports from the American Nurses Association convention.
